The Routledge Companion to Surrealism Kirsten Strom, 2022-11-08 This book provides a conceptual and global overview of the field of Surrealist studies Methodologically the companion considers Surrealism s many achievements but also its historical shortcomings to illuminate its connections to the historical and cultural moment s from which it originated and to assess both the ways in which it still shapes our world in inspiring ways and the ways in which it might appear problematic as we look back at it from a twenty first century vantage point Contributions from experienced scholars will enable professors to teach the subject more broadly by opening their eyes to aspects of the field that are on the margins of their expertise and it will enable scholars to identify new areas of study in their own work by indicating lines of research at a tangent to their own The companion will reflect the interdisciplinarity of Surrealism by incorporating discussions pertaining to the visual arts as well as literature film and political and intellectual history

Art and Laughter Sheri Klein,2006-11-22 This is the first book to take seriously though not too seriously the surprisingly neglected role of humour in art Art and Laughter looks back to comic masters such as Hogarth and Daumier and to Dada Surrealism and Pop Art asking what makes us laugh and why It explores the use of comedy in art from satire and irony to pun parody and black and bawdy humour Encouraging laughter in the hallowed space of the gallery Sheri Klein praises the contemporary artist as clown often overlooked in favour of the role of artist as serious commentator and takes us on a tour of the comic work of Red Grooms Cary Leibowitz The Hairy Who Richard Prince Bruce Nauman Jeff Koons William Wegman Vik Muniz and many more She seeks out those rare smiles in art from the Mona Lisa onwards and highlights too the pleasures of the cute the camp and the downright kitsch

Cinema in the Digital Age Nicholas Rombes,2017-12-19 Have digital technologies transformed cinema into a new art or do they simply replicate and mimic analogue film based cinema Newly revised and expanded to take the latest developments into account Cinema in the Digital Age examines the fate of cinema in the wake of the digital revolution Nicholas Rombes considers Festen 1998 The Blair Witch Project 1999 Timecode 2000 Russian Ark 2002 and The Ring 2002 among others Haunted by their analogue pasts these films are interested not in digital purity but rather in imperfection and mistakes blurry or pixilated images shaky camera work and other elements that remind viewers of the human behind the camera With a new introduction and new material this updated edition takes a fresh look at the historical and contemporary state of digital cinema It pays special attention to the ways in which nostalgia for the look and feel of analogue disrupts the aesthetics of the digital image as well as how recent films such as The Social Network 2010 and The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo 2011 both shot digitally have disguised and erased their digital foundations The book also explores new possibilities for writing about and theorizing film such as randomization

The End of Cool Japan Mark McLelland, 2016-07-22 Today's convergent media environment offers unprecedented opportunities for sourcing and disseminating previously obscure popular culture material from Japan. However, this presents concerns regarding copyright ratings and exposure to potentially illegal content which are serious problems for those teaching and researching about Japan. Despite young people's enthusiasm for Japanese popular culture, these concerns spark debate about whether it can be judged harmful for youth audiences and could therefore herald the end of cool Japan. This collection brings together Japan specialists in order to identify key challenges in using Japanese popular culture materials in research and teaching. It addresses issues such as the availability of unofficially translated and distributed Japanese material, the emphasis on adult themes, violence, sexual scenes, and under-age characters, and the discrepancies in legislation and ratings systems across the world. Considering how these issues affect researchers, teachers, students, and fans in the US, Canada, Australia, China, Japan, and elsewhere in Asia, the contributors discuss the different ways in which academic and fan practices are challenged by local regulations. Illustrating from personal experience the sometimes fraught nature of teaching about cool Japan, they suggest ways in which Japanese Studies as a discipline needs to develop clearer guidelines for teaching and research, especially for new scholars entering the field. As the first collection to identify some of the real problems faced by teachers and researchers of Japanese popular culture, as well as the students over whom they have a duty of care, this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Japanese Studies and Cultural Studies.

Women of the Underground: Art Zora von Burden, 2012-11-20 It is not about provocation, reaction, or even invocation; it is about transformation, mentally and physically. Marina Abramovic, artist. Art is subjective, and if one sees something in an image, that projection is a reflection of the spectator who sees what he or she wants to see, whose critique is relevant to him or herself, exposing his or her own perversions. Irina Ionesco, artist. Until the late twentieth century, women's creative skills were relegated to craft and decorative arts, valued only for utilitarian purposes in service to others and the manufacturing of products to benefit society. After enduring the great injustice of being denied the freedom that self-expression brings through art for the joy of the human spirit, Women of the Underground: Art celebrates those female cultural innovators who are creating new artwork that pushes boundaries, dares to question, and redefines the genres of mixed media, theater, film, photography, and visual, conceptual, and performance art. In this groundbreaking anthology that will inspire artists and everyone interested in alternatives to mainstream culture, as well as serve as a reference book for art historians, twenty-six female artists describe their ideas, beginnings, influences, and creative techniques. Contains interviews with Lady Pink, Marina Abramovic, Orlan, Aleksandra Mir, Penny Arcade, Johanna Went, the Guerrilla Girls, and many others. Editor Zora von Burden was born and raised in San Francisco, California. A frequent contributor to The San Francisco Herald, von Burden also wrote the screenplay for Geoff Corder's underground cult classic film Hotel Hopscotch. Juxtapoz, 2008. Garb Parme P. Giuntini, Kathryn Hagen, 2008. Garb: A Reader on Fashion and Culture investigates the complexity of postmodern attitudes toward dress, fashion, identity and culture through a broad range of perspectives and theoretical approaches. Diverse essays show the richness of the field as authors from various disciplines explore the significance of fashion and fashion visual culture in the contemporary world. Four hours of filmed interviews accompany the reader and include personal stories from emerging designers and seasoned professionals. GARB essays and interviews address contemporary topics such as Gender Identity Consumption Style and Visual Culture. Includes essays from professionals or academics in Art History Literature Fashion Illustration Folklore English and more. Offers a broad range of perspectives that encourage readers to think beyond their specific fields and reflect on the relationship between dress fashion identity and culture. Four hours of filmed interviews support the essays and include conversations with emerging designers and seasoned professionals. Includes provocative insights into the field as designers comment on the future of fashion the increasing globalization of the industry and the price that many are willing to pay to maintain their artistic independence. Provides a forum for sharing complex personal histories and ideas and offers readers career advice and real world experiences from those working in the field. Professionals and those new to the fashion industry.
