Media Writing Preparing Information For The Mass Media:

Media Writing Doug Newsom, James Alvin Wollert, 1988 Understanding the Newspaper Business in Nigeria Godfrey Naanlang Danaan, David Jowitt, Taye C. Obateru, 2016-09-23 This book brings together a selection of articles on newspaper writing and reporting. It represents a resource book intended to sensitize would be journalists to the arts of reporting and writing and to the ways in which newspaper readership can be sustained in the age of online messaging. It will provide students of journalism and media studies particularly in Nigeria with the skills required by newspaper journalism and is a response to the poverty of literature on newspaper journalism in Nigerian universities and colleges International Marketing Goodluck Charles, Wineaster Anderson, 2016-09-23 This volume offers an excellent understanding of international marketing theory and practice within a constantly changing and increasingly complex global environment with greater emphasis on developing countries. Designed for academics, researchers, students, practitioners and policy makers in the fields of international marketing, international business and international trade, the book provides in depth knowledge and understanding of contemporary theories and their applications in international marketing functions and practices. It exposes the readers to the global environmental forces that impact on international marketing involvement and the basic marketing strategies suitable for international marketing. As such, it will enable the reader to develop skills for effective planning, organization, execution and control of international marketing operations. While a great deal of effort has been spent on meaningfully integrating the theoretical foundations and actual business practices, various concepts are supported by compelling exhibits, industry specific examples and illustrations from developing countries. The questions at the end of each chapter are designed to test the readers' understanding and application of what they have learned in actual situations The Advertising Age Encyclopedia of Advertising John McDonough, Karen Egolf, 2015-06-18 For a full list of entries and contributors, a generous selection of sample entries and more, visit the The Advertising Age Encyclopedia of Advertising website. Featuring nearly 600 extensively illustrated entries, The Advertising Age Encyclopedia of Advertising provides detailed historic surveys of the world's leading agencies and major advertisers, as well as brand and market histories. It also profiles the influential men and women in advertising, overviews advertising in the major countries of the world, covers important issues affecting the field and discusses the key aspects of methodology, practice, strategy and theory. Also includes a color insert The Art of Video Production Leonard Shyles, 2007-02-09 The Art of Video Production emphasizes the enduring principles and essential skills of the communication process and the new digital technologies that are necessary to create effective video content. Author Leonard C. Shyles uses a unique approach by explaining how things are done and why things are done rather than just that they are done. It is not about concepts versus skills but about concepts and skills The Basics of Media Writing Scott A. Kuehn, Andrew Lingwall, CQ Press, CQ Press, 2016-12-08 The Basics of Media Writing: A Strategic Approach helps readers develop the essential writing skills and professional habits needed to succeed in the 21st century media careers This research driven strategy based media writing textbook digs deeply into how media professionals think and write in journalism public relations advertising and other forms of strategic communication Authors Scott A Kuehn and Andrew Lingwall have created two comprehensive writing models to help students overcome their problems in finding and developing story topics by giving them starting points to begin writing The Professional Strategy Triangle model shows students how to think critically about the audience the situation and the message before starting a news story or persuasive piece and the FAJA four point model asks students a series of questions about their story type Fact Analysis Judgment or Action to guide them to the right angle or organizational structure for their message Rooted in classical rhetorical methods this step by step technique enables readers to strategically approach each writing task no matter the format

International Public Relations Hugh M. Culbertson, Ni Chen, 2013-11-05

As a formal occupation public relations grew primarily in the United States through much of the twentieth century In recent years however it has spread rapidly throughout the world Broad outlines on how public relations practices differ from country to country have only recently begun to take shape in scholarly writing about the field The existing literature on international public relations tends to focus on how those working for western organizations particularly multi national corporations can best practice abroad Although useful such writings tend to focus on adaptation of western approaches not on development of new ones designed specifically for varied sociocultural settings around the world The editors have produced this book for a number of reasons There has been tremendous growth in the teaching of public relations around the world enhancing practice in many countries outside North America There has also been rapid growth in the number of professors who demand theoretical perspectives which might facilitate a unified comparative analysis across countries and regions Only a few U S universities six documented in this book now teach courses formerly called International Public Relations However many professors are going abroad to teach and do research This suggests increased interest in and a need for courses dealing with international public relations Furthermore there is a dearth of literature dealing in depth with international PR an important component of international communication This appears to be the first book length comparative analysis of public relations as practiced in various countries and regions around the world Although existing books on international PR focus largely on ways in which western practitioners employers and clients can operate effectively in other countries this volume views public relations in each country or region covered from the perspective of practitioners in that country It contains six chapters designed to provide a theoretical anchor for the 14 country and region analyses Given the intense interest in public relations education as a factor in professional enhancement it also discusses issues and practices relating to education

Social, Political, and Economic Contexts in Public Relations Hugh M. Culbertson, Dennis W. Jeffers, Donna Besser Stone, Martin Terrell, 2012-10-12 Two commissions within the Public Relations Society of America have recently defined courses in case study analysis research methods and behavioral science theory as central to an acceptable public relations curriculum To date these three streams within PR education have run independently of each other The authors produced this volume because they believe that there is a growing demand for an integrative applied theory approach to the study of public relations cases The need for PR professionals to study the social political and economic contexts of public relations carefully had been apparent for some time as issues management and environment scanning emerged as focal points of modern public relations Yet there was no systematic framework for such study This volume however with its strong foundation in theory provides just that framework and is highly suitable for graduate level courses in public relations
