Personhood and Presence Ewan Kelly, 2012-03-08

The greatest asset which people in pastoral care offer in a caring relationship is themselves or to be more precise the aspects of self which they have reflected upon Offering oneself to other people in order to provide companionship along the road of life especially when the particular stage on the journey is one of anticipated or actual loss is an act which is both challenging and yet potentially life enhancing for a carer The purpose of this book is to offer an aid to those who seek to understand themselves better with a view to enhancing the quality of spiritual and pastoral care they offer Here the reference point for reflexivity is the caring relationship Yet as we are fundamentally the same beings in personal and professional relationships readers may also find stimulus to reflect on what they bring to a variety of relationships including that with the Sacred and indeed themselves Resilient Pastors Justine Allain-Chapman,2013-01-23

How can I help others to be strengthened during difficulties in life How can I cope when I m overwhelmed with the demands of helping others Pastors including clergy need to be able to provide the right kind of circumstances teaching and care to enable people to face crisis and come through difficulties stronger as human beings and as Christians They also need the quality of resilience to be involved in Christian ministry Justine Allain Chapman s thoughtful book draws on the stories and themes of Christian theology and tradition on contemporary research into resilience and the insights of psychology to help people make sense of the personal costs of pastoral care This book is an important resource for pastors written to help them recognize the dynamics of developing their own resilience as well as enabling them to strengthen others It is an essential guide to understanding how what is preached and taught in churches prepares people for life s difficulties Making God Possible Alan Billings,2011-09-22

What are clergy for In this lively and provocative volume Alan Billings argues that they serve the mission and ministry of the Church which is to make God possible In each new era how to carry out this mission effectively will vary as the Church seeks to respond to changes in society and culture but it is likely to involve clergy in a refocusing of their ministry Part 1 of Making God Possible looks at recent cultural shifts and the challenges they present to Christianity in the twenty first century Part 2 explores some of the models of ministry which have been found in the Church in the past and which continue to exercise an influence classical the parson evangelical the minister catholic the priest and utility the social activist and personal therapist The author skilfully draws out those things of lasting importance and value in each model that might contribute towards the renewal of the ordained ministry today Changing Worlds Robin Gill,2002-09-15

Churches everywhere are experiencing change In his thought provoking book Professor Robin Gill identifies the main challenges facing the church and reflects on how Christians should respond He first studies the immense moral challenges of our rapidly changing world religion and the environment the arms trade including reflection on the global situation since the attack on New York on 11 September 2001 media ethics and the Lambeth Conference and sexual ethics The second part focuses on the changing patterns of churchgoing and addresses anxieties about churchgoing decline in the West which run parallel with claims about rapid church growth elsewhere The third part looks at changes in theological education The author argues for greater honesty in the church and for a judicious use of both theology and sociology which would equip Christians to face the enormous challenges of our world today The New Guidebook for Pastors James W. Bryant,Mac Brunson,2007-06-01
