Dept. of Architecture, 2000 Post Partum Document a multi media artwork made by American artist Mary Kelly from 1973 1978 was informed by and contributed to contemporaneous debates in the fields of Conceptualism feminism and psychoanalysis throughout the seventies This dissertation addresses the project's debate specificity. The conventional art historical categorization and analysis of an artwork one based upon its medium specificity was a mode of modernist criticism that Kelly's work specifically interrogated What therefore distinguished Post Partum Document from other artworks of its period was an interrogation of the discursive site i e a specific site of debate grounded within a given discourse Within the practice of art Post Partum Document begs us to think of the discursive site as a displacement of the material site It s multimedia status thus indicates the manner in which it simultaneously addressed guestions of aesthetics semiotics film psychoanalysis and activism within the visual field Previous studies have engaged Post Partum Document primarily as an example of psychoanalytically informed feminist art My dissertation traces its original debate within the broader history of Conceptualism feminism and psychoanalysis in Britain followed by its American reception in the eighties at which point PostPartum Document became a model for feminist critical Feminist Art and the Maternal Andrea Liss, 2009 Feminist motherhood is a surprisingly unexplored subject In art practice fact feminism and motherhood have been often thought of as incompatible Profound provocative and innovative Feminist Art and the Maternal is the first work to critically examine the dilemmas and promises of representing feminist motherhood in contemporary art and visual culture Andrea Liss skillfully incorporates theory with passionate personal reflections on the maternal and in doing so she advances a fresh and necessary perspective on both feminism and art Mary Kelly ,1994

They are importantly often objects that in their materiality bear traces of actions of something having been Through the associative pathways that these objects have paved she discusses her experiences with the losses she has undergone her family s migrations and what it means to be a childless woman This leads her to address the question of what will become of her storied objects and the memories attached to them when she is no longer in existence This memoir offers an interdisciplinary approach to collecting and compiling fragments of one s life paying close attention to the evocative objects that embody us In doing so these essays explore loss memory childlessness longing family history literature and art theory through material entities which reveal the immaterial things at the heart of this study This book is sure to be of interest to anyone stimulated by memory work and the relationship between humans and their possessions Recording Reality, Desiring the Real Elizabeth Cowie, 2011 Addressing the paradox of documentary Art In Its Time Paul Mattick, 2003-12-08 Art In Its Time takes a close look at the way in which art has become integral to the everyday ordinary life of modern society It explores the prevalent notion of art as transcending its historical moment and argues that art cannot be separated from the everyday as it often provides material to represent social struggles and class to explore sexuality and to think about modern industry and our economic relationships Systems We Have Loved Eve Meltzer, 2013-07-02 By the early 1960s theorists like L vi Strauss Lacan Foucault and Barthes had created a world ruled by signifying structures and pictured through the grids of language information and systems Artists soon followed turning to language and its related forms to devise a new conceptual approach to art making Examining the ways in which artists shared the structuralist devotion to systems of many sorts Systems We Have Loved shows that even as structuralism encouraged the advent of conceptual art it also raised intractable problems that artists were forced to confront Considering such notable art figures as Mary Kelly Robert Morris Robert Smithson and Rosalind Krauss Eve Meltzer argues that during this period the visual arts depicted and tested the far reaching claims about subjectivity espoused by theorists She offers a new way of framing two of the twentieth century s most transformative movements one artistic one expansively theoretical and she reveals their shared dream or nightmare of the world as a system of signs By endorsing this view Meltzer proposes these artists drew attention to the fictions and limitations of this dream even as they risked getting caught in the very systems they had adopted The first book to describe art s embrace of the world as an information system Systems We Afterimages Laura Mulvey, 2019-11-15 Marking a return Have Loved breathes new life into the study of conceptual art for Laura Mulvey to questions of film theory and feminism as well as a reconsideration of new and old film technologies this urgent and compelling collection of essays is essential reading for anyone interested in the power and pleasures of moving images Its title Afterimages alludes to the dislocation of time that runs through many of the films and works it discusses as well as to the way we view them Beginning with a section on the theme of woman as spectacle a shift in focus leads to films from across the globe directed by women and about women all adopting radical cinematic strategies Mulvey goes on to consider moving image works made for art galleries arguing that the aesthetics of cinema have persisted into this environment Structured in three main parts Afterimages also features an appendix of ten frequently asked questions on her classic feminist essay Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema in which Mulvey addresses questions of spectatorship autonomy and identity that are crucial to our era today Renegotiating the Body Kathy Battista, 2012-11-20 What makes art feminist art Although feminist artists do have a unique aesthetic there can be no essential feminist aesthetic argues Kathy Battista in this exciting new art history Domesticity the body its traces and sexuality have become prominent themes in contemporary feminist practice but where did these preoccupations begin and how did they come to signify a particular type of art Kathy Battista's re engagement with the founding generation of female practitioners centres on 1970s London as the cultural hub from which a new art practice arose Emphasising the importance of artists including Bobby Baker Anne Bean Catherine Elwes Rose English Alexis Hunter Tina Keane Hannah O Shea Kate Walker and Silvia Ziranek and examining works such as Mary Kelly's Post Partum Document Judy Clark's 1973 exhibition Issues Carolee Schneemann's Meat Joy and Cosey Fanni Tutti s Prostitution shown in 1976 Kathy Battista investigates some of the most controversial and provocative art from the era This book not only deals with the famous art events but includes analysis of lesser known exhibitions and performances and explains why so much feminist art has been both marginalised in art history and grossly under represented in institutional archives and collections Theories and Documents of Contemporary Art Kristine Stiles, Peter Selz, 2012-09-25 An essential text in the field of contemporary art history it has now been updated to represent 30 countries and over 100 new
