Strategic Bombing by the United States in World War II Stewart Halsey Ross, 2015-10-03 The United States relied heavily on bombing to defeat the Germans and the Japanese in World War II and air raids were touted as precision bombing in American propaganda But was precision possible over cloud covered Europe or a darkened Japanese countryside Could the vaunted Norden optical bombsight in fact drop bombs into pickle barrels as advertised Were the American aircrews well trained and well protected How good were their airplanes What were the results of the costly raids This work sets suppositions against facts surrounding the United States use of strategic bombing in World War II Chapters cover the events leading up to World War II the start of the war the seers and the planners the airplanes bombs bombsights and aircrews the planes Germany used to defend itself against American planes the five cities Hamburg Dresden Tokyo Hiroshima and Nagasaki that experienced the most destruction and the U S Strategic Bombing Survey of the damage done by aerial bombing The book also probes the government s myth building statements that supported America s view of itself as a uniquely humanitarian nation and analyzes the role played by interservice rivalry battleship admirals against bomber generals The Literature of Aeronautics, Astronautics, and Air Power Richard Hallion, 1984 B-29 Superfortress Graham M. Simons, 2012-09-19 A well written history of a history changing aircraft the bomber that carried the two atomic bombs that destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki in WWII Aeromilitaria The Boeing B 29 Superfortress was a four engined heavy bomber flown primarily by the United States in World War Two and the Korean War The name Superfortress was derived from that of its well known predecessor the B 17 Flying Fortress The B 29 was the progenitor of a series of Boeing built bombers reconnaissance aircraft trainers and tankers including the variant B 50 Superfortress The B 29 was one of the largest aircraft to see service during World War Two A very advanced bomber for its time it included features such as pressurized cabins an electronic fire control system and remote controlled machine gun turrets Though it was designed as a high altitude daytime bomber in practice it actually flew more low altitude nighttime incendiary bombing missions It was the primary aircraft in the American firebombing campaign against Japan in the final months of World War Two Unlike many other World War Two era bombers the B 29 remained in service long after the war ended with a few even being employed as flying television transmitters The type was finally retired in the early 1960s with 3 960 aircraft in all built Without doubt there is a clear strong requirement to put the record straight using primary source documentation to record the undoubted achievements alongside and in context with the shortcomings to the type s design and operation that have otherwise received scant attention The book covers all variants and is profusely illustrated
