Cinema and Modernity John Orr, 1993-12-08 This book discusses the complex relation between modernity and cinema drawing particularly upon the European and American cinema during the second half of the twentieth century Orr attempts to rethink the relation of film making to the contemporary world challenging many of the critical complacencies of post modernism and offering a fresh perspective upon the development of the modern cinema

Ukrainian Cinema Joshua First, 2015-01-06 Ukrainian Cinema Belonging and Identity during the Soviet Thaw is the first concentrated study of Ukrainian cinema in English In particular historian Joshua First explores the politics and aesthetics of Ukrainian Poetic Cinema during the Soviet 1960s 70s He argues that film makers working at the Alexander Dovzhenko Feature Film Studio in Kiev were obsessed with questions of identity and demanded that the Soviet film industry and audiences alike recognize Ukrainian cultural difference The first two chapters provide the background on how Soviet cinema since Stalin cultivated an exoticised and domesticated image of Ukrainians along with how the film studio in Kiev attempted to rebuild its reputation during the early Sixties as a centre of the cultural thaw in the USSR The next two chapters examine Sergei Paradjanov's highly influential Shadows of Forgotten Ancestors 1965 and its role in reorienting the Dovzhenko studio toward the auteurist some would say elitist agenda of Poetic Cinema In the final three chapters Ukrainian Cinema looks at the major works of film makers Yurii Illienko Leonid Osyka and Leonid Bykov among others who attempted and were compelled to bridge the growing gap between a cinema of auteurs and concerns to generate profit for the Soviet film industry

R|EVOLUTIONS Jennifer Craig, Warren Steele, 2009-03-26 Can art change the world Or can art produce new knowledge that facilitates radical change in our slowly evolving communities If so then we must ask How does cultural transformation whether super or slight affect our understanding of culture and the world Operating under the rubric of resistance and reform R EVOLUTIONS Mapping Culture Community and Change is a unique scholarly collection that seeks to illuminate current understandings of art aesthetics and the revolutionary impulse The resulting work interrogates intersections between culture and community revolution and evolution At the same time it examines how enduring social issues intertwine with current concerns such as representations of the body or the book Multidisciplinary in approach topics run from subversive uses of the body in Renaissance drama to the effect of the atom bomb on postmodern culture From Mark Wallinger s Turner Prize winning performance in a bear suit to Angela Carter s concept of sexual multiplicity in The Passion of New Eve Cutting edge and politically engaging R Evolutions will appeal to general readers as well as the specialist and it is designed for scholars not only interested in issues of cultural production but also in the evolution of politics and perception over time

Proust at the Movies Martine Beugnet, Marion Schmid, 2017-07-28 Film established itself as an artistic form of expression at the same time that Proust started work on his masterpiece A la recherche du temps perdu If Proust apparently took little interest in what he described as a poor avatar of reductive mimetic representation the resonances between his own radical reworking of writing styles and the novelistic forms and cinema as the art of time are undeniable Proust at the Movies is the first study in English to consider these rich interconnections Its introductory chapter charts the missed encounter between Proust and the cinema and addresses the problems inherent in adapting his novel to the screen The following chapters examine the various cinematic responses to A la recherche du temps perdu attempted to date Luchino Visconti and Joseph Losey s failed attempts at adapting the whole of the novel in the 1970s Volker Schlöndorff s Un Amour de Swann 1984 Raoul Ruiz s Le Temps retrouvé 1999 Chantal Akerman s La Prisonnière in La Captive 2000 and Fabio Carpi s Quartetto Basileus 1982 and Le Intermittenze del cuore 2003 The last chapter tracks the echoes of Proust s writing in the work of various directors from Abel Grace to Jean Luc Godard The approach is multidisciplinary combining literary criticism with film theory and elements of philosophy of art Special attention is given to the modernist legacy in literature and film with its distinctive aesthetic and narrative features An outline of the history and recent evolution of contemporary art cinema thus emerges a cinema where the themes at the heart of Proust s work memory time perception are ceaselessly explored

Anamnesia Peter Collier, Anna Magdalena Elsner, Olga Smith, 2009 Memory has always been crucial to French literature and culture as a means of mediating the relationship between perception and knowledge of the individual coming to terms with his identity in time. Relatively recently memory has also emerged as the key force in the creation of a collective consciousness in the wider perspective of French cultural history. This collection of essays selected from the proceedings of a seminar on Memory given by Dr Emma Wilson at the University of Cambridge offers a fresh evaluation of memory as both a cultural and an individual phenomenon in modern and contemporary French culture including literature, cinema and the visual arts.

Anamnesia the book's title develops the Aristotelian concept of anamnesis, recollection as a dynamic and creative process which includes forgetting as much as remembering, concealment as much as imagination. Memory in this extremely diverse range of essays is therefore far from being presented as a straightforward process of recalling the past but emerges as the site of research and renegotiation of contradictions and even aporia.

The Aesthetics of Culture in Buffy the Vampire Slayer Matthew Pateman, 2015-03-21. On the TV screen as elsewhere there is often more than meets the eye. For decades television has offered not just entertainment but observations subtle and otherwise on society. This book examines the cultural commentary contained in Buffy the Vampire Slayer, a show that ran for seven seasons, 1997-2003, and 144 episodes. On the surface Buffy is the marriage of a high school drama to gothic horror. This somewhat unusual vehicle is used to present via the character of Buffy fairly typical views of late 20th century culture: teenage problems, issues regarding a broken home and the search for meaning and validation. In addition, subtler themes such as cultural views of knowledge, ethnicity and history are woven into the show's critique of popular culture. Organized into two sections, this volume offers an in-depth examination of the show first through the lens of Buffy's confrontation with culture and second from the complex perspectives of the individual characters. Issues such as values, ethical choices and the implications of one's actions are discussed without ever losing sight of the limitations of a medium that will always be dominated by financial concerns. The final chapter summarizes what Buffy has to say about today's society. An appendix lists Buffy episodes in chronological order.

The Cinema of Roman Polanski John Orr, Elżbieta Ostrowska, 2006. Roman Polanski is one of the great maverick figures of world cinema with a long career starting in Poland with his short films of the 1950s and running through to the present with Oliver Twist. This collection highlights the bold and dazzling diversity of his work as well as recurrent themes and obsessions.

Indefinite Visions Beugnet Martine Beugnet, 2017-07-07. Moving image culture seems to privilege the instantly identifiable, the recognizable face, the well-timed stunt, the perfectly synchronized line of dialogue. Yet perfect in focus, visibility does not come naturally to the moving image and if there is one visual effect the eye of the camera can record better than the human eye it is blur. Looking beyond popular media to works of experimental cinema and video art, this groundbreaking collection addresses the aesthetics and politics of moving images in states of decay, distortion, indistinctness and fragmentation. A range of international scholars examines what is at stake in these images: sometimes radical foregrounding of materiality and mediation or of evanescence and spectrality as well as their challenging of the dominant position accorded to legible images How have artists and filmmakers rendered the indefinite image and what questions does it pose With a range of approaches from aesthetics to phenomenology to production studies the authors in this volume investigate techniques themes and concepts that emerge from this wilful excavation of the moving image s material base

The Dictionary of Human Geography Derek Gregory, Ron Johnston, Geraldine Pratt, Michael Watts, Sarah Whatmore, 2011-09-23 THE DICTIONARY OF HUMAN GEOGRAPHY Even better than before the Dictionary is an essential tool for all human geographers and over the years has provided an invaluable guide to the changing boundaries and content of the discipline No one can afford to be without this fifth edition Linda McDowell University of Oxford From explanations of core concepts and central debates to lucid discussions of the theories driving contemporary research this is the best conceptual map to the creative and critical thinking that characterises contemporary human geography The fifth edition belongs on the bookshelf of all serious students Gerard Toal Virginia Tech With an exceptional balance between breadth and depth this is undoubtedly a timely and ground breaking revision of the Dictionary An outstanding accomplishment of the editors and contributors and a comprehensive and essential reference for any student or scholar interested in human geography Mei Po Kwan Ohio State University I can t imagine life without it Definitive detailed yet accessible there s still no single volume reference work in the field to rival it Noel Castree University of Manchester The Dictionary of Human Geography represents the definitive guide to issues and ideas methods and theories in human geography Now in its fifth edition this ground breaking text has been comprehensively revised to reflect the changing nature and practice of human geography and its rapidly developing connections with other fields The major entries not only describe the development of concepts contributions and debates in human geography but also advance them Shorter definitional entries allow quick reference and coverage of the wider subject area Changes to the fifth edition include entries from many new contributors at the forefront of developments in the field and over 300 key terms appearing for the first time It features a new consolidated bibliography along with a detailed index and systematic cross referencing of headwords The Dictionary of Human Geography continues to be the one guidebook no student instructor or researcher in the field can afford to be without

Playing with the Past Matthew Wilhelm Kapell, Andrew B.R. Elliott, 2013-10-24 Game Studies is a rapidly growing area of contemporary scholarship yet volumes in the area have tended to focus on more general issues With Playing with the Past game studies is taken to the next level by offering a specific and detailed analysis of one area of digital game play the representation of history The collection focuses on the ways in which gamers engage with play with recreate subvert reverse and direct the historical past and what effect this has on the ways in which we go about constructing the present or imagining a future What can World War Two strategy games teach us about the reality of this complex and multifaceted period Do the possibilities of playing with the past change the way we understand history If we embody a colonialist s perspective to conquer primitive tribes in Colonization does this privilege a distinct way of viewing history as benevolent intervention over imperialist expansion The fusion of these two fields allows the editors to pose new questions about the ways in which gamers interact with their game worlds Drawing these threads together the collection concludes by asking whether digital games which represent history or historical change alter the way we today understand history itself The Contemporary American Survival Film Cassice Last,2025-04-17 The Contemporary American Survival Film investigates and breaks down the contemporary American Survival Film from Cast Away onwards focusing on film television literature and video games In the contemporary and highly popular American survival film a lone figure is lost trapped or stuck Whether a desert island cramped canyon floating raft or the Alaskan tundra the space cuts the characters off from their loved ones communication technologies transport or a means of escape The sun burns flesh the dry air dehydrates the lack of food starves the snow chills bodies and the sharp rocks pierce limbs This book examines this survival space across film television video games literature and online asking four questions Firstly what does the post 2000s survival space look and behave like how is it new or distinct Secondly the natural environment seems to hold all the power How responsible is the setting for triggering narrative events does the character have any agency at all Thirdly the environment damages the human body How does this corporeal destruction interact with the notion of a specifically American fleshiness of the American survivor Finally could would one ever willingly choose to enter the survival space and why How is this survival space employing rejecting and reworking past rubrics Mountains Figured and Disfigured in the English-Speaking World Françoise Besson,2020-06-01 The essays in this book written by poets novelists mountain climbers and academics from all over the world evoke the representation of mountains in the English speaking world as artists writers philosophers or mountain climbers have represented them from the sixteenth to the twenty first centuries From the Alps to the Pyrenees from Mount Fuji to Mount Shasta from the Himalayas to the Scottish Highlands from Ikere in Nigeria to Devil s Tower in the United States from Uluru in Australia to the most northern mountain of the Arctic the shapes of the world speak the same language and tell the world its own story This interdisciplinary book weaving together mountaineering literature philosophy painting cinema ecology history palaeontology geography geopolitics toponymy law religion and myth invites people to an innovative reading of mountains it reveals the close relationship existing between the shapes of the world and all forms of writing and at the same time it shows how the representations of the imagination may be instrumental in protecting the natural world The story told by the landscape inscribes a broken line in the shapes of the world tearing the landscape like a fragile page whenever historical and political events wars mining or deforestation leave scars in the landscape but writers and artists representations of mountains constitute a path to awareness as they are not only a painting of beauty but an image of our link to nature and a warning as well For centuries the image of the mountain has conveyed a symbolism telling the story of human thought and this book shows to what extent literature and art play an essential part in our awareness of nature Mourning Films Richard Armstrong,2012-09-18 The first in depth study of its subject this book seeks to account for a type of modernist film that revolves around bereavement Identifying the roots of the genre in classical melodrama and horror cinema and tracing perennial themes and aesthetic devices through to the European and American intellectual melodramas of the postwar decades the book provides a taxonomy of characteristics In the course of detailed case studies the book deploys the film theory of Gilles Deleuze and Daniel Frampton while making use of Freudian psychoanalysis and present day grief counseling theory In making its case for the new genre the book reflects upon the ways in which the very notion of genre has in the post classical period responded to changing exhibition patterns the rise of domestic spectatorship and the proliferation of Web based film literature

Inert Cities Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, Christoph Lindner, 2014-10-01 We usually associate contemporary urban life with movement and speed But what about those instances when the forms of mobility associated with globalized cities the flow of capital people labor and information freeze or decelerate How can we assess the value of interruption in a city What does valuing stillness mean in regards to the forward march of globalization When does inertia presage decay and when does it promise immanence and rebirth Bringing together original contributions by international specialists from the fields of architecture photography film sociology and cultural analysis this cutting edge book considers the poetics and politics of inertia in cities ranging from Amsterdam Berlin Beirut and Paris to Beijing New York Sydney and Tokyo Chapters explore what happens when photography film mixed media works architecture and design intervene in public spaces and urban communities to disrupt speed and growth both intellectually and or practically and question the degree to which mobility is aspirational or imaginary absolute or transient Together they encourage a re assessment of what it means to be urban in an unevenly globalizing world to live in cities built around mythologies of perpetual progress
