Women, Modernity, and Landscape Architecture Sonja Dümpelmann, John Beardsley, 2015-02-11 Modernity was critically important to the formation and evolution of landscape architecture yet its histories in the discipline are still being written This book looks closely at the work and influences of some of the least studied figures of the era established and less well known female landscape architects who pursued modernist ideals in their designs The women discussed in this volume belong to the pioneering first two generations of professional landscape architects and were outstanding in the field They not only developed notable practices but some also became leaders in landscape architectural education as the first professors in the discipline or prolific lecturers and authors As early professionals who navigated the world of a male dominated intellectual and menial work force they were exponents of modernity In addition many personalities discussed in this volume were either figures of transition between tradition and modernism like Silvia Crowe Maria Teresa Parpagliolo or they fully embraced and furthered the modernist agenda like Rosa Kliass Cornelia Oberlander The chapters offer new perspectives and contribute to the development of a more balanced and integrated landscape architectural historiography of the twentieth century Contributions come from practitioners and academics who discuss women based in USA Canada Brazil New Zealand South Africa the former USSR Sweden Britain Germany Austria France and Italy Ideal reading for those studying landscape history women's studies and cultural geography

Landscape Architecture, 2005

The Afterlife of Gardens John Dixon Hunt, 2013-12-15 Most books on the history of gardens describe the way that gardens have been created by contrast The Afterlife of Gardens examines the way that gardens have been experienced Using examples from many sites around the world John Dixon Hunt examines responses to gardens from Renaissance sites to Baroque creations to modern motorway landscaping Examining how a garden has been experienced extends its history beyond the physical into cultural terms and the author describes how this afterlife of gardens as they are understood and experienced by many generations is often redesigned in visitors imaginative and cultural responses The author looks at many aspects of the subject including the enigmatic Hypnerotomachia Polifili of 1499 part fictional narrative and part scholarly treatise this fascinating early narrative of garden reception paves the way for an exploration of subsequent landscapes and their reception in later periods He also looks at Italian Renaissance gardens the Picturesque the architectural and inscriptional elements of gardens the ways experiences of gardens have been recorded and the different kinds of movement within gardens from the strolling pedestrian to the motorway traveller who experiences landscapes at speed In this ambitious new book the author shows how the complete history of a garden must extend beyond the moment of its design and the aims of the designer to record its subsequent reception He raises questions about the preservation of historical sites and provides lessons for the contemporary designer who may perhaps be more attentive to the life of a work after its design and implementation This book will interest all who have a professional interest in gardens as well as the wide general audience for gardens and landscapes of past and present American Book Publishing Record ,2003 Large Parks John Beardsley,2007-07-26 Publisher description Harvard Design Magazine ,2006 Choice ,2005-09 Roberto Burle Marx Roberto Burle Marx,Sala Mendoza (Caracas, Venezuela),1997-01-01
