The First Texas News Barons Patrick L. Cox, 2009-04-20 Newspaper publishers played a crucial role in transforming Texas into a modern state By promoting expanded industrialization and urbanization as well as a more modern image of Texas as a southwestern rather than southern state news barons in the early decades of the twentieth century laid the groundwork for the enormous economic growth and social changes that followed World War II Yet their contribution to the modernization of Texas is largely unrecognized This book investigates how newspaper owners such as A H Belo and George B Dealey of the Dallas Morning News Edwin Kiest of the Dallas Times Herald William P Hobby and Oveta Culp Hobby of the Houston Post Jesse H Jones and Marcellus Foster of the Houston Chronicle and Amon G Carter Sr of the Fort Worth Star Telegram paved the way for the modern state of Texas Patrick Cox explores how these news barons identified the needs of the state and set out to attract the private investors and public funding that would boost the state s civic and military infrastructure oil and gas industries real estate market and agricultural production He shows how newspaper owners used events such as the Texas Centennial to promote tourism and create a uniquely Texan identity for the state To balance the record Cox also demonstrates that the news barons downplayed the interests of significant groups of Texans including minorities the poor and underemployed union members and a majority of women
