Rediscovering Interlanguage:

Rediscovering Interlanguage Larry Selinker, 1992 An account of the development of research and thinking in the field of learner language Draws on wide ranging research into contrastive analysis bilingualism theoretical linguistics and experimental psychology

Rediscovering Interlanguage Larry Selinker, 1994 Introducing Second Language Acquisition Muriel Saville-Troike, 2005-11-17 Written for students encountering the topic for the first time this is a clear and practical introduction to second language acquisition SLA It explains in non technical language how a second language is acquired what the second language learner needs to know and why some learners are more successful than others The textbook introduces in a step by step fashion a range of fundamental concepts such as SLA in adults and children in formal and informal learning contexts and in diverse socio cultural settings and takes an interdisciplinary approach encouraging students to consider SLA from linguistic psychological and social perspectives Each chapter contains a list of key terms a summary and a range of graded exercises suitable for self testing or class discussion Providing a solid foundation in SLA this book is set to become the leading introduction to the field for students of linguistics psychology and education and trainee language teachers

The Solution to the 'Son of Man' Problem Maurice Casey, 2009-09-01 The opening chapter surveys the history of scholarship regarding the problematic use of the phrase son of man in the New Testament It also explains why this problem could not be solved until recently Casey then presents the relevant Aramaic evidence He offers a careful discussion of the use of the Aramaic term son of man in the light of over 30 examples of the use of this term by speakers who are referring to themselves Chapters 4-9 discuss authentic examples of this idiom in the teaching of Jesus with Aramaic reconstructions of each saying All but one of these sayings is found in Mark or Q There is then a full discussion of secondary sayings in the Synoptic Gospels The first ones dependent on Daniel 7:13 belong to the earliest Gospel which also contains the results of translating genuine sayings of Jesus from Aramaic into Greek There is a discussion of the transition process between authentic Aramaic sayings of Jesus and Greek son of man sayings in the synoptic Gospels This argument builds on work in the field of translation studies and the work of ancient translators especially of the Septuagint Casey argues that Gospel translators deliberately translated both literally and creatively to produce a new Christological title It is this tradition that is evident in the Fourth Gospel its son of man sayings fit perfectly into Johannine theology The final chapter draws together a complete solution to this difficult problem

Language as Discourse Michael McCarthy, Ronald Carter, 2014-07-22 In this book Michael McCarthy and Ronald Carter describe the discoursal properties of language and demonstrate what insights this approach can offer to the student and teacher of language The authors examine the relationship between complete texts both spoken and written and the social and cultural contexts in which they function They argue that the functions of language are often best understood in a discoursal environment and that exploring language in context compels us to revise commonly held understandings about the forms and meanings of language In so doing the authors argue the need for language teachers syllabus planners and curriculum organisers to give greater attention to language as discourse New Trends in Crosslinguistic Influence and Multilingualism Research Gessica De Angelis, Jean-Marc Dewaele, 2011 This book presents the latest developments in crosslinguistic influence CLI and multilingualism research The contributors situate their research in current debates and present it in an accessible way They consider CLI in lexis syntax tense aspect morphology phonology of multilingual production and link it to concepts such as redundancy affordances metalinguistic awareness and L2 status Fossilization in Adult Second Language Acquisition Zhaohong Han, 2004 This book is a systematic attempt to address the issue of fossilization in relation to a fundamental question in second language acquisition research which is why are learners adults in particular unable to develop the level of competence they have aspired to in spite of continuous and sustained exposure to the target language adequate motivation to learn and sufficient opportunity to practice Age, Accent and Experience in Second Language Acquisition Alene Moyer, 2004-03-16 This work critically addresses the age debate in second language acquisition studies presenting an in depth study of factors that predict foreign accent Quantitative and qualitative analyses confirm that cognitive social and psychological factors contribute to attainment and that biological influences must therefore be considered alongside these essential aspects of learner experience Grammatical Development of Chinese among Non-native Speakers Xiaojing (Queeny) Wang, 2013-09-17 This book marks an exciting contribution to the development and application of Processability Theory It offers the reader an extensive overview and a critical discussion of the existing research into processability procedural skills from Germanic to Asian and Arabic languages It also develops a new perspective on the study of Chinese as a second language CSL acquisition moving from theory to practice The strength of this book lies not only in its innovative approach to CSL learning but also in the potential practical applications of the approach to the development of the Chinese teaching syllabus and elicitation tasks This research presented will benefit both learners and teachers As a second language learner acquiring Chinese this book will tell you how to facilitate the learning process in an easy and scientific way As a teacher of Chinese this book will help you to know what to teach and how to teach it and importantly will teach you how to understand learners language processing from a practical point of view The book affords a unique insight into the Chinese processability hierarchy which delineates the universal processing trajectory of CSL learners The research design and data analysis procedures which are presented and explained clearly and thoroughly constitute an original contribution to the growing research into Chinese language acquisition and will pave the way for future research in the field The book will be of considerable interest to linguists working in the field of Processability Theory and will be enjoyed by both CSL learners and their teachers Second Language Acquisition Susan M. Gass, 2013-08-21 Now in a fourth edition this bestselling introductory textbook remains the cornerstone volume for the study of second language acquisition SLA Its chapters have been fully updated and reorganized where appropriate to provide a comprehensive yet accessible overview of the field and its related disciplines To reflect current developments new sections on using learner corpora semantics and morphosyntax within formal approaches to SLA sociocultural approaches gesture priming research and chaos theory have been added Students will also find expanded discussions of heritage language learning bilingualism pragmatics and much more The redesigned fourth edition of Second Language Acquisition retains the features that students found useful in the current edition but also provides new pedagogical tools that encourage students to reflect upon the experiences of second language learners As with previous editions discussion questions and problems at the end of each chapter help students apply their knowledge and a glossary defines and reinforces must know terminology This clearly written comprehensive and current textbook by expert Sue Gass is the ideal textbook for the introductory SLA course in second language studies applied linguistics linguistics TESOL and language education programs
