Ridgefield Ct:

Hidden History of Ridgefield, Connecticut Jack Sanders, 2015-08-10 Time nearly erased many astounding tales and unexpected anecdotes from Ridgefield's history. Its colorful characters include a widow who built a landmark Manhattan hotel, her neighbor who invented one of the first helicopters, and a CIA operative who helped one thousand Americans flee Saigon at the end of the Vietnam War. Lesser known are the stories of the Ridgefield artists who gave the world Superman and Lowly Worm and brought the Wild West to life. One local writer helped make Hawthorne famous while another penned thousands of hymns still sung around the globe. Join retired newspaper editor Jack Sanders as he uncovers nearly forgotten people and moments of Ridgefield's past. Internal Revenue Service, 2002 Silly Mr. Scott Scott M. Russell, 2013-08 After a double diagnosis of early onset dementia and Alzheimer's disease in 2010 corporate executive Scott Russell went into a deep depression. He isolated himself, lost clarity, and struggled for purpose. It was at this dark period in his life that he made a life-changing decision to make a positive impact on others. He began to work with Alzheimer's Program of Norwalk, Connecticut, and his popular Alzi Animals project was born. Scott transforms stuffed animals into one of a kind pieces of art designed to comfort those in need of the healing powers of a smile and hope. As an extension of his dedication to help others, Scott and his friends created Silly Mr. Scott, a story designed to inspire those who may not understand what is happening to their loved ones. In this tale, the students of an elementary school class come up with ways to help their beloved art teacher stay active at school. The result is an inspirational and educational story for all ages about love and caring for those impacted by Alzheimer's disease. Scott's Alzi Animals are sought after; collectors' pieces sold to raise funds for and awareness of Alzheimer's research. Scott feels that with proper funding, this devastating disease can be conquered. Publication, 1993 State/city List of Lenders, 1979 Families of Early Milford, Connecticut Jacquelyn L. The town's history dates back to 1708 when two dozen settlers from Norwalk purchased the land from the Ramapoo Indians. Founders carved Ridgefield from the wilderness, and members of the Congregational Church designed its wide, beautiful Main Street. In the mid-1800s, families immigrated from Ireland. In the late nineteenth century, New Yorkers discovered Ridgefield to be an ideal summer place. As the town developed, Italian stonemasons and other workers arrived to build roads and sewer lines. Ridgefield has been the home of two Connecticut governors and of celebrities from the arts, sports, and entertainment fields. Stone walls still abound in Ridgefield, and the road that once roared with cannon fire ranks as one of the state's most beautiful streets.
