

The background of the book cover is a detailed historical painting. It depicts a large, dense crowd of people in a city street, likely during the American Civil War. In the foreground, several men are seated on the ground, some looking towards the camera. The crowd extends into the distance, where more people are standing and walking. In the background, there are buildings and a large American flag flying from a tall pole. The overall scene suggests a moment of public gathering or protest.

Generations of Jewish Directors and the Struggle for America's Soul Sam B. Girgus, 2021-08-11 From generation to generation three outstanding American Jewish directors William Wyler Sidney Lumet and Steven Spielberg advance a tradition of Jewish writers artists and leaders who propagate the ethical basis of the American Idea and Creed They strive to renew the American spirit by insisting that America must live up to its values and ideals These directors accentuate the ethical responsibility for the other as a basis of the American soul and a source for strengthening American liberal democracy In the manner of the jeremiad their films challenge America to achieve a liberal democratic culture for all people by becoming more inclusive and by modernizing the American Idea Following an introduction that relates aspects of modern ethical thought to the search for America's soul the book divides into three sections The Wyler section focuses on the director's social vision of a changing America The Lumet section views his films as dramatizing Lumet's dynamic and aggressive social and ethical conscience The Spielberg section tracks his films as a movement toward American redemption and renewal that aspires to realize Lincoln's vision of America as the hope of the world The directors among many others perpetuate a New Covenant that advocates change and renewal in the American experience

The Turn Around Religion in America Professor Michael P Kramer, Professor Nan Goodman, 2013-05-28

Playing on the frequently used metaphors of the turn toward or turn back in scholarship on religion The Turn Around Religion in America offers a model of religion that moves in a reciprocal relationship between these two poles In particular this volume dedicates itself to a reading of religion and of religious meaning that cannot be reduced to history or ideology on the one hand or to truth or spirit on the other but is rather the product of the constant play between the historical particulars that manifest beliefs and the beliefs that take shape through them Taking as their point of departure the foundational scholarship of Sacvan Bercovitch the contributors locate the universal in the ongoing and particularized attempts of American authors from the seventeenth century forward to get it whatever that it might be right Examining authors as diverse as Pietro di Donato Herman Melville Miguel Algarin Edward Taylor Mark Twain Robert Keayne Nathaniel Hawthorne Paule Marshall Stephen Crane Ralph Waldo Emerson and Joseph B Soloveitchik among many others and a host of genres from novels and poetry to sermons philosophy history journalism photography theater and cinema the essays call for a discussion of religion's powers that does not seek to explain them as much as put them into conversation with each other Central to this project is Bercovitch's emphasis on the rhetoric ritual typology and symbology of religion and his recognition that with each aesthetic enactment of religion's power we learn something new

We the People Tommy Givens, 2014-10-01

We the People explores John Howard Yoder's account of peoplehood and develops an appreciative revision that considers the politics of Jesus in relation to the people of Israel This revision articulates the theopolitical stakes in relation to the modern nation state's claims to peoplehood and the observable effects of its exegetical and historical moorings in self assertion as the new and purified Israel Tommy Givens then undertakes a critical engagement with Karl Barth's account of God's election and a theologically sensitive exegesis of key biblical texts in dialogue with Carl Schmitt Jacob Taubes and N T Wright
