The 2003-2007 Excavations in the Late Roman Fort at Yotvata Gwyn Davies, Jodi Magness, 2015-05-15 The Late Roman fort at Yotvata is located in the southern Arava some 40 km north of Eilat Aqaba ancient Aila The modern Hebrew name of the site is based on its suggested identification with biblical Jotbathah Deut 10 7 where the Israelites encamped during their desert wanderings The modern Arabic name of the site Ein Ghadian may preserve the ancient Roman name Ad Dianam Because the Late Roman fort at Yotvata is visible as a low mound next to the Arava road it has long been known to scholars Each June between 2003 and 2007 Gwyn Davies Florida International University and Jodi Magness University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill co directed excavations here This volume provides the results of those excavations adding substantially to our knowledge of Roman defenses in the third and fourth centuries of the Common Era along the trade route that traversed the southern Arava and on the eastern frontier of the Empire

Housesteads Roman Fort - the Grandest Station Alan Rushworth, 2014-02-15 Housesteads is one of the most important forts on Hadrian's Wall Extensive excavations were carried out between 1874 and 1981 by Newcastle University Combining the results with those of excavations done between 1959 and 1961 by Durham University we now have a complete plan of the north east part of the fort These excavations uncovered principally Buildings XIII XIV and XV plus stretches of rampart between the north and east gates along with a multitude of features and stratigraphic evidence revealing not only the sequences but also large finds assemblages In addition to shedding much light on the material culture of the fort's occupants and the structural and chronological relationships between various parts of the fort limited reinvestigation of Building XIV and excavation of the east end of Building XV enabled significant reinterpretation of the original conclusions reached by the Durham investigators including some redating of structures These excavations uncover the full 300 year period during which the fort formed an integral part of the Roman military frontier for much if not all of that time the base of the cohors I Tungrorum milliaria peditat

This report documents the excavations and gives full finds reports and the analysis of the evidence has enabled the authors to provide a full history of this part of the fort The Roman Fort of Vindolanda P T Bidwell,2014-06-15 This work is principally an account of excavations carried out at Vindolanda in 1980 but also reviews the available evidence for the history of the fort and vicus Early timber forts were succeeded by a stone fort in the Hadrianic period perhaps in c 122 4 Reconstruction of some interior buildings were erected in the northern part of the praetentura they are thought to have been houses accommodating a civilian work force under military control West of the fort lay a number of buildings apparently serving as a military annexe rather than civilian vicus The fort was almost entirely rebuilt in c 223 5 retaining only parts of the original west and east walls After a delay of about a decade when part of the garrison was probably posted elsewhere a double barrack block was erected in the north east corner of the fort possibly to accommodate cavalry The building underwent a number of alterations and remained in use until c 400 There are slight indications of activity on the site subsequent to that date Rebuilding of the fort in c 223 5 was accompanied by construction of an extensive vicus which was largely abandoned by the last quarter of the third century Foremost amongst the finds was a fragment of a military diploma issued to a soldier of cohorts Tungrorum There were numerous objects of iron and copper alloy A considerable quantity of pottery was recovered from a sequence of third and fourth century deposits Coin finds from the fort and vicus are compared and their significance discussed Bearsden: The Story of a Roman Fort David J. Breeze,2016-12-01 This accessible account of the discoveries at the Roman fort at Bearsden examines the process of archaeological excavation the life of the soldiers at the fort based on the results of the excavation as well as material from elsewhere in the Roman Empire The Roman Fort at Gellygaer -- The Baths John Ward,1910 Report on the Excavation of the Roman Fort at Richborough, Kent Joscelyn Plunket Bushe-Fox,1928 The Roman Fort on Hardknott, Known as Hardknott Castle ,1893 Roman Frontier Archaeology - in Britain and Beyond Nick Hodgson,Bill Griffiths,2022-11-25 Contributions by leading archaeologists and historians pay tribute to Paul Bidwell admired for his ground breaking work both in the south west and the military north of Roman Britain This collection will be essential reading for anyone with an interest in either the civil or military aspects of Roman Britain or the frontiers of the Roman empire Roman Fort ,2015-03-15 Be a fly on the wall in the time of the Romans Patrol with a windswept centurion eavesdrop on Roman nobles Candidus and Flavinus in the smelly toilets and dine at a tasty banquet These pages are packed full of up to date information about the world of the Romans from the latest archaeological discoveries With drawings notes squashed insects and messy fingerprints this book shows you history as it really happened Roman Britain Patricia Southern,2011-09-15 The most authoritative history of Roman Britain ever published for the general reader British and Irish Archaeology ,1994 A Roman Fort Fiona MacDonald,1993-09-01 Text and illustrations describe the construction of an ancient Roman fort and the lives of the soldiers who manned it in defense of the Empire Castle Park, Dunbar David R. The Wall Douglas Jackson, 2022-06-09 AD 400 Rome and its Empire are failing Veteran cavalry commander Marcus Flavius Victor sets out with his regiment to make what may be his final tour of the forts along Hadrian's Wall Through a combination of military prowess brutality and bribery Marcus has spent twenty years keeping the savage Picts at bay Feared by his enemies and hated by his superiors his strength of will is the only thing that has held the disgruntled poorly paid garrisons of the Wall in place as the failing Roman Empire's grip on Britannia weakened Yet as this tour of the wall progresses it becomes increasingly clear that this is more than a routine inspection Why is Marcus stripping the defences of cavalry to strengthen his own force Is he negotiating with the Picts or conspiring with them And who is the mysterious figure who follows Marcus every move and yet hides in the shadows Segeduno Cilurno Brocolitia Vindolanda each fort holds memories and friendships hides rivals or conceals enemies But what exactly is Marcus Flavius Victor's ultimate objective It would appear he is willing to risk bloody civil war in a bid to seize Britannia for himself Or is he raising an army to save the province from the darkness that waits on the other side of the Wall Hailed as one of our very best historical novelists Douglas Jackson returns to the world of ancient Rome with this epic novel of a failing empire and a world on the brink
