Legal Adaptation Power in China's Ethnic Autonomous Areas WU Jingjing, CHENG Le, TAO Chenchen, 2025-05-26 The book provides a comprehensive analysis of legal adaptation mechanisms within ethnically diverse regions. This scholarly work examines how legal systems are modified to accommodate the unique cultural, social, and historical contexts of ethnic autonomous areas while maintaining national legal cohesion. The book explores the theoretical foundations of legal adaptation power, analyzing its constitutional principles including regional ethnic autonomy, ethnic equality, and popular sovereignty. It traces the historical evolution of legal adaptation in China and examines current practices across various domains including civil code, criminal law, electoral law, and family planning regulations. The authors identify several challenges in implementing legal adaptation, including geographical imbalances, inconsistent application, and institutional deficiencies. They propose a framework for improvement focused on strengthening legislative awareness, enhancing professional quality, and establishing effective accountability mechanisms. The work makes a significant contribution by emphasizing how legal adaptations help guarantee equal rights for ethnic minorities, resolve conflicts between national policies and local customs, and promote economic and social development. It advocates for a balanced approach that respects ethnic characteristics while maintaining the principle of national legal uniformity, ultimately supporting a more responsive and inclusive legal system in ethnic autonomous regions.
