provide information related to women's health and health problems Optimizing Women's Health through Nutrition Lilian U. Thompson, Wendy E. Ward, 2007-12-03 It is no surprise that women and men experience biological and physiological differences fundamentally and throughout the lifecycle. What is surprising is that faced with such a self-evident truth there should be so little consideration to date of how these differences affect susceptibility to disease and metabolic response to dietary treatment. U Human Nutrition in the Developing World Michael C. Latham, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1997 In this publication Professor Michael Latham draws upon his far-reaching experience in the field of international nutrition to provide a rich source of information about nutrition science, public health, food science, and public policy. The text summarizes key points in human nutrition and provides information about protein, fats, carbohydrates, minerals, and vitamins. Special emphasis is given to the nutritional needs of infants, children, mothers, and the elderly. Basic information about foods commonly found in the diets of Africans, Asians, and Latin Americans is given. The book focuses on the nutritional and health consequences of inadequate food consumption. Each major nutritional disorder is described and factors contributing to malnutrition such as low food production, food insecurity, poor health status, and social and cultural factors are reviewed. This is a reprint of the 1997 edition. Epidemiology of Women's Health Ruby T. Senie, 2014 With contributions from leading authorities in the field, this text explores the major health challenges, conditions that specifically affect women.

Health and Nutrition of Women and Children in Empowered Action Group States of India Sandhya R Mahapatro, Udaya S Mishra, Shubh Swain, 2023-09-20 This book tracks the progress of maternal and child health (MCH) part of SDG3 in empowered action group states in India. It lays bare regional disparities and unfolds a range of issues relating to inequalities in access to MCH services, complex dynamics behind poor nutrition, health expenditure, and impoverishment, structural bottlenecks of health system that hinder effective implementation of programmes, best practices adopted for improving MNCH indicators, and appropriate strategies required for more informed policy. The volume examines the changing features of health and nutrition of mothers, newborns, and children between pre and post National Rural Health Mission (NRHM). Studies reproductive health and well-being of mother and children. Explores linkages between food, nutrition, and health. Examines the underlying factors determining poor health and nutrition. Probes into health expenditure, their impoverishment, and its bearing on access to maternal and child healthcare services. Proposes strategic interventions to reduce maternal, neonatal, and child mortality and improve nutritional status. The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of public health, especially maternal and child health specialists, gender studies, development studies, and public policy.
