Policing The National Body Race Gender And Criminalization:

Policing the National Body Jael Silliman, Jael Miriam Silliman, Anannya Bhattacharjee, 2002 This anthology explores the ways in which women of color are monitored criminalized and regulated Nine Degrees of Justice Bishakha Datta, 2012-12-31 From an early focus on rape dowry and sati feminist struggles against violence on women in India have traversed a wide terrain to include issues that were invisible in the 1980s In Nine Degrees of Justice second and third generation feminists share their perspectives on violence against women through a series of thought provoking essays Published by Zubaan Race, Class, and Gender in the United States Paula S. Rothenberg, 2004 Race Class and Gender in the United States An Integrated Study presents students with a compelling clear study of issues of race gender and sexuality within the context of class Rothenberg offers students 126 readings each providing different perspectives and examining the ways in which race gender class and sexuality are socially constructed Rothenberg deftly and consistently helps students analyze each phenomena as well as the relationships among them thereby deepening their understanding of each issue surrounding race and ethnicity From Black Power to Hip Hop Patricia Hill Collins, 2006-02-15 In this her groundbreaking book Patricia Hill Collins examines the new forms of racism in American life and the political responses to them Using the experiences of African American men and women as her touchstone she covers a wide range of issues that connect questions of race to American identity She follows the long arc of African American responses to racism in the US from Black Nationalism to Black feminism to hip hop Using this genealogy she then investigates how nationalism has operated and reemerged in the wake of contemporary globalization and the unexpected resurgence of nationalism She then offers an interpretation of how Black nationalism works today in the wake of changing Black youth identity and the continuing need to draw on nationalism and feminism to formulate both a response to racism and a concrete platform of political action Right to Be Hostile Erica R. Meiners, 2010-11 Offers examples and insights into the school to prison pipeline phenomenon showing how disciplinary regulations pedagogy pop culture and more not only implicitly advance but actually normalize an expectation of incarceration for urban youth Structural Violence Joshua M. Price, 2012-09-17 Challenges the notions that violence against women is synonymous with domestic violence and that violence affects all women equally Structural Violence seeks to redraw the conventional map of violence against women In order to understand violence as a fundamentally heterogeneous phenomenon it is essential to go beyond interpersonal partner violence and analyze the workings of institutional and structural violence Self help books some shelters the courts federal and state legislation empirical studies therapeutic models and even some mainstream feminist polemics presume that all women face the same kind of violence This assumption masks violence that does not conform to the imagined norm such as violence against women who are sex workers lesbians homeless and or undocumented Joshua M Prices exploration of these issues is based on several years of research involving participant observation in domestic violence courts and extensive interviews with activists advocates incarcerated women and women who have faced various forms of violence Both conceptually and methodologically the book challenges narrow notions of violence against women and demonstrates implications for judicial intervention and other forms of public involvement

Philosophy in Multiple Voices George Yancy, 2007-08-05 Philosophy in Multiple Voices invites transactional dialogue critical imagination and the desire to travel to enter those discursive spaces where the love of wisdom gets inflected through both lived embodiment and situational history The text raises significant meta philosophical questions around the issue of who constitutes the philosophical we through a delineation and valorization of multiple philosophical voices African American Afro Caribbean Asian American Feminist Latin American Lesbian Native American and Queer that set forth complex concerns around canon formation the relationship between philosophical discursive configurations and issues of gendered sexed racial and ethnic identities the dynamic of shifting philosophical historical trajectories differential philosophical visions sensibilities and philosophical praxes that are still largely underrepresented within the institutional confines of mainstream philosophy The text encourages philosophical heterogeneity as a value that ought to be nurtured

Going Stealth Toby Beauchamp, 2019-01-17 In Going Stealth Toby Beauchamp demonstrates how the enforcement of gender conformity is linked to state surveillance practices that identify threats based on racial gender national and ableist categories of difference Positioning surveillance as central to our understanding of transgender politics Beauchamp examines a range of issues from bathroom bills and TSA screening practices to Chelsea Manning's trial to show how security practices extend into the everyday aspects of our gendered lives He brings the fields of disability science and technology and surveillance studies into conversation with transgender studies to show how the scrutinizing of gender nonconformity is motivated less by explicit transgender identities than by the perceived threat that gender nonconformity poses to the U S racial and security state Beauchamp uses instances of gender surveillance to demonstrate how disciplinary power attempts to produce conformist citizens and regulate difference through discourses of security At the same time he contends that greater visibility and recognition for gender nonconformity while sometimes beneficial might actually enable the surveillance state to more effectively track measure and control trans bodies and identities

Pedagogies of Crossing M. Jacqui Alexander, 2006-01-18 A collection of essays by Alexander addressing the implications of transnational thinking for our understanding of gender sex sexuality and race

The Contemporary African American Novel E. Lâle Demirtürk, 2012-07-20 This book examines how African American novels explore instances of racialization that are generated through discursive practices of whiteness in the interracial social encounters of everyday life African American fictional representations of the city have political significance

Branded Bodies, Rhetoric, and the Neoliberal Nation-State Jennifer Wingard, 2013 Branded Bodies Rhetoric and the Neoliberal Nation State by Dr Jennifer Wingard explores how neoliberal economics has affected the rhetoric of the media and politics and how in very direct material ways it harms the bodies of some of the United States most vulnerable occupants The book is written at a moment when the promise of the liberal nation state in which the government purports to care for its citizens through social welfare programs financed by state funds is eroding Currently state policies are defined by neoliberal governmentality a form which privileges privatization and individual personal responsibility Instead of the promise of citizenship and the protections that come with it or the American Dream to use a more common euphemism the state uses certain bodies that will never be accepted as citizens as an underclass in service of capital think Guest Worker Programs And those underclassed bodies are identified through branding In order to demonstrate just how damaging branding has become Wingard offers readings of key pieces of legislation on immigration and GLBT rights and their media reception from the past twenty years By showing how brands are assembled to create affective threats Branded Bodies Rhetoric and the Neoliberal Nation State articulates how dangerous the branding of bodies has become and offers rhetorical strategies that can repair the damage to bodies caused by political branding Branded Bodies then is an intervention into the rhetorical practices of the nation state It attempts to clarify how the nation state uses brands to forward its claims of equality and freedom all the while condemning those who do not fit in to particular categories valued by the neoliberal state

Race and Epistemologies of Ignorance Shannon Sullivan, Nancy Tuana, 2012-02-01 Offering a wide variety of philosophical approaches to the neglected philosophical problem of ignorance this groundbreaking collection builds on Charles Mills's claim that racism involves an inverted epistemology an epistemology of ignorance Contributors explore how different forms of ignorance linked to race are produced and sustained and what role they play in promoting racism and white privilege They argue that the ignorance that underpins racism is not a simple gap in knowledge the accidental result of an epistemological oversight In the case of racial oppression ignorance often is actively produced for purposes of domination and exploitation But as these essays demonstrate ignorance is not simply a tool of oppression wielded by the powerful It can also be a strategy for survival an important tool for people of color to wield against white privilege and white supremacy The book concludes that understanding ignorance and the politics of such ignorance should be a key element of epistemological and social political analyses for it has the potential to reveal the role of power in the construction of what is known and provide a lens for the political values at work in knowledge practices

Making Threats Betsy Hartmann, Banu Subramaniam, Charles Zerner, 2005 Today we live in times of proliferating fears The daily updates on the ongoing war on terror amplify fear and anxiety as if they were necessary and important aspects of our reality Concerns about the environment increasingly take center stage as stories and images abound about deadly viruses alien species invasions scarcity of oil water food safety of GMOs biological weapons and fears of overpopulation Making Threats Biofears and Environmental Anxieties addresses how such environmental and biological fears are used to manufacture threats to individual national and global security Contributors from environmental studies political science international security biology sociology and anthropology discuss what they share in common the view that fears should be critically examined to avoid unnecessary alarm and scapegoating of people and nations as the enemy Other In these highly original and thought provoking essays Making Threats focuses on five themes security scarcity purity circulation and terror No other book has systematically examined the proliferation of fear in the context of current world events and from such a multidisciplinary perspective It consolidates in one place cutting edge research and reflection on how the contemporary landscape of fear shapes and is shaped by environmental and biological discourses By uncovering the linguistic tools that make fear resonate in the public consciousness by identifying the interests that create or are sustained by fears in short by giving fears histories Making Threats Biofears and Environmental Anxieties engages with some of the most potent and disturbing political and cultural aspects of the contemporary scene

Iraqi women before and after invasion and that of women living in the US How do women who define themselves as feminists resist or acquiesce to this nation state claim in current theory and organizing Feminism and War reveals and critically analyzes the complicated ways in which America uses gender race class nationalism imperialism to justify legitimate and continue war Each chapter builds on the next to develop an anti racist feminist politics that places imperialist power and forms of resistance to it central to its comprehensive analysis
