International Library of Technology, 1907      Reflections on the Global Civilization Majid Tehranian, Daisaku Ikeda, 2015-12-21 Globalization has brought different civilizations and peoples into new and closer contact But this novel intimacy has not always led to greater understanding There is an urgent need to work towards a global civilization based on principles of peace mutual respect and tolerance It is precisely that goal which the participants attempt in this classic dialogue Inspired by the encounters between Buddhism and Islam as they exchanged ideas and goods along the Silk Road it brings together a Sufi Muslim from Iran and one of the world's most influential lay Buddhist leaders to explore the vibrant areas of common ground between the Islamic and Buddhist traditions Coloured by Sufi philosophy and by Buddhist thought and practice and drawing on a diverse selection of thinkers including Rumi and Hafez Rabindranath Tagore Jurgen Habermas and Antonio Gramsci Reflections on the Global Civilization offers a profound meditation on conflict loss and injustice as well as the vitality of interfaith discussion It shows that Islam and Buddhism have much to offer not only to each other but also to the world as a whole      Transactions and proceedings of the ... Pyrrhonian Reflections on Knowledge and Justification Robert J. Fogelin, 1994-09-22 This work written from a neo Pyrrhonian perspective is an examination of contemporary theories of knowledge and justification It takes ideas primarily found in Sextus Empiricus's Outlines of Pyrrhonism restates them in a modern idiom and then asks whether any contemporary theory of knowledge meets the challenges they raise The first part entitled Gettier and the Problem of Knowledge attempts to rescue our ordinary concept of knowledge from those philosophers who have assigned burdens to it that it cannot bear Properly understood Fogelin shows that the concept of knowledge is unproblematic The second part of this study called Agrippa and the Problem of Justification examines Agrippa's contribution to Pyrrhonism a systematic reduction of its procedures which came to be known as the Five Modes Leading to the Suspension of Belief These modes present a completely general procedure for refuting any claim a dogmatist might make Though largely unnoticed there is according to Fogelin an uncanny resemblance between problems posed by Agrippa's Five Modes and those that contemporary epistemologists address under the heading of a theory of justification Fogelin examines the strongest contemporary theories of justification in both foundationalist and anti foundationalist forms The conclusion is that recent philosophical writings on justification have made no significant progress in responding to the Pyrrhonian problems these writings have addressed      International and Comparative Librarianship Peter Johan Lor,2019-06-17 Based on his extensive experience in international librarianship Peter Johan Lor South Africa s first National Librarian and a former Secretary General of the IFLA has written the first comprehensive and systematic overview of international and comparative librarianship His book provides a conceptual framework and methodological guidelines for the field and covers the full range of international relations among libraries and information services with particular attention to the international political economy of information the international diffusion of innovations and policy in library and information services LIS development and international aid It concludes with a discussion of the practical relevance and future of international and comparative studies in LIS See a short interview with Peter Lor on his work <https://www.ifla.org/node/92590>      IFLA Library Building Guidelines: Developments & Reflections Karen Latimer,Hellen Niegaard,2008-11-03 The information society and the information age are changing library services as well as library premises This raises questions about what needs to be considered when planning and designing new library buildings in order to achieve attractive efficient and future oriented new library spaces This new publication provides information and guidelines for the building planning process whether you are planning a new public or academic library building It reflects on fundamental issues on new development trends and on the planning process The library building process is seen from both the library manager s perspective as well as that of the architect and designer Issues covered include what to consider when investigating the need for space library design from a marketing viewpoint green management and sustainability relating to library buildings and a layman s guide to reading plans This publication and the IFLA guidelines provided are not seen as a traditional set of recommendations to be rigidly adhered to since this would be unrealistic in a fast changing and global context Rather library managers and architects should read them in order to inform their thinking on key issues and establish a planning programme They must then relate them to their own countries and circumstances by making the relevant local adjustments      Reflections on Leadership Richard A. Couto,2007-04-26 In Reflections on Leadership fifteen prominent leadership scholars pay tribute to James MacGregor Burns s book Leadership a classic in the field of leadership studies The contributors address the puzzles and anomalies in his work such as the place of values in leadership leadership as a casual factor in change levels of analysis interdisciplinary approaches to the study of leadership the distance of his theory from everyday experience the absence of gender and race and more      Challenging Tradition Perry Shaw,Havilah Dharamraj,2018-03-31 The surge of theological education in the rapidly growing church of the Majority World has highlighted the inadequacy of traditional Western methods of thinking and learning to fully accomplish the task at hand The limitations of current theological education are embodied in the formation and assessment of the master s or doctoral dissertation processes that follow a linear empiricist tradition developed in the West and exported to the Majority World Challenging Tradition Innovation in Advanced Theological Studies highlights the need for these traditions to be reconsidered in every context throughout the world Drs Shaw and Dharamraj with their team of contributors present innovations in research and documentation that demonstrate how we may better prepare theological leadership through means that are contextually relevant and locally meaningful

Reflections Donald J. Young, 2014-05-09 Donald Young's poems are tight and loose at the same time the reader can move within them and the reader will feel strongly the concern the emotion the flow that carries the words along There is color music and a wonderful reliance on imagery that makes the poems a joy to read and reread But what gives the poems their energy and depth is the feeling of necessity that underlies each poem there is an idea or passion or both which strongly compels its utterance The poems are journeys toward revelation or satori sudden illumination In many cases the poems push us beyond what we could ever anticipate Herein lies the pleasure We leave Donald Young's poems enlightened deepened and thankful for the keen eye and compassionate heart
