1990-2012 Ciara Ní Bhroin, 2021-05-22 In the context of changing constructs of home and of childhood since the mid twentieth century this book examines discourses of home and homeland in Irish children s fiction from 1990 to 2012 a time of dramatic change in Ireland spanning the rise and fall of the Celtic Tiger and of unprecedented growth in Irish children s literature Close readings of selected texts by five award winning authors are linked to social intellectual and political changes in the period covered and draw on postcolonial feminist cultural and children s literature theory highlighting the political and ideological dimensions of home and the value of children s literature as a lens through which to view culture and society as well as an imaginative space where young people can engage with complex ideas relevant to their lives and the world in which they live Examining the works of O R Melling Kate Thompson Eoin Colfer Siobh n Parkinson and Siobhan Dowd Ciara N Bhroin argues that Irish children s literature changed at this time from being a vehicle that largely promoted hegemonic ideologies of home in post independence Ireland to a site of resistance to complacent notions of home in Celtic Tiger Ireland

Studies of Irish fiction are still scanty in contrast to studies of Irish poetry and drama Attempting to fill a large critical vacancy Irish Novels 1890 1940 is a comprehensive survey of popular and minor fiction mainly novels published between 1890 and 1922 a crucial period in Irish cultural and political history Since the bulk of these sixty odd writers have never been written about certainly beyond brief mentions the book opens up for further exploration a literary landscape hitherto neglected perhaps even unsuspected This new landscape should alter the familiar perspectives on Irish literature of the period first of all by adding genre fiction science fiction detective novels ghost stories New Woman fiction and Great War novels to the Irish syllabus secondly by demonstrating the immense contribution of women writers to popular and mainstream Irish fiction Among the popular and prolific female writers discussed are Mrs J H Riddell B M Croker M E Francis Sarah Grand Katharine Tynan Ella MacMahon Katherine Cecil Thurston W M Letts and Hannah Lynch Indeed a critical inference of the survey is that if there is a discernible tradition of the Irish novel it is largely a female tradition A substantial postscript surveys novels by Irish women between 1922 and1940 and relates them to the work of their female antecedents This ground breaking survey should also alter the familiar perspectives on the Ireland of 1890 1922 Many of the popular works were problem novels and hence throw light on contemporary thinking and debate on the Irish Question After the Irish Literary Revival and creation of the Free State much popular and mainstream fiction became a lost archive neglected evidence indeed of a lost Ireland

The Cinema of Norman Mailer Justin Bozung, 2017-09-07 The Cinema of Norman Mailer Film is Like Death not only examines the enfant terrible writer's thoughts on cinema but also features interviews with Norman Mailer himself The Cinema of Norman Mailer also explores Mailer's cinema through previously published and newly commissioned essays written by an array of film and literary scholars enthusiasts and those with a personal philosophical connection to Mailer This volume discusses the National Book Award and Pulitzer Prize winning author and filmmaker's six films created during the years of 1947 and 1987 and contends to show how Mailer's films can be best read as cinematic delineations that visually represent many of the writer's metaphysical and ontological concerns and ideas that appear in his texts from the 1950s until his passing in 2007 By re-examining Mailer's cinema through these new perspectives one may be awarded not just a deeper understanding of Mailer's desire to make films but also find a new alternative vision of Mailer himself Norman Mailer was not just a writer but more he was one of the most influential Postmodern artists of the twentieth century with deep roots in the cinema He allowed the cinema to not only influence his aesthetic approach but sanctioned it as his easiest crafted analogy for exploring sociological imagination in his writing Mailer once suggested Film is legitimately more interesting than books and with that in mind readers of Norman Mailer might begin to rethink his oeuvre through the viewfinder of the film medium as he was equally as passionate about working within cinema as he was about literature itself
