Riding Into Morning:

Riding to Camille Mary Buford Hitz, 2013-11-19 I have been fascinated by the backlash from Hurricane Camille in Nelson County ever since it happened August 19th 1969 How COULD 29 inches of rain fall in 5 hours which NOAA says is close to both the physical and theoretical limit of the possible In the heart of the county I care deeply about lives were eclipsed and landscapes devastated in the blink of an eye So a combination of fascination love and a too vivid imagination pulled me into writing a novel set during the backlash of Hurricane Camille These characters are fictional but what happens to them comes right out of the histories recorded at the time I am passionate about horses so naturally the horses in this book have personalities too They and their riders take off on a camping trip in the Blue Ridge Mountains ignorant of what they are riding towards A just ignited love affair between the outfitter Sam and his summer intern Lisl is a secret held from Lisl's Swiss boyfriend who has come with her for the summer but not from Sam's wife Elsie whose peculiar upbringing has left her in a self protective cocoon of apathy The guest riders bring their own anxieties pre dispositions and luckily courage Sam is a headstrong impatient leader who tangles with Lenore a writer who has come on the trip to write an article about it When Meg another guest breaks her leg the group must separate in order for Sam to get her back to civilization The storm hits and Lisl finds herself in charge of the remaining riders and horses She gets in trouble trying to rescue the horses and Elsie is presented with a terrible choice while trying to rescue Lisl When Sam catches up to them no one knows who is alive and who is dead and Sam himself is a changed man from what he has witnessed while separated from the group There isn't anyone in this story who comes out of the experience of this ride the person they were when they went into it They have witnessed horrors that will take them a lifetime to absorb and have come face to face with the knowledge of how insignificant human life is in the great scheme of geologic time

Raid on Innocence Billy H. Dean, 2011-10 Raid on Innocence In the years before the Civil War began the small town of Salinas Indiana was starting a period of growth that could turn this farming community into a small city The driving force behind the growth was the combined effort of two hard working farmers with a vision to make Salinas one of the major cities in southern Indiana William Consley raised and trained quality saddle team and workhorses for most of the farmers and businessmen in the northern half of the county He always had 30 to 40 horses on his 300 acre farm but could sometimes have as many as 10 additional that were being trained Andrew Davis had an expanding cattle business that reached out to support other businesses in the community His 1000 acres could support over 500 head of cattle that he sent to the slaughterhouse in town and then sent the hides to the tan yard to be made into leather The ice harvesting he did in the winter allowed his beef to be shipped back east to market All of his businesses provided employment for a large portion of the citizens of the community and encouraged an influx of more settlers to the town There weren't any citizens who had a stake in the slavery issue even though most of them still had strong ties to relatives in the south When war does break out only a few young men volunteer to go in the Army either North or South The community makes every attempt to avoid the war until the war came to them What happens that day will surprise and shock you and will explain what becomes of the town afterwards
