The attempts of governments of the right to implement a radically neo liberal structural policy also failed in the face of a significant social opposition. The enduring French systemic crisis is the expression of contradictions between the economic policies implemented by the successive left and right governments and the existence of a dominant social bloc that is a coalition of social groups that would politically support the dominant political strategy Since 1978 both the right and the left have failed to find a solution to the contradictions between the policies they implemented and the expectations of their respective social bases which are themselves inhabited by tensions and contradictions that evolve with the structural reforms that gradually transformed Russia's Federal Relations Elena Chebankova, 2009-12-04 The development of centre regional French capitalism relations has been at the forefront of Russian politics since the formation of the Russian state and numerous efforts have been made by the country's subsequent rulers to create a political model that would be suitable for the effective management of its vast territory and multiple nationalities. This book examines the origins underlying foundations and dynamics of the federal reforms conducted by President Putin throughout the eight years of his presidency It offers a comprehensive analysis of the nature of Russia's federal relations during this period as well as an examination of factors that led to the development of the extant model of centre regional dialogue It discusses how and why the outcomes of most domestic reforms and policies significantly vary from the initial intentions envisaged by the federal centre and argues that despite a range of positive developments the reforms resulted mainly in a redistribution of powers between the two levels of government and not in a fundamental rethinking of centre regional relations towards genuine federalism France's Long Reconstruction Herrick Chapman, 2018-01-08 Postwar recovery required a transformation of France but what form it should take remained a question Herrick Chapman charts the course of France's reconstruction from 1944 to 1962 offering insights into the ways the expansion of state power produced fierce controversies at home and unintended consequences abroad in France's crumbling Political Choice Matters Geoffrey Evans, Nan Dirk Graaf, 2013-03-28 Studies of the influence of class and religion on politics often point to their gradual decline as a result of social change Backed up by extensive evidence from 11 case studies and a 15 country pooled analysis the editors argue instead that the supply of choices by parties influences the extent of class divisions political choice matters Parties, Conflicts and Coalitions in Western Europe Moshe Maor, 2002-11 Explores the impact intraparty conflicts have on a party s coalition bargaining Focusing on the UK Denmark Norway Italy and France it analyses whether organizational imperatives of political parties feature in intraparty competition Politics of Grandeur Philip G. Cerny, 1980-03-06 De Gaulle was the first major Western leader to pursue a foreign policy designed consistently to break the vicious circle of the Cold War and the straitjacket of the nuclear balance of terror between Russia and the United States At the same time he sought to establish in France a new set of institutions designed to break another vicious circle that of the divisive conflicts between French social groups and political parties which led to weak governments and an ineffective state This book studies the link between these two aims both by examining de Gaulle s political aims and style in a political and cultural context and by looking first at French policy towards the Atlantic alliance and then at the impact of de Gaulle's foreign policy on domestic politics As a result many of the orthodox notions about de Gaulle are questioned Social and Political Movements in Western Europe Martin Kolinsky, William E. Paterson, 2025-09-12 Social and Political Movements in Western Europe 1976 discusses the ideological currents social bases and policy directions to examine the impact of social movements on European political systems and societies It looks at the nature of the relations among mass publics movements and party systems and surveys in a comprehensive manner the entire political spectrum in a geographical area Shaping Modern Times in Rural France Susan Carol Rogers, 2021-03-09 Challenging the notion that modernization is a homogenizing process Susan Rogers contends that in the course of large scale transformations communities often reproduce and strengthen distinctive cultural and social features To make this argument she focuses on the French farming community of Ste Foy during a period of rapid change 1945 75 Using ethnographic field data and archival material that she collected as a participant observer she finds an intriguing puzzle an allegedly archaic social form the ostal has become increasingly common in the community. The ostal a type of family farm organized around an extended stem family household is a variant of the stem family systems associated with preindustrial southern Europe How have Ste Foyans continued to remake this archaic mode as their community grew more prosperous and more involved in national and international markets In showing how the specific identity of a community is reproduced rather than obliterated by modernization the author reveals dialectical relationships between structure and change history and culture and the centralized nation state and regional diversity This analysis addresses anthropologists historians and scholars interested in local politics and economic development
