Making Of Education Policy In South Africa:

Implementing Education Policies Jonathan D. Jansen, Yusuf Sayed, 2001 For the first time in South Africa a critical dialogue has been recorded between government policy makers and academic researchers on the subject of education policy and practice Implementing education policies attends to problems politics and possibilities of implementing the policy goals of the first post apartheid government established in 1994 The value of this book lies in several insider accounts of the policy process told through the voices of the legislators politicians and bureaucrats concerned with steering national value commitments through the education system Running parallel to these practitioner accounts lie a number of critical analyses of the technical capabilities and political designs that explain the trajectory of education reform in the 1990s The dialogue brings together in a developing country context different experiences and analyses of one of the most intractable problems facing all national education systems the persistent gap between policy ideals and practical realities This volume is essential reading for all academics and students of education at higher education institutions as well as teachers researchers and policy makers

The Changing Landscape of Education in Africa David Johnson, 2008-05-12 It is over 40 years since Coombs 1967 first drew attention to the World Education Crisis and specifically problems in the educational systems of countries in the developing world Today many of these problems remain and are most visible in the educational systems of countries in sub Saharan Africa A large number of children remain out of school and for those who do enrol less than half complete the primary education cycle More worrying is the fact that those who do complete primary schooling leave with unacceptably low levels of knowledge and skills The problems of access to education and the quality of learning opportunities and learning outcomes are unevenly spread between rural and urban areas better and worse off constituencies and between boys and girls This raises questions about the nature of the state and its commitment to equality and equity for all The chapters in this volume argue that quality equity and democratic accountability are inseparable objectives in the quest to strengthen and improve educational systems in the developing world Between them they highlight the specific problems of quality equity and democratic accountability in a number of African educational systems and provide useful insights into ongoing work by national governments and international donor agencies to remedy these shortcomings

The Global Politics of Educational Borrowing and Lending Gita Steiner-Khamsi, 2004-10-14 The globalization of educational policy has become a popular if not ubiquitous phenomenon among educational policymakers across the world It has led many observers to conclude that educational systems in different parts of the world are converging towards one international neo liberal model of school reform This practice of borrowing and lending school reforms requires a serious examination of the politics and the economics of transnational educational transfer In this volume Steiner Khamsi and her colleagues provide an in depth empirical and critical examination of the practice of global educational policy Contributors question the value of importing and exporting educational policies analyze who benefits from these arrangements and test the effectiveness of adapting one country's policies in other often quite culturally distinct countries The book investigates how global policies have been implemented locally and examines the extent to which they work in diverse locales teiner Khamsi and her colleagues also examine the role and practices of non governmental organizations NGOs multilateral organizations and the World Bank in fostering how educational policies are disseminated and adapted across national and cultural boundaries

Strategic Environmental Assessment for Policies Kulsum Ahmed, Ernesto Sanchez-Triana, 2008-04-30 Environmentally and socially sustainable policies are essential for good governance Strategic Environmental Assessment SEA is the key tool for integrating environmental considerations into policies programs and plans This book focuses on SEA applied to policies Through lessons learned from previous use of SEA on policies it draws lessons on the strengths and weaknesses of current SEA methodology It then goes on to analyze how policies are formulated and implemented and proposes a new conceptual framework for conducting SEA of policies that potentially could be more useful in influencing decision makers to integrate environmental sustainability considerations into policy formulation and implementation attempts to shed light on successes wherever they may occur in the hope that many wheels need not be reinvented again and again Handbook of Education Policy Gerard A. Postiglione, Christopher J. Johnstone, Wesley R. Teter, 2023-01-20 This insightful Handbook is an essential guide to educational policy around the world As shifting geopolitics intensified climate change and widening economic inequalities persist the need for informed educational policy is critical Research of Vs Research for Education Policy Richard Desjardins, 2009-02-01 As national governments reform their educational systems to meet the challenges of living in a globalised world the agenda setting power of transnational organizations like the OECD and the EU have become more transparent in the last decade The phenomenon of globalization has a number of implications for education policy making processes and not least it has had an impact on who conducts policy studies and how This book brings together a variety of contributions which explore recent political economic changes affecting education policy making processes including the ascension of neo liberalism and the transnationalization of education policy making as well as the tension between research of policy and research for policy Working from different perspectives the authors help to provide a better understanding of these two important sets of issues which the field of education must contend with today

Understanding Education Policy Tiffany Jones, 2013-02-26 Analysis of education policy often follows a particular orientation such as conservative or neo liberal Yet readers are often left to wonder the true meaning and conceptual framing behind these orientations Without this knowledge the policy analysis lacks true rigor its value is diminished as the results may prove difficult to reproduce Understanding Education Policy provides an overarching framework of four key orientations that lie beneath much policy analysis yet are rarely used with accuracy conservative liberal critical and post modern It details each orientation s application to policy making implementation and overall impact The book also argues the value of analysing a policy s orientation to improve the clarity of its analysis and allow broader trends across the education policy field to emerge The book offers practical examples key vocabulary and reflection activities which give equitable yet critical consideration to all education orientations This allows readers to see the benefits and disadvantages of each perspective and discover their own biases This introduction to education policy analysis offers theoretically broad highly practical coverage It is adaptable to many kinds of policy analysis areas and will appeal to a wide range of readers with an interest in education policy from students conducting specific research to policy makers looking for a deeper way to re think their work South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

(Re)Constructing Memory: Textbooks, Identity, Nation, and State James H. Williams, Wendy D.

Bokhorst-Heng, 2016-07-08 This book engages readers in thirteen conversations presented by authors from around the world regarding the role that textbooks play in helping readers imagine membership in the nation Authors voices come from a variety of contexts some historical some contemporary some providing analyses over time But they all consider the changing portrayal of diversity belonging and exclusion in multiethnic and diverse societies where silenced invisible marginalized members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion ethnicity sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider This book is thus about who we are not only demographically but also in terms of the past especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks The concluding chapters provides ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts

Transitioning Education in Africa Gia Cromer, 2023-08-08 Transitioning Education in Africa External Education Providers Emergencies and Authoritarian Structures explores how transitions from education in emergency to post conflict education systems are planned and managed at the national level Currently education for refugees is largely accomplished in emergency or crisis situations by external education providers EEPs in authoritarian contexts Using historical analysis of education policies appreciative inquiry surveys and semi structured interviews Gia Cromer argues that despite historic and current international community stated goals of increasing government capability to provide education neither EEPs nor refugee hosting countries have made these changes especially at the national level This book provides insights on both historical norms toward Africa and authoritarian organizational philosophies and structures that could be contributing to this failure to successfully transition procedures to provide education It also provides one of the few analyses of the problems in education provision for displaced people asylees and refugees specific to eleven countries in Africa The analysis concludes with education policy recommendations for national level education administrators to philosophically and practically decolonize education for the self determination of future education structures in Africa

The Struggle for Social Change in Southern Africa Dickson A. Mungazi, 1989 This book shows the applicability of Thomas Kuhn s theory of the structure of scientific revolutions to the struggle for social change in southern Africa The components of this theory which seem applicable to the conflict and the struggle for fundamental social change in this troubled region of Africa are definition of paradigms their functions the elements of paradigm shifts and their effect the relationship between paradigm shift in natural and social science and the concept of anomaly This study utilizes the components of this theory to discuss why the problems of southern Africa seem to defy this solution
