Police Urban Policing In Canada:

Urban Policing in Canada Maurice A. Martin, 1995 In Urban Policing in Canada Maurice Martin identifies a variety of factors that exert enormous influence on contemporary police practice including traditional organization and personnel practices management by government public attitudes and the changing urban landscape In doing so he makes a compelling case for the professionalization of Canada's urban police

Police John Sewell, 1985

Urban Policing in Canada Maurice A. Martin, 1995-05-01 Martin examines the environment of policing a profoundly urban enterprise that has been greatly influenced by the pace and nature of urbanization While police continue to serve the criminal justice system well he finds that they have become less effective in carrying out the larger function of maintaining order which must be tailored to changing urban circumstances Policing still functions as a craft with its hallmark in at the bottom entry requirements and emphasis on skills attained through experience In Urban Policing in Canada Martin makes a convincing case for transforming policing into a knowledge based profession

Canada's Colonies Ken S. Coates, 1985-01-01 Acknowledgements Introduction Approaching the North 1 The Land Original Peoples and First Contacts 2 The Early Fur Trade 3 The Gold Frontier and the Klondike 4 The Doldrums in the Middle North 5 Boom and Bust in the Arctic 6 The Army's North 7 The Bureaucrats North 8 Whither the North Further Reading Index

Crisis in Canada's Policing John Sewell, Christopher J. Williams, 2021-09-07 In the summer of 2020 as the COVID 19 pandemic surged millions gathered across Canada and the United States to protest violence and racism in policing sparked by the murder of George Floyd at the hands of Minneapolis police officers In the days and weeks following the deaths of Regis Korchinski Paquet in Toronto and Chantel Moore in New Brunswick showed that police violence is also a Canadian reality Although BIPOC communities and activists had been calling for action for years these events sparked unprecedented public outrage and drew crowds in the thousands across Canada calling for the defunding of Canada's police Many authoritative reports have identified big problems in Canada's law enforcement system and have concluded that police are more likely to create or escalate violent situations than promote safety and security Why How has an institution tasked with keeping citizens safe become so dangerous to so many Canadians John Sewell has been studying the problems facing Canadian policing since the 1980s In Crisis in Canada's Policing he shines light on the origins of police culture synthesizes dozens of reports that reveal the failures of the police system in Canada and offers solutions that put power back into the hands of community leaders while reining in and reforming police organizations

Criminal Injustice Robynne Neugebauer, 2000-01-01 This volume examines racism within the process of criminal justice In every society criminal justice plays a key role establishing social control and maintaining the hegemony of the dominant economic classes The contributors to this anthology argue that the differential treatment of people of colour and First Nations peoples is due to systemic racism within all levels of the criminal justice system which serves these dominant classes Ideological and cultural changes are preconditions for the success of anti racist policies and practices within the criminal justice system and within other state institutions Recommendations for transformations in justice policy and practice are provided

Honouring Social Justice Margaret E. Beare, 2008-01-01 These essays provide an illuminating introduction to the background of important social causes and describe dedicated examples of how to effectively champion calls for social justice

Misguided Missiles Simon Rosenblum, 1985-01-01 First published in 1985 Misguided Missiles examines the intense controversies surrounding Canadian participation in the development of new weapons systems during the Reagan years Simon Rosenblum demonstrated how these weapons systems were dubious even on their own terms technically economically and strategically Deploying a tremendous depth of research the author shows how Pentagon and defence industry machinations rather than security needs explain the contemporary rise of the cruise missile and Star Wars initiatives Misguided Missiles offers a vital and immediate appreciation of one of the most contentious debates in Canadian national life in the early 1980s

Police Officer Claude L. Vincent, 1990 This insightful study provides a look at policing in Canada from the viewpoint of rank and file members of the police community This revised edition of the landmark Policeman 1979 examines police officers as an occupational culture and the way they become socialized into this stressful and often isolated community

Handbook of Posttraumatic Stress Rosemary Ricciardelli, Stephen Bornstein, Alan Hall, R. Nicholas Carleton, 2021-09-30 The Handbook of Posttraumatic Stress provides a comprehensive review of posttraumatic stress in its multiple dimensions analyzing causation and epidemiology through prevention and treatment Written by a diverse group of scholars practitioners and advocates the chapters in this book seek to understand the history the politics and the biological psychological and social processes underlying posttraumatic stress disorder PTSD Featuring studies that focus on some of the most seriously affected occupational groups the text examines topics such as how individuals experience PTSD in different work settings and the complexities of diagnosis treatment and recovery for those workers and their families Together the contributions provide an in depth examination of the current understood causes impacts and treatments of and for posttraumatic stress mobilizing academic administrative and clinical knowledge and lived experience to inform ongoing and future work in the field Drawing from range of different topics fields of study and research methods this text will appeal to readers across medical mental health and academic disciplines

Constructions of Race, Place, and Nation Peter Jackson, Jan Penrose, 1994

Canadian Urban Governance in Comparative Perspective Kristin R. Good, Building Cities that Work Edmund P. Fowler, 1993 Since 1945 North Americans have spent hundreds of billions of dollars on urban development literally transforming the landscape of the continent This development has been disastrous Edmund Fowler maintains because it is inordinately expensive destructive of the environment and disruptive of healthy social life and authentic politics Revealing the connections between our basic cultural beliefs and why we build the way we do he stresses that to build cities that work we must become aware of how our personal choices contribute to the form of the built environment

An Introduction to Comparative Legal Models of Criminal Justice Cliff Roberson, Dilip K. Das, 2016-01-15

Updated to reflect changes in the criminal justice systems in several countries An Introduction to Comparative Legal Models of Criminal Justice Second Edition explores and illustrates the idea that a country's legal model determines the character of its police corrections and legal system It focuses on how law shapes policing including how it

Policing Women Jo Turner, Helen Johnston, Marion Pluskota, 2023-11-27 Policing Women examines for the first time the changing historical landscape of women's experiences of their contact with the official state police between 1800 and 1950 in the Western world Drawing on and going beyond existing knowledge about policing practices the volume discusses how women encountered the official police how they experienced that contact and the outcomes of that contact in the modern Western world In so doing it is an original and much needed addition to the literature around changes in policing women's experiences of the criminal justice system and women's experiences of control and regulation The chapters uncover such experiences in a range of countries across Europe the USA Canada and Australia Importantly the collection focuses upon a crucial epoch in the history of policing a 150 year period when policing was rapidly changing and being increasingly placed on a formal level Bringing together scholarly work from expert contributors this unique volume draws to the fore women's experiences of policing It will be of great use to both scholars and students on undergraduate and postgraduate criminology and history courses working on the history of crime historical criminology the history of criminal justice and women's history

The Canadian Criminal Justice System Nick Larsen, 1995 The administration of justice is an area of social policy that defies attempts to achieve a balance between order and the protection of the public and respect for individual rights The media contain daily accounts of the failure of the criminal justice system to repress crime It is within this social and legal context that this work is situated In addition to including a range of articles in the standard areas of policing courts and corrections recent articles deal with such controversial issues as aboriginal justice the recruitment of visible minorities by Canadian police forces and the role of women in the Canadian criminal justice system The collection concludes with a critical assessment of the retributive model that currently serves as the philosophical underpinnings of the Canadian criminal justice system

Houses and Homes John Sewell, 1994 In the first comprehensive book on the topic since the 1970s former Toronto mayor John Sewell considers housing issues in Canada Writing in a style that is accessible and direct Sewell considers public private and social housing He looks at affordability and need discusses definitions of good housing and good neighbourhoods and examines the various approaches that governments have taken since World War II to increase the stock of reasonably priced housing He shows why these approaches have consumed large amounts of public dollars yet have often failed Indeed homelessness is a larger problem in Canadian cities than ever before In a time of shrinking public expenditures he proposes the kinds of solutions necessary to ensure that all Canadians are well housed As chair of the Metro Toronto Housing Authority in the eighties and more recently as chair of the Commission on Planning and Development Reform in Ontario Sewell has played a unique role in increasing public awareness of housing issues His thought provoking analysis will be of interest to all who believe that

Canadians deserve affordable housing      Our Shared Future Robert Christmas, Laura E. Reimer, 2020-06-23 This edited collection provides deep insights and varied perspectives of innovative and courageous efforts to reconcile the conflicts that have characterized the history of Indigenous people settlers and their descendants in Canada From the opening chapter the volume contextualizes why Canada is on a reconciliation journey and how that journey is far from over It is a multi disciplinary treatise on decolonization peacebuilding and conflict transformation that is a must read for those scholars students and practitioners of peacebuilding seeking a deeper understanding of reconciliation decolonization and community building Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars and influencers from across Canada describe positive conflict transformation through various lenses including education economics business land sharing and justice reform The authors describe their personal and professional journeys offering insights and research into how individuals and institutions are responding to reconciliation Each chapter provides readers with windows into the tangible ways that Canadians are building a peaceful shared future together      Making Good Carolyn Strange, Tina Merrill Loo, 1997-01-01 Examines the official institutions which regulated moral conduct in Canada and analyses the ways in which different social groups had distinct relationships to legal modes of regulation      A House of Prayer for All People David K. Seitz, 2017-11-01 Perhaps an unlikely subject for an ethnographic case study the Metropolitan Community Church of Toronto in Canada is a large predominantly LGBT church with a robust and at times fraught history of advocacy While the church is often riddled with fault lines and contradictions its queer and faith based emphasis on shared vulnerability leads it to engage in radical solidarity with asylum seekers pointing to the work of affect in radical coalition politics A House of Prayer for All People maps the affective dimensions of the politics of citizenship at this church For nearly three years David K Seitz regularly attended services at MCCT He paid special attention to how community and citizenship are formed in a primarily queer Christian organization focusing on four contemporary struggles debates on race and gender in religious leadership activism around police minority relations outreach to LGBT Christians transnationally and advocacy for asylum seekers Engaging in debates in cultural geography queer of color critique psychoanalysis and affect theory A House of Prayer for All People stages innovative reparative encounters with citizenship and religion Building on queer theory s rich history of subjectless critique Seitz calls for an improper queer citizenship one that refuses liberal identity politics or national territory as the ethical horizon for sympathy solidarity rights redistribution or intimacy Improper queer citizenship he suggests depends not only on good politics but also on people s capacity for empathy integration and repair
