

Ludwig Van Beethoven 1770 197

Magda El-Sherbini

Ludwig Van Beethoven 1770 197:

Hans Von Bülow Alan Walker, 2010 Hans von Bulow's career unfolded in at least six directions simultaneously. He was a renowned concert pianist, the first virtuoso orchestral conductor, a respected and sometimes feared teacher, an influential editor of works by Bach, Mendelssohn, Chopin, and above all of Beethoven in the performance of whose music he had no rival, a scourge as a music critic, and lastly he was himself also a composer of music. In Hans von Bulow: A Life and Times Alan Walker, the acclaimed author of numerous award-winning books on the era's iconic composers, provides the first full-length English biography of this remarkable musical figure.

Revolution at the Gates V.I. Lenin, 2014-05-20 The idea of a Lenin renaissance might well provoke an outburst of sarcastic laughter. Marx is OK, but Lenin? Doesn't he stand for the big catastrophe which left its mark on the entire twentieth century? Lenin, however, deserves wider consideration than this, and his writings of 1917 are testament to a formidable political figure. They reveal his ability to grasp the significance of an extraordinary moment in history. Everything is here, from Lenin the ingenious revolutionary strategist to Lenin of the enacted utopia. To use Kierkegaard's phrase, what we can glimpse in these writings is Lenin in becoming, not yet Lenin the Soviet institution, but Lenin thrown into an open contingent situation. In Revolution at the Gates Slavoj Žižek locates the 1917 writings in their historical context, while his afterword tackles the key question of whether Lenin can be reinvented in our era of cultural capitalism. Žižek is convinced that whatever the discussion, the forthcoming crisis of capitalism, the possibility of a redemptive violence, the falsity of liberal tolerance, Lenin's time has come again.

RDA Magda El-Sherbini, 2013-07-12 In this important book El-Sherbini tackles key questions about how the new cataloging standard will be implemented by cataloging professionals, offering an orientation in the conceptual background and the structure of RDA Resource Description and Access from a practical and technical perspective, including a detailed comparison with AACR2. Firmly rooted in the concrete application of RDA with numerous sample records, this book covers FRBR-driven tasks, FRBR Group relationships, and principles of FRAD, including how FRAD impacts the RDA application. Analyzes the roles of manifestations and items, such as pre-cataloging decisions, preferred sources of information, and mandatory elements of description. Discusses works and expressions for specific library materials, from methods of recording primary relationships to constructing the authorized access point and recording relationships. Offers advice for using RDA Toolkit with tips for efficient navigation in RDA Toolkit, using workflows and searching techniques. Digs deeply into a variety of technical issues, including RDA's effect on OPAC displays, implementation of the new RDA fields that represent adding new elements, adjusting systems to accommodate the new MARC21 fields, integrating new records using RDA with older records, when to re-catalog a set of manifestations, exporting an RDA-based bibliographic record from OCLC into the OPAC, choosing RDA elements to describe your library materials, core vs. full elements, upgrading OCLC records to RDA, and many more. Every cataloger will want this volume close at hand as a comprehensive roadmap to the changes already underway.
