Forces in the Making of the New Europe Andreas Bieler, 2001-06-26 The main argument of this book is that the revival of European integration in the mid 1980s and the emergence of a New Europe have to be analyzed against the background of globalization and the transnational restructuring of social forces since the early 1970s Globalisation and Enlargement of the European Union Andreas Bieler, 2002-11-01 On January 1 1995 Austria and Sweden joined the European Union EU This book examines why these two countries joined at such a moment and studies their accession against the structural background of globalization In this cutting edge analysis Andreas Bieler argues that conventional neo functionalist and intergovernmentalist theories fail to explain such structural change as they take existing power structures as given Therefore he develops a neo Gramscian perspective as an alternative approach to European integration The Transnational

Politics of Corporate Governance Regulation Henk Overbeek, Bastiaan van Apeldoorn, Andreas Nölke, 2007-04-30 This ambitious volume explores the politics of recent changes in corporate governance regulation and the transnational forces driving the process Corporate governance has in the 1990s become a catchphrase of the global business community The Enron collapse and other recent corporate scandals as well as growing worries in Europe about the rise of Anglo Saxon finance have made issues of corporate governance the subject of political controversies and of public debate The contributors argue that the regulation of corporate governance is an inherently political affair Given the context of the deepening globalization of the corporate world it is also increasingly a transnational phenomenon In terms of the content of regulation the book shows an increasing reliance on the application of market mechanisms and a tendency for corporations themselves to become commodities The emerging new mode of regulation is characterized by increasing informalization and by forms of private regulation These changes in content and mode are driven by transnational actors first of all the owners of internationally mobile financial capital and their functionaries such as coordination service firms as well as by key public international agencies such as the European Commission The Transnational Politics of Corporate Governance Regulation will be of interest to students and researchers of international political economy politics economics and corporate governance

The Political Economy of the European Social Model Philip Whyman, Mark Baimbridge, Andrew Mullen, 2012 This book seeks to analyse the development of the European Union EU which was founded upon the principle of the free movement of capital goods services and people in 1957 Its central thesis is that from a practical and theoretical point of view such a basis is fundamentally at odds with the creation of an interventionist regime that the construction of a social Europe would require The authors argue convincingly that economically the EU does not currently possess the budget or the economic tools to pursue such a strategy politically close to none of the institutions of the EU have backed such a policy practically conservative and neo liberal forces among member states and the institutions of the EU have repeatedly thwarted any moves in this direction In reality the Single Internal Market Economic and Monetary Union enlargement the Lisbon Agenda and European Constitution projects all prioritise supply side measures and expanding the scope of the market rather than the boosting of demand and other economic intervention Consequently constructing a social Europe in the face of this would appear problematic Hence in both theory and practice the idea that there can be a social Europe vis vis neoliberalisation is a contradiction in terms This controversial book will be an educating and refreshing read for advanced students and academics involved with European politics the European Union European Economics and Economic institutions

Learning mobility, social inclusion and non-formal education Maurice Devlin, Søren Kristensen, Ewa Krzaklewska, Magda Nico, 2017-12-01 How do we involve less advantaged young people in mobility projects and how do we engineer and implement these projects to make participation a realistic option for all This book presents the state of the art of learning mobility in the very complex and heterogeneous European youth field bringing together contributions from all over the continent The authors present empirical research findings that explore and analyse the experience of participants from a range of different backgrounds in varied learning mobility settings exchanges volunteer service camps and in diverse regions of Europe This volume addresses two interrelated questions first how learning mobility can be used as a tool for inclusion providing disadvantaged and excluded people with opportunities and assets and second how focusing on inclusion can become a more intrinsic part of learning mobility projects and initiatives The book is divided into three parts spanning the range of stages and dimensions of the learning mobility process access reach and target processes strategies and practices and effects outcomes and follow ups Relevant for those with experience but also directed to newcomers to the field this work provides an explanation of the main concepts and issues in the light of current developments in youth policy and practice in Europe Transnational Capitalism and the Struggle over European Integration Bastiaan van

Apeldoorn,2003-08-27 This book presents an analysis of the transnational social forces in the making of a new European socio economic order that emerged out of the European integration process during the 1980s and 1990s Arguing that the political economy of European integration must be put within the context of a changing global capitalism Van Apeldoorn examines how European change is linked to global change and how transnational actors mediate these changes The Unwanted Europeanness? Branislav Radeljić,2021-01-18 Can we be optimistic about the future of Europe To what extent has the European integrationist project affected the discourse about the core and the semi periphery Why does the European Union struggle with its own and the neighbouring Other These are some of the questions addressed in this thought provoking volume about the dilemmas surrounding the ever uncertain European unity A wide range of contributors have drawn upon invaluable sources and data to examine a broad selection of official discords and discrepancies characterizing the EU s relations with the Balkans East Central Europe and beyond Moreover past events have shaped present political and socioeconomic cooperation or its deficiencies with no reason to believe that these present challenges will not further influence future arrangements at a supranational or intergovernmental level Whichever the period questions of belonging solidarity and the un wanted Other have remained relevant and have continued to penetrate discussions In addition to complementing the existing analyses of European developments the present findings are of great relevance for researchers policymakers and general readership In fact they are essential if we want to see Europe develop Labour Euroscepticism: Italian and Irish Unions' Changing Preferences Towards the EU Darragh Golden,2025-02-06 This book addresses the re emergence of labour Euroscepticism Comparing fifty years of Italian and Irish unions changing preferences towards the EU from1950 2015 Labour Euroscepticism sheds light on why unions stances towards European integration changed over time Of critical contemporary importance is unions capacity to locally police increasingly transnational labour markets Hence the book points to labour politics in general and different industrial relations systems in particular as being critical to better understanding the growing Euroscepticism of unions and workers Darragh Golden posits that the likelihood of unions continuing support for European integration is contingent on their coping mechanisms in a transnational labour market This book shows that labour Euroscepticism has sociological rather than ethno culturalist roots By drawing on in depth empirical research the book thus goes beyond methodological nationalism and culturalist explanations both prevalent in current scholarship on European integration

Overpromising and Underperforming? Peter Graefe, Julie Simmons, Linda A. White, 2013-01-08 Public reporting has been used experimentally in federal provincial relations since the mid 1990s as an accountability mechanism to promote policy effectiveness intergovernmental cooperation and democratic legitimacy Our understanding of how well it is working however remains limited to very specific policy sectors even though this information is essential to policy makers in Canada and beyond Overpromising and Underperforming offers a deeper analysis of the use of new accountability mechanisms paying particular attention to areas in which federal spending power is used This is the first volume to specifically analyse the accountability features of Canadian intergovernmental agreements and to do so systematically across policy sectors Drawing on the experiences of other federal systems and multilevel governance structures the contributors investigate how public reporting has been used in various policy fields and the impact it has had on policy making and intergovernmental relations

Multi-Level Governance and European Integration Liesbet Hooghe, Gary Marks, 2002-05-30 European politics has been reshaped in recent decades by a dual process of centralization and decentralization At the same time that authority in many policy areas has shifted to the supranational level of the European Union so national governments have given subnational regions within countries more say over the lives of their citizens At the forefront of scholars who characterize this dual process as Multi level governance O Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks argue that its emergence in the second half of the twentieth century is a watershed in the political development of Europe Hooghe and Marks explain why multi level governance has taken place and how it shapes conflict in national and European political arenas Drawing on a rich body of original research the book is at the same time written in a clear and accessible style for undergraduates and non experts

The Elgar Companion to the European Union Samuel B.H. Faure, Christian Lequesne, 2023-01-20 Constituting a major contribution to literature on the EU this comprehensive Companion analyses the structure and value of the EU capturing the normality of its politics alongside crises and political breakdown

Migrant Politics and Mobilisation Davide Pero, John Solomos, 2013-09-13 In recent years immigration and the integration of migrants and minorities have become politicised in public and policy debates in Britain the rest of Europe and the United States In such debates migrants are commonly treated as objects of politics and spoken in terms of management national interest control and contention This treatment has characterised not only policy makers and politicians but also many academics Existing scholarly research on migrants as subjects of politics is limited and largely carried out through detached and structural approaches These approaches have focused on the institutional environments in which mobilisations develop They have however overlooked migrants conditions experiences subjectivities and practices as well as the focus of their engagement This volume contributes to the study of migrants mobilisation through theoretically informed original empirical papers focusing on current forms and aspects of migrants and minorities practices of citizenship in an engaged and people centred manner In particular the book addresses issues of change both in the forms assumed by migrants and minorities political engagements and in the transformations these engagements produce as well as exclusion inclusion dynamics that migrants experience with regard to the political process and more generally This book was previously published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies Europe Since 1945 Mary Fulbrook, 2001 This text brings home the waves of transformation that have washed across Europe in the second half of the 20th century sketching out general patterns of this change and exploring some of the local themes and variations in parts of Europe
