Abstract

This research intends for us to know what the dynamics of democratic development in Indonesia in the era of Jokowi's leadership, as we know that democracy is a system of government in which the people have the same power in the eyes of the government and are given the right to participate directly or indirectly or in legislative development, development and legislation through their representatives. In a democracy, the people are given space to issue their aspirations about the existing government in Indonesia, with the aspirations of the people that can help the development process of the Republic of Indonesia in order to create a better Indonesia. The method adopted in this study is the sklnative approach, related to the explanation that occurs in the present, in this case the dynamics of democratic development in Indonesia in the era of Jokowi's leadership. The technique used in the process of gathering facts is library search, by searching for information that is on the internet. The result of this study is that Jokowi has not been able to run democracy properly, the evidence lately there have been many oration events among the public due to the making of rules that are not in accordance with the law. And in his leadership Jokowi has not been able to optimize the economic crisis experienced by the Indonesian nation. This economic crisis resulted in the inaquacy of democracy among the lower classes, the people who could not afford it, did not get welfare in the economic field, many of them still needed help from the government to meet their needs. As a result of the economic crisis, the governments of Indonesia took the decision to make loans to other countries to cover the economic crisis that was being experienced by the Indonesian state. And from this decision that caused Indonesia to be in debt abroad.
