Blewett, 2008-12-30 In this companion volume to his 1995 bibliography of the same title Daniel Blewett continues his foray into the vast literature of military studies As did its predecessor it covers land air and naval forces primarily but not exclusively from a U S perspective with the welcome emergence of small wars from publishing obscurity In addition to identifying relevant organizations and associations Blewett has gathered together the very best in chronologies bibliographies biographical dictionaries indexes journals abstracts glossaries and encyclopedias each accompanied by a brief descriptive annotation This work remains a pertinent addition to the general reference collections of public and academic libraries as well as special libraries government documents collections military and intelligence agency libraries and historical societies and museums      Civil-Military Relations in the Islamic World Paul E. Lenze, Jr., 2016-09-30 Since the

Arab Spring militaries have received renewed attention regarding their intervention into politics of Middle Eastern and South Asian states This book examines the factors which influence military intervention and withdrawal from politics namely United States and Soviet Russian economic and military aid and how this affects democratic transitions and consolidation The militaries of Algeria Egypt Pakistan and Turkey have used nationalism to justify their interventions into politics while ensuring that withdrawal would only occur if national identity were protected This book examines important states in the Islamic World which have experienced similar historical trajectories briefly experimented with democracy and had the military become a dominant institution in the state All four countries differ in their levels of ethnic conflict importance placed on the country by the international community and internal security concerns The common result of international influence on political development however is that the military will take a keener interest in politics and be more reluctant to disengage

Armed Forces and International Security Jean M. Callaghan, Franz Kernic, 2003 Designed as a textbook and interdisciplinary reference for the social sciences this volume examines key issues in the current global security agenda and relationships between armed forces and society around the world The book's concise chapters on a broad range of themes related to national and international security military sociology and civil military relations were written by experts from 18 countries This volume also has a groundbreaking section which using country studies and regional overviews discusses civil military relations in as well as the most salient theoretical and practical features of current means of democratic control of the armed forces in the early 21st century

International Handbook of Development Economics Amitava Krishna Dutt, Jaime Ros, 2008-01-01 The essays are concise yet comprehensive and each essay contains a substantial set of references which an interested researcher or student could follow up In addition to representing multidisciplinary interactions this collection encompasses several different perspectives within development economics so the reader can learn for example both about neoclassical approaches and dependency theories in the same volume This makes the collection unique and all the more valuable This is a very good reference collection as the individual essays are informative and provide a good overall perspective on the topic that they set out to address The extensive bibliography at the end of each essay adds further value to this collection

Ashwini Deshpande Economic and Political Weekly These new volumes impress along two dimensions First they highlight important connections between economic development and variables such as culture warfare and ethnicity which are sometimes ignored by mainstream economists Second they analyze the economic development experience of different regions such as Africa Latin America and East Asia a valuable reference for scholars and practitioners in the field Highly recommended

Ruling But Not Governing Steven A. Cook,2007-05-01 Ruling But Not Governing highlights the critical role that the military plays in the stability of the Egyptian Algerian and until recently Turkish political systems This in depth study demonstrates that while the soldiers and materiel of Middle Eastern militaries form the obvious outer perimeter of regime protection it is actually the less apparent multilayered institutional legacies of military domination that play the decisive role in regime maintenance Steven A Cook uncovers the complex and nuanced character of the military s interest in maintaining a facade of democracy He explores how an authoritarian elite hijack seemingly democratic practices such as elections multiparty politics and a relatively freer press as part of a strategy to ensure the durability of authoritarian systems Using Turkey s recent reforms as a point of departure the study also explores ways external political actors can improve the likelihood of political change in Egypt and Algeria Ruling But Not Governing provides valuable insight into the political dynamics that perpetuate authoritarian regimes and offers novel ways to promote democratic change      Peacemaking in a Divided Society Sasson Sofer, 2014-06-03 This is an interdisciplinary study of Israeli society in one of the defining moments in the history of Israel The contributors discuss the critical aspects of the political order economics the military the role of the media and legal reform that are shaping a new Israel      The Arab Uprisings Explained Marc Lynch, 2014-08-05 Why did Tunisian protests following the self immolation of Mohammed Bouazizi lead to a massive wave of uprisings across the entire Arab world Who participated in those protests and what did they hope to achieve Why did some leaders fall in the face of popular mobilization while others found ways to survive And what have been the lasting results of the contentious politics of 2011 and 2012 The Arab uprisings pose stark challenges to the political science of the Middle East which for decades had focused upon the resilience of entrenched authoritarianism the relative weakness of civil society and what seemed to be the largely contained diffusion of new norms and ideas through new information technologies In this volume leading scholars in the field take a sharp look at the causes dynamics and effects of the Arab uprisings Compiled by one of the foremost experts on Middle East politics and society The Arab Uprisings Explained offers a fresh rethinking of established theories and presents a new framework through which scholars and general readers can better grasp the fast developing events remaking the region These essays not only advance the study of political science in the Middle East but also integrate the subject seamlessly into the wider political science literature Deeply committed to the study of this region and working out the kinks of the discipline the contributors to this volume help scholars and policymakers across the world approach this unprecedented historical period smartly and effectively      The Military and Colonial Destruction of the Roman Landscape of North Africa, 1830-1900 Michael Greenhalgh, 2014-05-08 The French invaded Algeria in 1830 and found a landscape rich in Roman remains which they proceeded to re use to support the constructions such as fortresses barracks and hospitals needed to fight the natives who continued to object to their presence and to house the various colonisation projects with which they intended to solidify their hold on the country and to make it both modern and profitable Arabs and Berbers had occasionally made use of the ruins but it was still a Roman and Early Christian landscape when the French arrived In the space of two generations this was destroyed just as were many ancient remains in France in part because real architecture was Greek not Roman      Globalization and the Politics of Development in the Middle East Clement Moore Henry, Robert Springborg, 2010-09-06 In this 2010 edition of their book on the economic development of the Middle East and North Africa Clement Henry and Robert Springborg reflect on what has happened to the region s economy since 2001 How have the various countries in the Middle East responded to the challenges of globalization and to the rise of political Islam and what changes for better or for worse have occurred Utilizing the country categories they applied in the previous book and further elaborating the significance of the structural power of capital and Islamic finance they demonstrate how over the past decade the monarchies as exemplified by Jordan Morocco and those of the Gulf Cooperation Council and the conditional democracies Israel Turkey and Lebanon continue to do better than the military dictatorships or bullies Egypt Tunisia and now Iran and the bunker states Algeria Iraq Libya Sudan Syria and Yemen
