

"Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely and more temperate.
Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease hath all too short a date.-

Literature in Sui, Tang and Five Dynasties Li Shi, The book is the volume of The History of Literature in Sui Tang and Five Dynasties among a series of books of Deep into China Histories The earliest known written records of the history of China date from as early as 1250 BC from the Shang dynasty c 1600 1046 BC and the Bamboo Annals 296 BC describe a Xia dynasty c 2070 1600 BC before the Shang but no writing is known from the period The Shang ruled in the Yellow River valley which is commonly held to be the cradle of Chinese civilization However Neolithic civilizations originated at various cultural centers along both the Yellow River and Yangtze River These Yellow River and Yangtze civilizations arose millennia before the Shang With thousands of years of continuous history China is one of the world s oldest civilizations and is regarded as one of the cradles of civilization The Zhou dynasty 1046 256 BC supplanted the Shang and introduced the concept of the Mandate of Heaven to justify their rule The central Zhou government began to weaken due to external and internal pressures in the 8th century BC and the country eventually splintered into smaller states during the Spring and Autumn period These states became independent and warred with one another in the following Warring States period Much of traditional Chinese culture literature and philosophy first developed during those troubled times In 221 BC Qin Shi Huang conquered the various warring states and created for himself the title of Huangdi or emperor of the Qin marking the beginning of imperial China

However the oppressive government fell soon after his death and was supplanted by the longer lived Han dynasty 206 BC 220 AD Successive dynasties developed bureaucratic systems that enabled the emperor to control vast territories directly In the 21 centuries from 206 BC until AD 1912 routine administrative tasks were handled by a special elite of scholar officials Young men well versed in calligraphy history literature and philosophy were carefully selected through difficult government examinations China's last dynasty was the Qing 1644 1912 which was replaced by the Republic of China in 1912 and in the mainland by the People's Republic of China in 1949 Chinese history has alternated between periods of political unity and peace and periods of war and failed statehood the most recent being the Chinese Civil War 1927 1949 China was occasionally dominated by steppe peoples most of whom were eventually assimilated into the Han Chinese culture and population Between eras of multiple kingdoms and warlordism Chinese dynasties have ruled parts or all of China in some eras control stretched as far as Xinjiang and Tibet as at present Traditional culture and influences from other parts of Asia and the Western world carried by waves of immigration cultural assimilation expansion and foreign contact form the basis of the modern culture of China

The Leaflet ,1913 Shards of Love María Rosa Menocal,1994 With the Spanish conquest of Islamic Granada and the expulsion of the Jews from Spain the year 1492 marks the exile from Europe of crucial strands of medieval culture It also becomes a symbolic marker for the expulsion of a diversity in language and grammar that was disturbing to the Renaissance sensibility of purity and stability In rewriting Columbus's narrative of his voyage of that year Renaissance historians rewrote history as was often their practice to purge it of an offending vulgarity The cultural fragments left behind following this exile form the core of Shards of Love as María Rosa Menocal confronts the difficulty of writing their history It is in exile that Menocal locates the founding conditions for philology as a discipline that loves origins and for the genre of love songs that philology reveres She crosses the boundaries both temporal and geographical of 1492 to recover the original medieval culture with its Mediterranean mix of European Arabic and Hebrew poetics The result is a form of literary history more lyrical than narrative and Menocal persuasively demonstrates more appropriate to the Middle Ages than to the revisionary legacy of the Renaissance In discussions ranging from Eric Clapton's adaption of Nizami's Layla and Majnun to the uncanny ties between Jim Morrison and Petrarch Shards of Love deepens our sense of how the Middle Ages is tied to our own age as it expands the history and meaning of what we call Romance philology

Love Poems of Ghanānand ,1991 The poetry of Ghananand depicts love in all its aspects Breaking away from the orthodox poetic traditions he gave Hindi poetry spontaneity and freshness and brought it nearer to life He fell in love with Sujana a courtesan in the darbar of emperor Mohammad Shah Having refused to sing when asked by the Emperor he agreed when requested by her

Love and Women in Early Chinese Fiction Daniel Hsieh,2009-03-02 In traditional China upper class literati were inevitably strongly influenced by Confucian doctrine and rarely touched upon such topics as love and women in their writings It was not until the mid Tang a generation or two after the An Lushan rebellion that literary circles began to engage in overt discussion of the issues of love and women through the use of the newly emerging genres of zhiguai and chuanqi fiction The debate was carried out with an unprecedented enthusiasm since the topics were considered to be the key to understanding the crisis in Chinese civilization This book examines the repertoire of chuanqi and zhiguai written during the Six Dynasties and Tang periods and analyzes the key themes topics and approaches found in these tales which range from expressions of male fantasy sympathy fear and anxiety to philosophical debate on the place of the feminine in patriarchal Chinese society Many of these stories reflect tensions between masculine and feminine aspects of civilization as seen for example in the conflict of male aspiration and female desire as well as the ultimate longing for reconciliation of these divisions These stories form a crucial chapter in the history of love in China and would provide much of the foundation for further explorations during the late imperial period as seen in seminal works such as The Peony Pavilion and Dream of the Red Chamber

Tanya Brenda Shaughnessy, 2023-03-07 The award-winning poet weaves a tapestry of literary heritage and intimate reflection as she pays tribute to women artists and mentors and circles the ongoing mysteries of friendship, love, art, and loss. In this powerful gathering of poems about her own influencers as well as poems on Dadaist artist Meret Oppenheim and the young choreographer Lauren Lovette, Brenda Shaughnessy dwells in memories of the women who set her on her artistic path. In the title poem she explores the eternal quality of an intense touchstone relationship with Tanya, about whom she writes: "Everyone's not you to me / Worth loving once, why not now / We all have our own Tanya." And in this book we meet friends, mentors, sisters, lovers who inhabit a verse classroom where Shaughnessy's passion for literature, forged in her own formative studies, is our teacher. In flowing stair-step tercets, Shaughnessy leads us down into her generative core, exposing moments of spiritual and intellectual awakening, her love of art and the written word, and her sense of the life force itself, which is ignited by the conversation across time and space with other women.
