Lowell Canal System:

The Lowell Canal System Patrick M. Malone, 1976-01-01 Lowell, Massachusetts Lowell Historic Canal District Commission, 1977 The Use of Granite in the Lowell Canal System Al Lorenzo, 2004 Waterpower in Lowell Patrick M. Malone, 2009-11-01 Winner 2010 Peter Neaverson Award Association for Industrial Archaeology Patrick M. Malone demonstrates how innovative engineering helped make Lowell Massachusetts a potent symbol of American industrial prowess in the 19th century Waterpower spurred the industrialization of the early United States and was the principal power for textile manufacturing until well after the Civil War Industrial cities therefore grew alongside many of America's major waterways Ideally located at Pawtucket Falls on the Merrimack River Lowell was one such city a rural village rapidly transformed into a booming center for textile production and machine building Malone explains how engineers created a complex canal and lock system in Lowell which harnessed the river and powered mills throughout the city James B Francis arguably the finest engineer in 19th century America played a key role in the history of Lowell's urban industrial development An English immigrant who came to work for Lowell's Proprietors of Locks and Canals as a young man Francis rose to become both the company's chief engineer and its managing executive Linking Francis's life and career with the larger story of waterpower in Lowell Malone offers the only complete history of the design construction and operation of the Lowell canal system Waterpower in Lowell informs broader understanding of urban industrial development American scientific engineering and the environmental impacts of technology Its clear and instructional discussions of hydraulic technology and engineering principles make it a useful resource for a range of courses including the history of technology urban history and American business history Canals Robert J. Kapsch, Robert James Kapsch, 2004 Accompanying CD ROM has images from the book in TIFF format which can be viewed with the Extensis Portfolio browser included on the disc or with a graphics program such as Adobe Photoshop as well as links to four Library of Congress websites Lowell Thomas Dublin, 1992 Tells the story of America's first large scale planned industrial community Lowell Massachusetts Illustrations include paintings maps drawings and black and white and color photographs Towpaths-to-trails Kristine Olka, 1995
