practiced in 21 historical time periods ranging from prehistory to the present day Each profession is examined in a compelling essay that is specifically written to inform readers about career choices in different times and cultures and is accompanied by a bibliography of additional sources of information sidebars that relate historical issues to present day concerns as well as related historical documents Readers of this work will learn what each profession entailed or entails on a daily basis how one gained entry to the vocation training methods and typical compensation levels for the job The book provides sufficient specific detail to convey a comprehensive understanding of the experiences benefits and downsides of a given profession Selected accompanying documents further bring history to life by offering honest testimonies from people who actually worked in these occupations or interacted with those in that field

The Sounds and Colors of Power Dorothy Hosler,1994 A groundbreaking analysis of the relationship between culture and technology

Icons of Power Nicholas J. Saunders,2013-04-15 Icons of Power investigates why the image of the cat has been such a potent symbol in the art religion and mythology of indigenous American cultures for three thousand years The jaguar and the puma epitomize ideas of sacrifice cannibalism war and status in a startling array of graphic and enduring images Natural and supernatural felines inhabit a shape shifting world of sorcery and spiritual power revealing the shamanic nature of Amerindian world views This pioneering collection offers a unique pan American assessment of the feline icon through the diversity of cultural interpretations but also striking parallels in its associations with hunters warriors kingship fertility and the sacred nature of political power Evidence is drawn from the pre Columbian Aztec and Maya of Mexico Peruvian and Panamanian civilizations through recent pueblo and Iroquois cultures of North America to current Amazonian and Andean societies This well illustrated volume is essential reading for all who are interested in the symbolic construction of animal icons their variable meanings and their place in a natural world conceived through the lens of culture The cross disciplinary approach embraces archaeology anthropology and art history

Painting the Cosmos Alan Grinnell,2024-12-01 The result of decades of study Alan Grinnell s Painting the Cosmos presents the spectacular and underappreciated art of Panama and its revealing iconography Emphasizing brightly painted polychrome designs with complex iconography on myriad ceramic forms the art of Central Panama ca 200 BCE 1500 CE is highly distinctive compared to other pre Columbian cultures The book illustrates more than eight hundreds vessels in full color many of which will be unfamiliar even to pre Columbian specialists and proposes interpretations of the iconography informed by the archaeology history and ethnohistory of the region In these animistic cultures much of the iconography reflected interactions of humans with the natural world The author identifies persistent design themes that reflect the myths and beliefs of these ancient peoples Enriched by current scholarship this beautifully produced volume fills a major gap in the knowledge of and appreciation for the art and cultures of the ancient Americas It serves as both an introduction to this unique and relatively unknown culture and a resource for scholars in pre Columbian history art and culture

Behaviour Behind Bones Sharyn Jones O'Day,Wim Van Neer,Anton Ervynck,2003-12-01

This book is the first in a series of volumes which form the published proceedings of the 9th meeting of the International Council of Archaeozoology ICAZ held in Durham in 2002. The 35 papers present a series of case studies from around the world. They stretch beyond the standard zooarchaeological topics of economy and ecology and consider how zooarchaeological research can contribute to our understanding of human behaviour and social systems. The volume is divided into two parts. Part 1, Beyond Calories, focuses on the zooarchaeology of ritual and religion. Contributors discuss ways to approach questions of ritual and religion through the faunal record and consider how material culture depicting and/or associated with animals can provide clues about ideology, religious practices and the role of animals within spiritual systems. Part 2, Equations for Inequality, looks at questions of identity, status and other forms of social differentiation in former human societies. Contributors discuss how differences in food consumption, nutrition and food procurement strategies can be related to various forms of social differentiation among individuals and groups.

Colour of Paradise Kris E. Lane, 2010-03-30
Among the magnificent gems and jewels left behind by the great Islamic empires, emeralds stand out for their size and prominence. For the Mughals, Ottomans and Safavids, green was as it remains for all Muslims, the color of Paradise reserved for the Prophet Muhammad and his descendants. Tapping a wide range of sources, Kris Lane traces the complex web of global trading networks that funneled emeralds from backland South America to populous Asian capitals between the sixteenth and the eighteenth centuries. Lane reveals the bloody conquest wars and forced labor regimes that accompanied their production. It is a story of trade but also of transformations: how members of profoundly different societies at opposite ends of the globe assigned value to a few thousand pounds of imperfectly shiny green rocks.

Archaeometallurgy in Mesoamerica Aaron N. Shugar, Scott E. Simmons, 2013-01-15
Presenting the latest in archaeometallurgical research in a Mesoamerican context, Archaeometallurgy in Mesoamerica brings together up-to-date research from the most notable scholars in the field. These contributors analyze data from a variety of sites, examining current approaches to the study of archaeometallurgy in the region as well as new perspectives on the significance of metallurgy and metal objects in the lives of its ancient peoples. The chapters are organized following the cyclical nature of metals, beginning with extracting and mining ore, moving to smelting and casting of finished objects, and ending with recycling and deterioration back to the original state once the object is no longer in use. Data obtained from archaeological investigations, ethnohistoric sources, ethnographic studies, along with materials science analyses are brought to bear on questions related to the integration of metallurgy into local and regional economies, the sacred connotations of copper objects, metallurgy as specialized crafting, and the nature of mining alloy technology and metal fabrication.

The Taking and Displaying of Human Body Parts as Trophies by Amerindians Richard J. Chacon, David H. Dye, 2007-08-21
This edited volume mainly focuses on the practice of taking and displaying various body parts as trophies in both North and South America. The editors and contributors, which include Native Peoples from both continents, examine the evidence and causes of Amerindian trophy taking. Additionally, they present objectively and discuss dispassionately the topic of human proclivity toward ritual violence This book fills the gap in literature on this subject

Cobble Circles and Standing Stones Jeffrey Quilter, 2004-04 In this first person tale of archaeological adventure in the tropical forest Jeffrey Quilter tells the story of his excavation of Rivas a great ceremonial center at the foot of the Talamanca Mountain range which flourished between A D 900 and 1300 and its fabled gold filled cemetery the Pante n de La Reina Beginning with the 1992 field season and ending with the last excavations in 1998 Quilter discusses Rivas builders and users theories on chiefdom societies and the daily interactions and surprises of modern archaeological fieldwork Writing in the first person with a balance between informal language and academic theory Quilter concludes that Rivas was a ceremonial center for mortuary rituals to bury chiefly elite on the Pante n Through use of his narrative technique he provides the reader with accounts of discoveries as they occurred in fieldwork and the development of interpretations to explain the ancient refuse and cobble architecture his team uncovered As his story progresses amid the enchantment of the Costa Rican landscape research plans are adjusted and sometimes completely overturned as new discoveries often serendipitous ones are made Such changing circumstances lead to new insights into the rise and fall of the people who built the cobble circles and raised the standing stones at Rivas a thousand years ago The only book in English that focuses on a single archaeological site in Costa Rica which continues to develop as a destination for archaeological tourism Cobble Stones and Standing Circles will appeal to laypeople and professionals alike
