Rillington Place:

The Peepshow Kate Summerscale, 2025-05-06 Named a Best Book of 2024 by FT Nominated for the Women's prize for nonfiction From the Edgar Award winning author of The Haunting of Alma Fielding the tale of two journalists competing to solve the notorious Christie murders in postwar London In March 1953 London police discovered the bodies of three young women hidden in a wall at 10 Rillington Place a dingy rowhouse in Notting Hill On searching the building they found another body beneath the floorboards then an array of human bones in the garden They launched a nationwide manhunt for the tenant of the ground floor apartment a softly spoken former policeman named Reg Christie But they had already investigated a double murder at 10 Rillington Place three years before and the killer was hanged Did they get the wrong man The story was an instant sensation The star reporter Harry Procter chased after the scoop on Christie The eminent crime writer Fryn Tennyson Jesse begged her editor to let her cover the case To Harry and Fryn Christie seemed a new kind of murderer he was vacant impersonal a creature of a brutish postwar world Christie liked to watch women they discovered and he liked to kill them They realized that he might also have engineered a terrible miscarriage of justice In this riveting true story Kate Summerscale mines the archives to uncover the lives of Christie's victims the tabloid frenzy that their deaths inspired and the truth about what happened inside the house What she finds sheds fascinating light on the origins of our fixation with true crime and suggests a new solution to one of the most notorious cases of the century Streets of Sin Fiona Rule, 2015-08-03 Notting Hill was not always an upmarket residential enclave and celebrity hotspot Streets of Sin delves into the district's murky past and relates the deplorable scandals and shocking crimes that blighted the area from its development until the late twentieth century Best selling London historian Fiona Rule sheds new light on notorious events that took place amid the leafy streets including the horrifying murders at Rillington Place the nefarious career of slum landlord Peter Rachman the Profumo affair and Britain's first race riots She reveals what life was like in Notting Hill during its dark years when murder extortion and disorder were everyday occurrences and explores the price its residents have had to pay to climb up out of the ghetto Frenzy! Neil Root, 2012-08-31 Murder has transfixed the popular press for centuries But it was only in the second half of the twentieth century that murder began saturating front pages and making these monsters what we today recognise as modern celebrities It was three serial killers caught and executed in the few years after the end of the Second World War who precipitated a level of public furore never seen before Neville Heath a charming sadist who killed two women John George Haigh the Acid Bath Killer who killed between six and nine men and women and John Christie the ineffectual necrophile who killed between six and eight women The modern news coverage finds its roots with these three men whom the crime historian Donald Thomas called the Postwar Psychopaths Their crimes were the first to generate a tabloid frenzy the like of which we see all around us today It was not only the murderers who captured the public's imagination It was the detectives who hunted them down the judiciary who tried them and the man who executed them the legendary hangman

Albert Pierrepoint This book tells the stories of these three infamous serial killers against the backdrop of the tabloid frenzy that surrounded them

Tell Me a Story Madeleine Pizzuti, 2016-04-25 Growing up in England and living in the small Fenland village of Leverington for eighteen years of my life created for me a myriad of memories some sad but most of them very happy Born in the Fenland capital and living in a house that her father built just outside the village of Leverington in Cambridgeshire Madeleine Pizzuti enjoyed an idyllic childhood within the safe and warm embrace of a loving family good friends and a large and lovable extended family I can still smell the country air that surrounded us as we sat amongst the gooseberry bushes that day The aroma of cucumber sandwiches tea from a flask bales of prickly straw mingled with the smell of strawberries ripening in the distance created for me a childhood memory that would last forever Tell Me a Story is a selection of stories drawn from her childhood memories from her grandmother's infamous jelly cubes to garden forks that go awry From donkey rides to teenage crushes and a drummer boy that would make you smile Set between the mid 1950s to 1970s this memoir would appeal to adults and young adults alike particularly those familiar with the Fenland district
