

Reflective Practice

Reflective Cycle highlights six key steps that must be carried out sequentially and can be continuously repeated to make a progressive cycle.

01. Description

Where were you? Why were you there? What role did you and others play in the event?

02. Feelings

What were you thinking before and during the event? How do you feel about the event?

03. Evaluation

Make quality judgment from an unbiased perspective.

04. Analysis

Analyze your actions and how those of others may have influenced your decisions.

05. Conclusion

What are the key takeaways from this event? What could you have done differently?

06. Action plan

Based on what you've learned from this event, what will you do when a similar situation arises in the future?

your reflective abilities How to write reflectively in order to evidence development of reflective practice to others How to create a learning environment that enables growth and development through reflection and provides accurate assessment outcomes Written in a straightforward and engaging way with reflective activities and resources throughout this key resource will develop your knowledge understanding and application of reflective practice This is a well written text that provides much needed clarity around a central process within professional social work Students practitioners and managers will learn lots about how to use reflection effectively Linda Bruce writes with authority and a deep understanding she has done an excellent job Steven Hothersall Head of Social Work Education Edgehill University UK This is an extremely important area of practice in the current complex world of social work practice and social care It takes students and practitioners through the relevant knowledge and theory base and appropriate tools for reflection I thoroughly recommend it Joyce Lishman Reflective Thinking in Social Work Mekada Julia Graham,2017-02-17 It is vital that social work students learn to integrate their personal and professional selves if they are to meet the challenges of social work in complex changing environments This accessible text is designed to enable readers to explore and build on their existing skills and abilities supporting them to become competent and self aware reflective practitioners Reflective Thinking in Social Work uses stories told by a range of social work students to model reflective practice learning Discussing issues such as identity motivation to enter the social work profession and lived experiences in the journey into social work the book brings together stories of hardship privilege families hopes interests and community activism from many diverse ethnic backgrounds Each narrative is introduced by the author and ends with a commentary drawing out the key themes and exploring how the reader can use the narrative to enhance their own understanding and critical thinking and to engage in transformative practice Framed by an in depth discussion of available frameworks for reflective practice in different contexts and the importance of narratives in constructing identities this is an invaluable text for social work students at both bachelor s and master s degree levels

Reflective Reader: Social Work and Human Development Karin Crawford,2006-06-27 This book is an original way to introduce students and practitioners to reflective learning and knowledge based practice both of which are key aspects of a social worker s role Readers will consider the impact of social work practice from a life course perspective by using extracts from topical research theory academic texts and national strategy and policy Numerous activities prompt personal reflection and help readers to develop skills in critical analysis as well as providing ways in which they can evidence the impact this learning has on their professional development Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould,Imogen Taylor,2017-03-02 Since the publication of Donald Schon s The Reflective Practitioner in 1983 there has been a dramatic growth of research and writing developing the concept of reflective learning Surprisingly there has been little application of concepts of reflective learning to social work education This volume makes accessible for the first time to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work brings together material on reflective learning from both academic and practice settings creates a seminal text for educators and trainers in universities and practice settings has relevance to an international readership with contributions from the UK USA Canada and Australia Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould, Imogen Taylor, 1996 The 1st volume to bring to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work this text brings together conceptual research and case material on reflective learning from academic and practice settings Handbook for Practice Learning in Social Work and Social Care Joyce

Lishman, 2007-05-15 This substantially revised expanded and updated edition of the popular Handbook of Theory for Practice Teachers is a comprehensive summary of the theory knowledge research and evidence relating to practice learning in social care focussing on knowledge based practice with a focus on improving outcomes Teaching Reflective Learning in Higher Education Mary Elizabeth Ryan, 2014-11-05 This book is about understanding the nature and application of reflection in higher education It provides a theoretical model to guide the implementation of reflective learning and reflective practice across multiple disciplines and international contexts in higher education The book presents research into the ways in which reflection is both considered and implemented in different ways across different professional disciplines while maintaining a common purpose to transform and improve learning and or practice The Readers will find this book is innovative and new in three key ways Firstly in its holistic theorisation of reflection within the pedagogic field of higher education Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines and finally in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice in a systematic way across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education The book considers important contextual factors that influence the teaching of forms and methods of reflection It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme The theoretical model accounts for students stage of development in the disciplinary field along with progressive and cyclical levels of higher order thinking and learning and professional practice that are expected within different disciplines and professional fields Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme in terms of demonstrating levels of reflection The book includes images diagrams and different text forms to support the creative applications of reflection And thirdly the book is innovative in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice systematically across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education contexts across the world Reflective Practice in Education and Social Work Robyn Ewing, Fran

Waugh, David L. Smith, 2021-12-14 This book offers unique interdisciplinary insights into developing connections between reflective practice and employability particularly through the lenses of the education and social work professions It recognises the various meanings that can be applied to the notion of reflection and examines the challenges of using reflective practice in the workplace The chapters explore the tensions that arise from preparing professionals to be agents of change and concerned with social justice and equity Further the book provides much needed perspective on how diverse positions can be identified and leveraged and shared meanings negotiated in the creation of meaningful professional learning resources for early career teachers and social workers and across the career continuum Bringing together contributions from internationally renowned scholars Reflective Practice in Education and Social Work is essential reading for early career and experienced professionals in education and social work academics and practitioners seeking further professional development in reflective practice
