Popova, 2015-06-26

This is a book about the human propensity to think about and experience the world through stories Why do we have stories How do stories create meaning for us and How is storytelling distinct from other forms of meaning making are some of the questions that this book seeks to answer Although these and other related problems have preoccupied linguists philosophers sociologists narratologists and cognitive scientists for centuries in Stories Meaning and Experience Yanna Popova takes an original interdisciplinary approach situating the study of stories within an enactive understanding of human cognition Enactive approaches to consciousness and cognition foreground the role of interaction in explanations of social understanding which includes the human practices of telling and reading stories Such an understanding of narrative makes a decisive break with both text centred approaches that have dominated structuralist and early cognitivist views of narrative meaning as well as pragmatic ones that view narrative understanding as a form of linguistic implicature The intersubjective experience that each narrative both affords and necessitates the author argues serves to highlight the active yet cooperative and communal nature of human sociality expressed in the numerous forms of human interaction of which storytelling is one

The Novel: An Alternative History, 1600-1800 Steven Moore, 2013-08-29 Winner of the Christian Gauss Award for excellence in literary scholarship from the Phi Beta Kappa Society Having excavated the world s earliest novels in his previous book literary historian Steven Moore explores in this sequel the remarkable flowering of the novel between the years 1600 and 1800 from Don Quixote to America s first big novel an homage to Cervantes entitled Modern Chivalry This is the period of such classic novels as Tom Jones Candide and Dangerous Liaisons but beyond the dozen or so recognized classics there are hundreds of other interesting novels that appeared then known only to specialists Spanish picaresques French heroic romances massive Chinese novels Japanese graphic novels eccentric English novels and the earliest American novels These minor novels are not only interesting in their own right but also provide the context needed to appreciate why the major novels were major breakthroughs The novel experienced an explosive growth spurt during these centuries as novelists experimented with different forms and genres epistolary novels romances Gothic thrillers novels in verse parodies science fiction episodic road trips and family sagas along with quirky unclassifiable experiments in fiction that resemble contemporary avant garde works As in his previous volume Moore privileges the innovators and outriders those who kept the novel novel In the most comprehensive history of this period ever written Moore examines over 400 novels from around the world in a lively style that is as entertaining as it is informative Though written for a general audience The Novel An Alternative History also provides the scholarly apparatus required by the serious student of the period This sequel like its predecessor is a zestfully encyclopedic avidly opinionated and dazzlingly fresh history of the most elastic of literary forms anthropology and sociology Lyric Forms begins with an introduction to the fundamentals of lyric poetry then delves into its historical development and structural characteristics culminating in an exploration of its cultural significance This book is unique in its emphasis on the interconnectedness of lyric poetry across cultures and historical periods It s a valuable resource for students scholars and general readers interested in poetry literature and cultural studies offering a comprehensive and engaging introduction to this rich art form

New Literary Hybrids in the Age of Multimedia

Expression Marcel Cornis-Pope, 2014-11-15 Begun in 2010 as part of the Histories of Literatures in European Languages series sponsored by the International Comparative Literature Association the current project on New Literary Hybrids in the Age of Multimedia Expression recognizes the global shift toward the visual and the virtual in all areas of textuality the printed verbal text is increasingly joined with the visual often electronic text This shift has opened up new domains of human achievement in art and culture The international roster of 24 contributors to this volume pursue a broad range of issues under four sets of questions that allow a larger conversation to emerge both inside the volume s sections and between them The four sections cover 1 Multimedia Productions in Theoretical and Historical Perspective 2 Regional and Intercultural Projects 3 Forms and Genres and 4 Readers and Rewriters in Multimedia Environments The essays included in this volume are examples of the kinds of projects and inquiries that have become possible at the interface between literature and other media new and old They emphasize the extent to which hypertextual multimedia and virtual reality technologies have enhanced the sociality of reading and writing enabling more people to interact than ever before At the same time however they warn that as long as these technologies are used to reinforce old habits of reading writing they will deliver modest results One of the major tasks pursued by the contributors to this volume is to integrate literature in the global informational environment where it can function as an imaginative partner teaching its interpretive competencies to other components of the cultural landscape
