

The book cover features a stylized landscape. The top half has a light blue sky. Below it are rolling green hills. On the right side, a red brick chimney stands on a hill, emitting a plume of white smoke. A long, dark, shadow-like shape stretches across the middle of the green hills. The bottom of the cover is a solid dark red band.

Religion, Education and Post-Modernity Andrew Wright, 2003-12-16 This book the first to explore religious education and post modernity in depth sets out to provide a much needed examination of the problems and possibilities post modernity raises for religious education At once a general introduction to this topic and a distinctive contribution to the debate in its own right Religion Education and Post modernity explores and illuminates the problems and possibilities opened up for religious education by postmodern thought and culture The book describes the emergence of post modernity considers the impact of post modernity on religion addresses its impact on the philosophy of religion and considers the nature of religious education in the post modern world Andrew Wright argues that although post modernity has much to offer the religious educator there are also many pitfalls and dangers to be avoided Steering clear of the extreme of post modern hyper realism he constructs a religious pedagogy sensitive to post modern concerns for alterity difference and the voice of the Other whilst insisting on the importance of reasons in cultivating religious literacy

Readings for Reflective Teaching in Early Education Jennifer Colwell, Andrew Pollard, 2015-02-26 Readings for Reflective Teaching in Early Education is a unique portable library of exceptional readings drawing together seminal extracts and contemporary literature from international sources from books and journals to support both initial study and extended career long professionalism for early years practitioners Introductions to each reading highlight the key issues explored and explain the status of classic works This book along with the core text and associated website draw upon the work of Andrew Pollard former Director of the TLRP and the work of many years of accumulated understanding of generations of early years practitioners primary school teachers and educationalists Readings for Reflective Teaching in Early Education the core text Reflective Teaching in Early Education and the website provide a fully integrated set of resources promoting the expertise of early years professionals The associated website www.reflectiveteaching.co.uk offers supplementary resources including reflective activities research briefings and advice on further readings It also features a glossary of educational terms links to useful websites and showcases examples of excellent research and practice This book forms part of the Reflective Teaching series edited by Andrew Pollard and Amy Pollard offering support for reflective practice in early primary secondary further vocational university and adult sectors of education Rhetoric and Educational

Discourse Richard Edwards, Katherine Nicoll, Nicky Solomon, Robin Usher, 2013-02-01 Educational policy is often dismissed as simply rhetoric and a collection of half truths However this is to underestimate the power of rhetoric and the ways in which rhetorical strategies are integral to persuasive acts Through a series of illustrative chapters this book argues that rather than something to be dismissed rhetorical analysis offers a rich and deep arena in which to explore and examine educational issues and practices It adopts an original stance in relation to contemporary debates and will make a significant contribution to educational debates in elucidating and illustrating the pervasiveness of persuasive strategies in educational practices Rhetoric and Educational Discourse is a useful resource for postgraduate and research students in education and applied linguistics The book will also be of interest to academics and researchers in these fields of study and those interested in discursive approaches to research and scholarship

Higher Education and the Challenge of Sustainability Peter Blaze Corcoran, Arjen E.J. Wals, 2007-05-08 Sustainability challenges universities around the world to rethink their missions and to re structure their courses research programs and life on campus Graduates are increasingly exposed to notions of sustainability which are emotionally politically ethically and scientifically charged They must be able to deal with conflicting norms and values uncertain outcomes and futures and a changing knowledge base At the same time they will need to be able to contextualize knowledge in an increasingly globalized society This book provides a variety of valuable theoretical and practical resources for students teachers researchers and administrators who seek to integrate sustainability in higher education Sustainability is not only explored as both an outcome and a process of learning but as a catalyst for educational change and institutional innovation The book raises the various problematics related to this inchoate field and provides an intellectual history and critical assessment of the prospects for institutionalizing sustainability in higher education

Teaching and Learning Through Reflective Practice Tony Ghaye, 2010-12-09 This is a practical guide to enable all those involved in educational activities to learn through the practices of reflection The book highlights the power that those responsible for teaching and learning have to appraise understand and positively transform their teaching Understanding Cities Alexander R. Cuthbert, 2011 Understanding Cities is richly textured complex and challenging It creates the vital link between urban design theory and praxis and opens the required methodological gateway to a new and unified field of urban design Using spatial political economy as his most important reference point Alexander Cuthbert both interrogates and challenges mainstream urban design and provides an alternative and viable comprehensive framework for a new synthesis

He rejects the idea of yet another theory in urban design and chooses instead to construct the necessary intellectual and conceptual scaffolding for what he terms The New Urban Design Building both on Michel de Certeau's concept of heterology thinking about thinking and on the framework of his previous books Designing Cities and The Form of Cities. Cuthbert uses his prior adopted framework history philosophy politics culture gender environment aesthetics typologies and pragmatics to create three integrated texts. Overall the trilogy allows a new field of urban design to emerge. Pre-existing and new knowledge are integrated across all three volumes of which Understanding Cities is the culminating text. Educational Theory in the 21st Century Yusuf Alpaydın, Cihad Demirli, 2022-05-30 This open access book reviews the effects of the twenty-first century scientific technological and social developments on the educational theory. The first part handles the subject focusing on technology and educational philosophy. In the second part the implications of new human and social conceptions towards the education paradigms are examined. In the chapters of the last part of the book more practical dimensions of education are discussed. Transforming school designs school management learning teaching approaches and teacher competencies are discussed in the context of broader social cultural and technological changes. Inspiring Faith in Schools Marius Felderhof, 2016-05-23 Inspiring Faith in Schools addresses the privileging of secularism that appears to affect RE in countries influenced by modern western thought. The authors argue that a more engaging form of RE would emerge if religious life were to inhabit centre stage. Currently religious faith is made to hover in the wings awaiting the call to face the inquisitorial challenge of the modern day enquirer. The consequent relationship between pupil and the Divine as the purpose of study is then already intrinsically irreligious as indicated in the Book of Job by putting God in the dock whereas it is the pupil who should be cross-examining his or her life. What are the ways of exciting and engaging the young so that they begin to entertain the possibility of religious life as a genuine option for themselves. Leading scholars in philosophy and theology from the UK Australia Canada and the USA come together to address these questions together with RE experts. Marius Felderhof writes an Afterword summing up the challenges faced by such a re-visioning of RE. Being an Academic Joëlle Fanghanel, 2011-08-26 The role of academics in universities worldwide has undergone unprecedented change over the past decade. In this book Fanghanel explores concepts of what it means to be an academic in the 21st century. Doing Action Research In Early Childhood Studies: A Step-By-Step Guide Mac Naughton, Glenda, Hughes, Patrick, 2008-09-01 Using varied illustrations and case studies of contemporary projects in diverse early childhood contexts the book addresses specific issues and challenges that you might face when conducting action research in such settings. Epistemologies and Ethics in Adult Education and Lifelong Learning Richard G. Bagnall, Steven Hodge, 2022-02-17 This book presents and advocates for a framework of competing epistemologies and conceptions of ethics as a way of understanding modernist lifelong learning. These epistemologies are grounded in a recognition of the normative nature of knowledge that informs lifelong learning each being framed by a different account of the sort of knowledge that is most valued and therefore foregrounded in lifelong learning policy provision and engagement informed by the epistemology Each epistemology is also characterised by its constituent conception of ethics Four such epistemologies and conceptions of ethics are here recognised as having been important in the lifelong learning movement to date disciplinary developmental emancipatory and design The authors argue that assumptions about knowledge and moral positions constitute a powerful but not well understood feature of such arguments awareness of these assumptions and positions could serve to powerfully advance the overall understanding of what is at stake in lifelong learning and adult education at all levels

Spirituality and Education

Andrew Wright,2003-09-02 Spirituality and Education introduces the basic contours of current debate in a form accessible to both classroom teachers across the curriculum range and to school managers It covers all key areas including problems of defining spirituality government legislation and supporting documentation relevant empirical research the social dimension of spirituality secular and religious manifestations of spirituality in contemporary society theories of childhood spiritual development contemporary approaches to spiritual education including collective worship and cross curricular teaching A variety of different perspectives and approaches will be offered and readers are encouraged to be reflective through a number of tasks which relate all issues raised directly back to their own specific circumstances The author includes questions quotes and lists of further reading

Expressive Arts Education and Therapy

Markus Scott-Alexander,2020-06-29 In Expressive Arts Education and Therapy the reader follows the creation of art making in tandem with the unfolding of sense making A dance theatre lab is the stage for exploration where what was discovered was phenomenologically and collaboratively reflected upon the participatory nature of the creative work pouring into the research methodology Creative Process based Research efficacy is contingent upon the interaction of three poles the creator the product and an experience of the internal external creative process of the creator All three perspectives comprise the dynamics required of this research methodology in order to understand what is occurring in these three distinct and essential elements of the creative process What results is an experience of cohesion that consciously describes this interplay The author outlines his influences that contributed to both the art making and sense making over the seven year research project His work in experimental theatre in New York as an educator with The European Graduate School in Switzerland and his studies with philosopher John de Ruiter in Canada are integrated into the world of research in the field of expressive arts The visceral component of creating clarity is uncovered and articulated This book inspires new ways of thinking about participatory collaborative arts centered research where the skill of exposing the artist researcher s modus operandi for making art and making sense is named in a myriad of ways that call upon the intellect as well as the artist s intuitive sense of what to focus on and its relevance to education therapy and global health

The University of Crisis ,2021-10-18

This book began as a collection of papers presented at a conference entitled The Future Business of Higher Education held at Oxford University The contributions range from those who grapple with the question of what a University should do through those concerned with making Higher

Education more efficient to some who were already planning for some technologically inevitable virtual future These disparate leanings led to inevitable conflict and a challenge in editing into book form In compiling and editing the chapters the editor has tried to preserve some of the diversity of opinion presented at Oxford By doing so it is apparent that some individual contributors would find unacceptable much of what others in the book have to say The traditionalists clash with the modernizers the Left with the Right Public with Private and the theorists with the practitioners It is this very divergence of philosophical opinion as to the future of Higher Education that makes this book such an enjoyable and stimulating read

Flexibility and Lifelong Learning Katherine Nicoll, 2006-09-27 This book seeks to develop different approaches to policy analysis through a discursive and rhetorical engagement with the themes of flexibility and lifelong learning Research and Knowledge at Work John Garrick, Carl Rhodes, 2002-09-11 This fascinating and controversial text makes sense of the complexities of research in the workplace and how working knowledge is constructed Featuring experts from Britain Japan North America and Australia it is an outstanding contribution to the literature of Human Resource Management HRM Its interdisciplinary approach addresses key issues and debates such as the influences of new technology language power culture and gender upon the construction of knowledge the impact of globalization working knowledge into the 21st century practice and performance implications Its outlook geared towards the 21st century makes it essential reading for researchers teachers and students within HRM policy makers and all those concerned with professional development
