Establishing Creative Writing Studies as an Academic

Discipline Dianne Donnelly, 2011-11-23 This book advances creative writing studies as a developing field of inquiry scholarship and research. It discusses the practice of creative writing studies, the establishment of a body of professional knowledge, and the goals and future direction of the discipline within the academy. This book also traces the development of creative writing studies, noting that as the new discipline matures, it refers to evidence of its own research methodology and collective data and locates its authority in its own scholarship. Creative writing studies will bring even more meaning to the academy, its profession, and its student body.

The Ruse of Repair Patricia Stuelke, 2021-08-09 Since the 1990s, literary and queer studies scholars have eschewed Marxist and Foucauldian critique and hailed the reparative mode of criticism as a more humane and humble way of approaching literature and culture. The reparative turn has traveled far beyond the academy, influencing how people imagine justice, solidarity, and social change. In The Ruse of Repair, Patricia Stuelke locates the reparative turn's hidden history in the failed struggle against US empire and neoliberal capitalism in the 1970s and 1980s. She shows how feminist, antiracist, and anti-imperialist liberation movements' visions of connection across difference, practices of self-care, and other reparative modes of artistic and cultural production have unintentionally reinforced forms of neoliberal governance. At the same time, the US government and military universities and other institutions have appropriated and depoliticized these same techniques to sidestep addressing structural racism and imperialism in more substantive ways. In tracing the reparative turn's complicated and fraught genealogy, Stuelke questions reparative criticism's efficacy in ways that will prompt critics to reevaluate their own reading practices.

Tin House Win McCormack, 2014-05-27 In our increasingly mediated society, where joy is self-conscious and tweeted about as it is happening, is it possible for the genuinely ecstatic experience? From religious to chemically induced, from biochemical analysis to attempts to capture the ineffable, our issue on the ecstatic will feature poetry, fiction, and essays addressing the ecstatic and its counterparts: the comedown and ecstasy thwarted, whether by internal or external means. Tin House is a beautifully designed periodical that features the best writers of our time alongside a new generation of talent poised to become the most important voices of the future. Content includes short stories, profiles, author interviews, poetry, essays, and unique departments such as Lost and Found, in which writers review overlooked or underrated books, and Blithe Spirits and Readable Feast, which present tales and recipes for drinks and food in a literary way.

Global Powers of Horror Francois Debrix, 2016-12-19 Global Powers of Horror examines contemporary regimes of horror, their intricacies, and their deployment on and through human bodies and body parts. To track horror's work, what horror decomposes and perhaps recomposes, Debrix goes beyond the idea of the integrality and integrity of the human body and brings the focus on parts, pieces, or fragments of bodies and lives. Looking at horror's production of bodily fragments, both against and beyond humanity, the book is also about horror's own attempt at re-forming or re-creating matter from the perspective of post-human, non-human, and inhuman fragmentation. Through several contemporary instances of dismantling of human bodies and pulverization of body parts this book makes several interrelated theoretical contributions It works with contemporary post geo political figures of horror faces of concentration camp dwellers body parts of victims of terror attacks the outcome of suicide bombings graphic reports of beheadings re compositions of melted and mingled remnants of non human and human matter after 9 11 to challenge regimes of terror and security that seek to forcefully and ideologically reaffirm a biopolitics and thanatopolitics of human life in order to anchor today s often devastating deployments of the metaphysics of substance Critically enabling one to see how security and terror form a geo political continuum of violent mobilization utilization and often destruction of human and non human bodies and lives this book will be of interest to graduates and scholars of bio politics international relations and security studies Conversations with American Writers Dale Brown,2008-04-14 For years Dale Brown has interviewed American writers listening particularly for what they have to say about wrestling with the sacred in their writing In this book a follow up to his earlier collection Of Fiction and Faith Brown gives readers the opportunity to listen in on his thoughtful conversations with ten contemporary writers While many of these authors shy away from being labeled Christian writers they all have much truth to tell through their work as they struggle with expressing both faith and doubt The conversations recorded here offer a fresh dialogue on the power of art to sustain faith in unexpected ways Interviews with Eleanor Taylor Bland David James Duncan Terence Faherty Ernest Gaines Philip Gulley Ron Hansen Silas House Jan Karon Sheri Reynolds Lee Smith How to Revise a True War Story John K. Young,2017-01-15 You can tell a true war story if you just keep on telling it Tim O Brien writes in The Things They Carried Widely regarded as the most important novelist to come out of the American war in Viet Nam O Brien has kept on telling true war stories not only in narratives that cycle through multiple fictional and non fictional versions of the war s defining experiences but also by rewriting those stories again and again Key moments of revision extend from early drafts to the initial appearance of selected chapters in magazines across typescripts and page proofs for first editions and through continuing post publication variants in reprints How to Revise a True War Story is the first book length study of O Brien s archival papers at the University of Texas s Harry Ransom Center Drawing on extensive study of drafts and other prepublication materials as well as the multiple published versions of O Brien s works John K Young tells the untold stories behind the production of such key texts as Going After Cacciato The Things They Carried and In the Lake of the Woods By reading not just the texts that have been published but also the versions they could have been Young demonstrates the important choices O Brien and his editors have made about how to represent the traumas of the war in Viet Nam The result is a series of texts that refuse to settle into a finished or stable form just as the stories they present insist on being told and retold in new and changing ways In their lack of textual stability these variants across different versions enact for O Brien s readers the kinds of narrative volatility that is key to the American literature emerging from the war in Viet Nam Perhaps in this case you can tell a true war story if you just keep on revising it Tin House: Weird Science Lee Montgomery,Rob

Spillman,2013-08-20 Improbable far fetched real Today s science headlines read like futuristic tales From nanobots and neutrinos to architeuthis the real is often stranger than the most speculative sci fi In that vein the latest edition of Tin House features fiction poetry and nonfiction that go beyond the headlines into current past and future scientific explanations of reality There may even be speculative fiction if there are humans involved Tin House is a beautifully designed periodical that features the best writers of our time alongside a new generation of talent Content includes unique departments such as Lost and Found in which writers review overlooked or underrated books and Blithe Spirits and Readable Feast which present tales and literary recipes for drinks and food How White Men Won the Culture Wars Joseph Darda,2021-05-25

Reuniting white America after Vietnam If war among the whites brought peace and liberty to the blacks Frederick Douglass asked in 1875 peering into the nation s future what will peace among the whites bring The answer then and now after civil war and civil rights a white reunion disguised as a veterans reunion How White Men Won the Culture Wars shows how a broad contingent of white men conservative and liberal hawk and dove vet and nonvet transformed the Vietnam War into a staging ground for a post civil rights white racial reconciliation Conservatives could celebrate white vets as deracinated embodiments of the nation Liberals could treat them as minoritized heroes whose voices must be heard Erasing Americans of color Southeast Asians and women from the war white men could agree after civil rights and feminism that they had suffered and deserved more From the POW MIA and veterans mental health movements to Rambo and Born in the U S A they remade their racial identities for an age of color blindness and multiculturalism in the image of the Vietnam vet No one wins in a culture war except Joseph Darda argues white men dressed in army green Creativity for 21st Century Skills Jane Piirto,2011-10-23 VERY practical on target for schools today good balance of theory with anecdotal connections At first I was worried about the time involved I discovered when given 5 minutes the time is a continuation to their work in progress Realizing that creativity does not have to consume large chunks of time is more meaningful than tokens I like the tone of the writing It feels like there is a conversation going on I like the stories of famous people and how their creativity influenced and changed their lives CREATIVITY FOR 21ST CENTURY SKILLS describes what many creative people really do when they create It focuses on the practical applications of a theoretical approach to creativity training the author has developed Many suggestions for enhancing creativity focus on ideas that are over 60 years old This new approach may be helpful for those seeking to develop 21st Century Skills of creativity Five core attitudes Naivet Risk taking Self Discipline Tolerance for Ambiguity and Group Trust Seven I s Inspiration Intuition Improvisation Imagination Imagery Incubation and Insight and several General Practices the use of ritual meditation solitude exercise silence and a creative attitude to the process of life with corresponding activities are described discussed and illustrated A discussion of how to be creative within an educational institution is also included JANE PIIRTO is Trustees Distinguished Professor at Ashland University Her doctorate is in educational leadership She has worked with students pre K to doctoral level as a teacher administrator and professor She
