Make Life Worth Living:

The Life Worth Living in Ancient Greek and Roman Philosophy David Machek, 2023-04-27 The account of the best life for humans is a happy or flourishing life and what it might consist of was the central theme of ancient ethics But what does it take to have a life that if not happy is at least worth living compared with being dead or never having come into life This question was also much discussed in antiquity and David Machek's book reconstructs for the first time philosophical engagements with the question from Socrates to Plotinus Machek's comprehensive book explores ancient views on a life worth living against a background of the pessimistic outlook on the human condition which was adopted by the Greek poets and also shows the continuities and contrasts between the ancient perspective and modern philosophical debates about biomedical ethics and the ethics of procreation His rich study of this relatively neglected theme offers a fresh and compelling narrative of ancient ethics

What Makes Life Worth Living Sherwood Sweet Knight, 1912

What Makes Life Worth Living Bernard Stiegler, 2013-11-18 In the aftermath of the First World War the poet Paul Valéry wrote of a crisis of spirit brought about by the instrumentalization of knowledge and the destructive subordination of culture to profit Recent events demonstrate all too clearly that the stock of mind or spirit continues to fall The economy is toxically organized around the pursuit of short term gain supported by an infantilizing dumbed down media Advertising technologies make relentless demands on our attention reducing us to idiotic beasts no longer capable of living Spiralling rates of mental illness show that the fragile life of the mind is at breaking point Underlying these multiple symptoms is consumer capitalism which systematically immiserates those whom it purports to liberate Returning to Marx's theory Stiegler argues that consumerism marks a new stage in the history of proletarianization It is no longer just labour that is exploited pushed below the limits of subsistence but the desire that is characteristic of human spirit The cure to this malaise is to be found in what Stiegler calls a pharmacology of the spirit Here pharmacology has nothing to do with the chemical supplements developed by the pharmaceutical industry The pharmakon defined as both cure and poison refers to the technical objects through which we open ourselves to new futures and thereby create the spirit that makes us human By reference to a range of figures from Socrates Simondon and Derrida to the child psychoanalyst Donald Winnicott Stiegler shows that technics are both the cause of our suffering and also what makes life worth living

The Thread of Life Richard Wollheim, 1984-01-01

Better Never to Have Been David Benatar, 2008 Most people believe that they were either benefited or at least not harmed by being brought into existence David Benatar presents a startling challenge to these assumptions He argues that people systematically overestimate the quality of their life and suffer quite serious harms by coming into existence

The Aristotelian Ethics Anthony Kenny, 2016-12-01 Sir Anthony Kenny presents a second edition of his landmark work The Aristotelian Ethics which transformed Aristotle studies in 1978 by showing on stylistic historical and philosophical grounds that the Eudemian Ethics was a mature work with as strong a claim to be Aristotle's ethical masterpiece as the more widely studied Nicomachean Ethics In this new edition Kenny offers a critical survey of developments in the field since The Aristotelian Ethics was first published Kenny also addresses the criticisms of his first edition both accepting those he sees as justified and addressing and refuting those which he feels are unfounded The book remains essential reading for anyone interested in Aristotle's ethical works arguably the most influential ever written Make Life Count Larry A.

Brookins, 2018-08-07 Why are we here Does life have meaning Does life have purpose What is the point of human life In this book Make Life Count these questions are examined and answered Life does have meaning Life does have purpose But it all starts with God It all starts with God because all life begins and ends with God Without God life has no meaning or purpose God is the creator Our lives are in his hands He is the giver of life the sustainer of life the restorer of life and the meaning to life Apart from God life is monotonous wisdom is vain wealth is futile and death is final How do we make life count We start with God We stay with God We submit to God This is the premise of this book All life has purpose Every story is important Every year matters Every ticktock of the clock is vital The Eudemian Ethics of Aristotle Peter L. P.

Simpson, 2017-09-08 Among the works on ethics in the Aristotelian corpus there is no serious dispute among scholars that the Eudemian Ethics is authentic The Eudemian Ethics is increasingly read and used by scholars as a useful support and confirmation and sometimes contrast to the Nicomachean Ethics Yet it remains a largely neglected work in the study of Aristotle's ethics both among scholars and moral philosophers Peter L P Simpson provides an analytical outline of the entire work together with summaries of each individual section making the overall structure and detailed argument clear His translation and explanatory notes include the common books that the Eudemian Ethics shares with the Nicomachean This translation contains renderings of words and phrases and proposals for emending the text that differ from what other translators and scholars have adopted This translation is literal without expansion or paraphrase and yet also readable A readable but literal translation is necessary because in the Eudemian Ethics more than usual in Aristotle's writings the logic of the argumentation can turn on the peculiar wording or order Simpson explains the argumentation where necessary in notes and separate explanatory comments This book is a fresh twenty first century rendition of the work of one of the most eminent philosophers of all time Causing Death and Saving Lives Jonathan Glover, 1990-06-28 The moral problems of
