World Order, 2004 Reading the Middle Generation Anew Eric Haralson, 2006-04 Ten original essays by advanced scholars and well published poets address the middle generation of

American poets including the familiar Robert Lowell Elizabeth Bishop Randall Jarrell and John Berryman and various important contemporaries Delmore Schwartz Theodore Roethke Robert Hayden and Lorine Niedecker This was a famously troubled cohort of writers for reasons both personal and cultural and collectively their poems give us powerful moving insights into American social life in the transforming decades of the 1940s through the 1960s In addition to having worked during the broad middle of the last century these poets constitute the center of twentieth century American poetry in the larger sense refuting invidious connotations of middle as coming after the great moderns and being superseded by a proliferating postmodern experimentation This middle generation mediates the so called American century and its prodigious body of poetry even as it complicates historical and aesthetic categorizations Taking diverse formal and thematic angles on these poets biographical historical deconstructionist and more formalist accounts this book re examines their between ness and ambivalence their various positionings and repositionings in aesthetic political and personal matters The essays study the interplay between these writers and such shifting formations as religious discourse consumerism militarism and war the ideology of America as nature s nation and U S race relations and ethnic conflicts Reading the Middle Generation Anew also shows the legacy of the middle generation the ways in which their lives and writings continue to be a shaping force in American poetry This fresh and invigorating collection will be of great interest to literary scholars and poets Teaching fascinating concise history of technological progress Mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient Greece and Rome What emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution What were the causes of technological creativity Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation s creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential

The Necessary Past Annette Debo, 2024-04-15 Uncovering how poetry refigures Black history to imagine a more just present and future Poets are lyric historians proclaimed Langston Hughes Today historical poetry offers a lyric history necessary to our current moment poetry with the power to correct the past realign the present and create a more hopeful or even hoped for future The Necessary Past Revising History in Contemporary African American Poetry focuses on six of today s most celebrated poets Elizabeth Alexander Natasha Trethewey A Van Jordan Kevin Young Frank X Walker and Camille T Dungy Their works reimagine the interiority of Black historical figures like the so called Venus Hottentot Sara Baartman and the would be spelling champion MacNolia Cox the African American Native Guard who fought in the Civil War and the unknown victims of domestic violence Jack Johnson and Jean Michel Basquiat Medgar Evers and those freed and enslaved in the early nineteenth century These poets shift the power dynamic in revising our shared history reconfiguring who speaks and whose stories are told and writing a past that frees readers to change the present and envision a more just future

Fettered Genius Keith D. Leonard, 2006 In Fettered Genius Keith D Leonard identifies how African American poets use and revision of traditional poetics constituted an antiracist political agency Comparing this practice to the use of poetic mastery by the ancient Celtic bards to resist British imperialism Leonard shows how traditional poetics enable African American poets to insert racial experience racial protest and African American culture into public discourse by making them features of validated artistic expression As with the Celtic bards these poets artistry testified to their marginalized people s capacity for imagination and reason within and against the terms of the dominant culture In an ambitious survey that moves from slavery to the cultural nationalism of the 1960s Leonard examines numerous poets placing each in the context of his or her time to demonstrate the antiracist meaning of their accomplishments The book offers new insight on the conservatism of Phillis Wheatley Paul Laurence Dunbar and the genteel members of the Harlem Renaissance how their rage for assimilation functioned to refute racist notions of difference and paradoxically to affirm a distinctive racial experience as valid material for poetry Leonard also demonstrates how the more progressive and ethnically distinctive poetics of Langston Hughes Sterling Brown Gwendolyn Brooks Robert Hayden and Melvin B Tolson share some of the same ambivalence about cultural achievement as those of the earlier poets They also have in common the self conscious pursuit of an affirmation of the African American self through the substitution of African American vernacular language and cultural forms for traditional poetic themes and forms The evolution of these poetics parallels the emergence of notions of ethnic identity over racial identity and indeed in some ways even motivated this shift Leonard recognizes poetic mastery as the African American bardic poet s most powerful claim of ethnic tradition and of social belonging and clarifies the full hybrid complexity of African American identity that makes possible this political self assertion The development that is traced in Fettered Genius illustrates nothing less than the defining artistic coherence and political significance of the African American poetic tradition Humanities ,1988
