Reading Race Clare Bradford, 2013-05-09 How do children's books relate to the cultures that produce them and how do they influence those cultures In Reading Race Clare Bradford looks at representations of Australia's indigenous peoples in texts for children She shows how these varying representations have helped to colour the attitudes beliefs and assumptions of different generations of Australians To what extent have children's books enabled readers to understand Aboriginal culture relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people and relationships between Aboriginality and national identity Bradford draws on examples from popular and literary children's books of all genres fiction non fiction picture books and school texts She reveals that many children's books display the tensions and uncertainties inherent in relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people Bradford also uncovers the different ideologies of race that have informed Australian children's texts from the nineteenth century to currently popular writers demonstrating cultural shifts in the representation of Aboriginality over time The result is a ground breaking and intelligent picture of how Australian children's books by both white and Aboriginal writers have negotiated the matter of race Reading Race will enhance the ways in which we come to read and understand the complex and delicate issues around Aboriginal white relations It will be an invaluable resource in the fields of post colonial studies Indigenous and Aboriginal studies literary and cultural studies and children's literature

Unsettling Narratives Clare Bradford, 2007-04-26 Children's books seek to assist children to understand themselves and their world Unsettling Narratives Postcolonial Readings of Children's Literature demonstrates how settler society texts position child readers as citizens of postcolonial nations how they represent the colonial past to modern readers what they propose about race relations and how they conceptualize systems of power and government Clare Bradford focuses on texts produced since 1980 in Canada the United States

Australia and New Zealand and includes picture books novels and films by Indigenous and non Indigenous publishers and producers From extensive readings the author focuses on key works to produce a thorough analysis rather than a survey Unsettling Narratives opens up an area of scholarship and discussion the use of postcolonial theories relatively new to the field of children's literature and demonstrates that many texts recycle the colonial discourses naturalized within mainstream cultures
