Wallace,2023-05-31 Ventriloquism Performance and Contemporary Art volume calls attention to the unexpected prevalence of ventriloquial motifs and strategies within contemporary art Engaging with issues of voice embodiment power and projection the case studies assembled in this volume span a range of media from painting sculpture and photography to installation performance architecture and video Importantly they both examine and enact ventriloquial practices and do so as a means of interrogating and performatively bearing out contemporary conceptions of authorship subjectivity and performance Put otherwise the chapters in this book oscillate seamlessly between art history theory and criticism through both analytical and performative means Across twelve essays on ventriloquism in contemporary art the authors who are curators historians and artists shine light on this outdated practice repositioning it as a conspicuous and meaningful trend within a range of artistic practices today This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history contemporary art media studies performance museum curatorial studies and theater A Show of Hands Ileana Parvu,2024-12-13 In contrast to the divide between conception and execution advocated by Anglo American artists in the second half of the 1960s this book reappraises conceptual art by examining it from the perspective of craft The emphasis on craft shifts the focus from the Western art system to its margins where creators were relegated to the status of mere artisans in the colonial context on the pretext that attaining that of artists was beyond their reach From this peripheral point of view the book shows that work carried out with artisanal means can lead to conceptual practice Moreover this shift in perspective provides a new understanding of several positions within conceptualism which ultimately appears as an ongoing reflection on the role of the hands making and craft Look inside The Evolution of Conceptual Art In America Kempton Mooney,2000 Warhol's Working Class Anthony E. Grudin,2017-10-20 This book explores Andy Warhol s creative engagement with social class During the 1960s as neoliberalism perpetuated the idea that fixed classes were a mirage and status an individual achievement Warhol s work appropriated images techniques and technologies that have long been described as generically American or middle class Drawing on archival and theoretical research into Warhol s contemporary cultural milieu Grudin demonstrates that these features of Warhol s work were in fact closely associated with the American working class The emergent technologies Warhol conspicuously employed to make his work home projectors tape recorders film and still cameras were advertised directly to the working class as new opportunities for cultural participation What s more some of Warhol s most iconic subjects Campbell s soup Brillo pads Coca Cola were similarly targeted since working class Americans under threat from a variety of directions were thought to desire the security and confidence offered by national brands Having propelled himself from an impoverished childhood in Pittsburgh to the heights of Madison Avenue Warhol knew both sides of this equation the intense appeal that popular culture held for working class audiences and the ways in which the advertising industry hoped to harness this appeal in the face of growing middle class skepticism regarding manipulative marketing Warhol was fascinated by these promises of egalitarian individualism and mobility which could be profound and deceptive generative and paralyzing charged with strange forms of desire By tracing its intersections with various forms of popular culture including film music and television Grudin shows us how Warhol s work disseminated these promises while also providing a record of their intricate tensions and transformations 3D Warhol Thomas Morgan Evans,2017-02-28 Rain machines alarmed kosher pickle jars filled with gemstones replica corn flakes boxes disco decor time capsules art bombs birthday presents perfume bottles and floating silver pillows that are clouds paintings that are also films museum interventions collected and curated projects expanded performance environments holograms This is a book about the vast array of sculptural work made by Andy Warhol between 1954 and 1987 a period that begins long before the first Pop paintings and ends in the year of his death In 3D Warhol Thomas Morgan Evans argues that Warhol s engagement with sculpture and traditional notions of sculpture produced trespasses his sculptural work bisected the expectations allegiances and values within art historical and ultimately social sites of investiture or territories This groundbreaking original book brings to the forefront a major but overlooked aspect of Warhol s oeuvre providing an essential new perspective on the artist s legacy Abstract Painting and the Minimalist Critiques Matthew L. Levy,2019-05-07 This book undertakes a critical reappraisal of Minimalism through an examination of three key painters Robert Mangold David Novros and Jo Baer By establishing their substantive engagements with Minimalist discourse as well as their often overlooked artistic exchanges with their sculptor peers it demonstrates that painting crucially informed the movement s development serving not only as an object of critique but also as a crucible for its most central tenets. It also poses broader disciplinary implications as it historicizes and challenges Minimalism's death of painting critiques that have been so influential to theories of modernism and postmodernism in the visual arts.

How to See a Work of Art in Total Darkness Darby English, 2010-09-24

Going beyond the blackness of black art to examine the integrative and interdisciplinary practices of Kara Walker, Fred Wilson, Isaac Julien, Glenn Ligon, and William Pope L, five contemporary black artists in whose work race plays anything but a defining role. Work by black artists today is almost uniformly understood in terms of its blackness, with audiences often expecting or requiring it to represent the race. In How to See a Work of Art in Total Darkness, Darby English shows how severely such expectations limit the scope of our knowledge about this work and how different it looks when approached on its own terms. Refusing to grant racial blackness his metaphorical total darkness primacy over his subjects, other concerns, and contexts, he brings to light problems and possibilities that arise when questions of artistic priority and freedom come into contact or even conflict with those of cultural obligation. English examines the integrative and interdisciplinary strategies of five contemporary artists: Kara Walker, Fred Wilson, Isaac Julien, Glenn Ligon, and William Pope L, stressing the ways in which this work at once reflects and alters our view of its informing context: the advent of postmodernity in late twentieth-century American art and culture. The necessity for black art comes both from antiblack racism and resistances to it from both segregation and efforts to imagine an autonomous domain of black culture. Yet to judge by the work of many contemporary practitioners, English writes, black art is increasingly less able, and black artists less willing, to maintain its standing as a realm apart. Through close examinations of Walker's controversial silhouettes, insubordinate reply to pictorial tradition, Wilson's and Julien's distinct approaches to institutional critique, Ligon's text paintings, struggle with modernisms, and Pope L's vexing performance interventions, English grounds his contention that to understand this work is to displace race from its central location in our interpretation and to grant right of way to the work's historical, cultural, and aesthetic specificity.

Staging the Archive Ernst van Alphen, 2014-11-15

Dedicated to art practices that mobilize the model of the archive, Staging the Archive demonstrates the ways in which such archival artworks probe the possibilities of what art is and what it can do. Through a variety of media, methodologies, and perspectives, the artists surveyed here also challenge the principles on which the notions of organization, evidence, and documentation are built. The earliest examples of the modern archival artwork were made in the 1930s, but only since the 1960s have artists really embraced archival principles to inform structure and shape their works. This includes practices that consist of archive construction, archaeological investigation, record keeping, and the use of archived materials, but also interrogations of the principles, claims, and effects of the archive. Staging the Archive shows how artists read the concept of the archive against the grain, questioning not only what the archive is and can be, but what materials, images, or ideas can be archived. Ernst van Alphen examines these archival artists and artworks in detail, setting them within their social, political, and aesthetic contexts. Exploring the works of Marcel Duchamp, Marcel Broodthaers,

Christian Boltanski Annette Messager Fiona Tan and Sophie Calle among others he reveals how modern and contemporary artists have used and contested the notion of the archive to establish new relationships to history information and data

Anywhere or Not at All Peter Osborne, 2013-06-04 A new reading of the philosophy of contemporary art by the author of The Politics of Time Contemporary art is the object of inflated and widely divergent claims But what kind of discourse can open it up effectively to critical analysis Anywhere or Not at All is a major philosophical intervention in art theory that challenges the terms of established positions through a new approach at once philosophical historical social and art critical Developing the position that contemporary art is postconceptual art the book progresses through a dual series of conceptual constructions and interpretations of particular works to assess the art from a number of perspectives contemporaneity and its global context art against aesthetic the Romantic pre history of conceptual art the multiplicity of modernisms transcategoriality conceptual abstraction photographic ontology digitalization and the institutional and existential complexities of art space and art time Anywhere or Not at All maps out the conceptual space for an art that is both critical and contemporary in the era of global capitalism Winner of the 2014 Annual Book Prize of the Association for the Study of the Arts of the Present USA Comic Abstraction Roxana Marcoci, 2007 Foreword by Glenn D Lowry Text by Roxana Marcoci
