Los seres humanos construimos sentido y significado a través de las historias que nos contamos a nosotros mismos o a otros sobre nuestra experiencia. En la Terapia Narrativa Basada en la Atención Plena entendemos el proceso terapéutico como una conversación entre terapeuta y paciente que facilita la evolución de los significados narrativos. Para el caso de la depresión esos significados están contruidos en torno a la pérdida y la autodesvalorización. Terapeuta y paciente conversan desde la narrativa inicial del paciente sobre el argumento dominante de su historia. Y lo hacen desde diferentes perspectivas. Desde una perspectiva de primera persona trabajando con las emociones o las sensaciones corporales la valoración biográfica o el autodiálogo interno. Desde una perspectiva de segunda persona cuando lo que trae el consultante es un duelo, una descalificación en las relaciones o algo que tiene que ver con la relación terapéutica. Y desde una perspectiva de tercera persona cuando lo que el paciente trae es una historia de sufrimiento anclada en las metanarrativas sociales o culturales dominantes que sostienen la desvalorización de la persona. La terapeuta ayuda a desarrollar ese trabajo con una actitud personal basada en la atención plena y entrena simultáneamente al consultante en esa misma actitud. De esa forma la consultante puede ir contactando con su intención de traer la atención a la experiencia presente con aceptación libre de reacciones y de críticas de aquello que surja.
