Queer Nations Marginal Sexualities In The Maghreb:

Queer Nations Jarrod Hayes, 2000-04 The Maghreb Morocco Algeria Tunisia has been inhabited for millennia by a heterogeneous populace However in the wake of World War II when independence movements began to gain momentum in these French colonies the dominant national discourses attempted to define national identities by exclusion One rallying cry from the 1930s was Islam is my religion Arabic is my language Algeria is my fatherland In this incisive postcolonial study Jarrod Hayes uses literary analysis to examine how Francophone novelists from the Maghreb engaged in a diametric nation building project Their works imagined a diverse nation peopled by those who were excluded by the dominant political discourses especially those who did not conform to traditional sexual norms By incorporating representations of marginal sexualities sexual dissidence and gender insubordination Maghrebian novelists imagined an anticolonial struggle that would result in sexual liberation and envisioned nations that could be defined and developed inclusively Queering

Transcultural Encounters Luis Navarro-Ayala, 2018-08-10 In a highly original and interdisciplinary work bridging French and Francophone studies cultural studies media studies and gender and sexuality studies Luis Navarro Ayala examines the transnational queer body as a physical and symbolic entity intrinsically connected with space Through a transcultural and intersectional approach to bodily representations socioeconomic conditions and postcolonial politics Navarro Ayala analyzes queerness and Frenchness in narratives from North Africa and Latin America revealing that Frenchness is coded to represent a sexually deviant Other France and Frenchness in two distinct regions of the global South have come to represent an imagined queer space enabling sexual exploration even in social conditions that would have otherwise prevented queer agency Out in Public Ellen Lewin, William L. Leap, 2009-03-30 Out in Public addresses and engages us in the new and exciting directions in the emerging field of lesbian gay anthropology The authors offer a deep conversation about the meaning of sexuality subjectivity and culture Affirms the importance of recognizing gay and lesbian social issues within the arena of public anthropology Explores critical concerns of gay activism in a variety of global settings from the U S the European Union Singapore Nigeria India Nicaragua and Guadalajara Offers a unique focus on the politics of being gay and lesbian in cross cultural perspective Deals with broad ranging issues that affect human sexuality and human rights globally Winner of the 2009 Ruth Benedict Prize in the category of Best Anthology Futures of Comparative Literature Ursula K

Heise, 2017-03-27 Futures of Comparative Literature is a cutting edge report on the state of the discipline in Comparative Literature Offering a broad spectrum of viewpoints from all career stages a variety of different institutions and many language backgrounds this collection is fully global and diverse The book includes previously unpublished interviews with key figures in the discipline as well as a range of different essays short pieces on key topics and longer in depth pieces It is divided into seven sections Futures of Comparative Literature Theories Histories Methods Worlds Areas and Regions Languages Vernaculars Translations Media Beyond the Human and contains over 50 essays on topics such as Queer Reading

Human Rights Fundamentalism Untranslatability Big Data Environmental Humanities It also includes current facts and figures from the American Comparative Literature Association as well as a very useful general introduction situating and introducing the material Curated by an expert editorial team this book captures what is at stake in the study of Comparative Literature today Francophone Literature as World Literature Christian Moraru, Nicole Simek, Bertrand Westphal, 2020-06-25 Francophone Literature as World Literature examines French language works from a range of global traditions and shows how these literary practices draw individuals communities and their cultures and idioms into a planetary web of tension and cross fertilization The Francophone corpus under scrutiny here comes about in the evolving markedly relational context provided by these processes and their developments during and after the French empire The 15 chapters of this collection delve into key aspects moments and sites of the literature flourishing throughout the francosphere after World War II and especially since the 1980s from the French Hexagon to the Caribbean and India and from Qu bec to the Maghreb and Romania Understood and practiced as World Literature Francophone literature claims with particular force in the wake of the litt rature monde debate its place in a more democratic world republic of letters where writers critics publishers and audiences are no longer beholden to traditional centers of cultural authority Women, Gender, and the Palace Households in Ottoman Tunisia Amy Aisen Kallander, 2013-09-01 In this first in depth study of the ruling family of Tunisia in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Kallander investigates the palace as a site of familial and political significance Through extensive archival research she elucidates the domestic economy of the palace as well as the changing relationship between the ruling family of Tunis and the government thus revealing how the private space of the palace mirrored the public political space Instead of viewing the period as merely a precursor to colonial occupation and the nation state as emphasized in precolonial or nationalist histories this narrative moves away from images of stagnation and dependency to insist upon dynamism Kallander explains She delves deep into palace dynamics comparing them to those of monarchies outside of the Ottoman Empire to find persuasive evidence of a global modernity She demonstrates how upper class Muslim women were active political players exerting their power through displays of wealth such as consumerism and philanthropy Ultimately she creates a rich view of the Husaynid dynastic culture that will surprise many and stimulate debate and further research among scholars of Ottoman Tunisia Women Empowerment and the Feminist Agenda in Africa Musingafi, Maxwell Constantine Chando, Hungwe, Chipso, 2023-10-24 This book argues that African women s lived experiences are often spoken about authoritatively by people who are not included within this demographic relegating these women to the role of spectators in their own stories The dominant narratives of African womanhood legitimized by intellectual discourse are neither written by African women nor Africans in general This book seeks to place feminism in Africa into its historical context by revisiting the experiences practices vision and theories of feminism and gender in Africa It is intended to serve as a comprehensive introduction to the field and provide a starting point for further and more advanced study of the nexus of feminism gender and development in Africa Women Empowerment and the Feminist Agenda in Africa is designed to initiate post graduate research and studies in the social sciences for directed and critical inquiry into the nature of feminist and gender politics and power relations in Africa It is written for researchers academics and advanced tertiary studies although professional gender and feminist organizations especially those in Africa or focusing on Africa will also find a wealth of information The book is recommended for university libraries post graduate students and staff the non governmental community in Africa women movement organizations in Africa independent researchers and academics and the African community at large

Virgin Envy Jonathan A. Allan, Cristina Santos, Adriana Spahr, 2016-11-15 Virginity is of concern here that is its utter messiness At once valuable and detrimental normative and deviant undesirable and enviable Virginity and its loss hold tremendous cultural significance For many female virginity is still a universally accepted condition something that is somehow bound to the hymen whereas male virginity is almost as elusive as the G spot we know it s there it s just we have a harder time finding it Of course boys are virgins queers are virgins some people reclaim their virginities and others reject virginity from the get go So what if we agree to forget the hymen all together Might we start to see the instability of terms like untouched pure or innocent Might we question the act of sex the very notion of relational sexuality After all for many people it is the sexual acts they don't do or don't want to do that carry the most abundant emotional clout Virgin Envy is a collection of essays that look past the vestal virgins and beyond Joan of Arc From medieval to present day literature the output of HBO Bollywood and the films of Abdellah Ta a or Derek Jarman to the virginity testing of politically active women in Tahrir Square the writers here explore the concept of virginity in today's world to show that ultimately virginity is a site around which our most basic beliefs about sexuality are confronted and from which we can come to understand some of our most basic anxieties paranoias fears and desires

Sexuality and Social Justice in Africa Marc Epprecht, 2013-07-11 The persecution of people in Africa on the basis of their assumed or perceived homosexual orientation has received considerable coverage in the popular media in recent years Gay bashing by political and religious figures in Zimbabwe and Gambia draconian new laws against lesbians and gays and their supporters in Malawi Nigeria and Uganda and the imprisonment and extortion of gay men in Senegal and Cameroon have all rightly sparked international condemnation However much of the analysis has been highly critical of African leadership and culture without considering local nuances historical factors and external influences that are contributing to the problem Such commentary also overlooks grounds for optimism in the struggle for sexual rights and justice in Africa not just for sexual minorities but for the majority population as well Based on pioneering research on the history of homosexualities and engagement with current lgbti and HIV AIDS activism Marc Epprecht provides a sympathetic overview of the issues at play and a hopeful outlook on the potential of sexual rights for all

The Colonial Art of Demonizing Others Esther Lezra, 2014-03-21 The Colonial Art of Demonizing Others examines European mistranslations and misrepresentations of black freedom dreams and self activity as monstrous in the period of modern imperial consolidation roughly from 1750 to 1848 This book argues that Europe s archives of self understanding are haunted by the traces of Black radical resistance Just as Europe s economy came to depend upon the raw materials markets and labor it secured from the colonies European culture came to be based on fantasies and phobias derived from the unruly and unmanageable aftershocks of colonial violence and counter insurgency Rather than assert that European nationalist and abolitionist discourses are on the side of emancipatory movements the book shows the limits of the promise of that discourse and the continuation of those limitations that makes the continued pursuit of that promise a questionable activity This book does not wish to salvage the emancipatory promises of European discourse but considers the more difficult and uncomfortable question of why emancipatory movements represented the struggles of anticolonial and radical blackness the way they did The Colonial Art of Demonizing Others privileges the political reading not only of literary texts but also of historical documents and visual culture

Algeria Revisited Rabah Aissaoui, Claire Eldridge, 2017-03-09 On 5 July 1962 Algeria became an independent nation bringing to an end 132 years of French colonial rule Algeria Revisited provides an opportunity to critically re examine the colonial period the iconic war of decolonisation that brought it to an end and the enduring legacies of these years Given the apparent centrality of violence in this history this volume asks how we might re imagine conflict so as to better understand its forms and functions in both the colonial and postcolonial eras It considers the constantly shifting balance of power between different groups in Algeria and how these have been used to re fashion colonial relationships Turning to the postcolonial period the book explores the challenges Algerians have faced as they have sought to forge an identity as an independent postcolonial nation and how has this process been represented The roles played by memory and forgetting are highlighted as part of the ongoing efforts by both Algeria and France to grapple with the complex legacies of their prolonged and tumultuous relationship This interdisciplinary volume sheds light on these and other issues offering new insights into the history politics society and culture of modern Algeria and its historical relationship with France

Representing Algerian Women Edward John Still, 2019-01-14 This monograph explores the ways in which canonical Francophone Algerian authors writing in the late colonial period 1945 1962 namely Kateb Yacine Mohammed Dib Mouloud Feraoun Mouloud Mammeri and Assia Djebar approached the representation of Algerian women through literature The book initially argues that a masculine domination of public fields of representation in Algeria contributed to a postcolonial marginalization of women as public agents. However, it crucially also argues that the canonical writers of the period, who were mostly male, both textually acknowledged their inability to articulate the experiences and subjectivity of the feminine Other and deployed a remarkable variety of formal and conceptual innovations in producing evocations of Algerian femininity that subvert the structural imbalance of masculine symbolic hegemony. Though it does not shy from investigating those aspects of its corpus that produce ideologically conditioned masculinist representations, the book chiefly seeks to articulate a shared reluctance concerning representativity, a pessimism regarding the revolution's capacity to deliver change for women, and an omnipresent subversion of masculine subjectivity in its canonical texts.

LGBT Transnational Identity and the Media Christopher Pullen, 2012-02-29 Offering a critical introduction into LGBT lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender transnational identity in the media, this book examines performances and representations within documentary and fiction-oriented texts. An interdisciplinary approach is put forward, revealing new potentials for non-western queer identity.

Sensuous Cinema Kaya Davies Hayon, 2018-08-09 Sensuous Cinema: The Body in Contemporary Maghrebi Film examines a cluster of recent films that feature Maghrebi French people and position corporeality as a site through which subjectivity and self/other relations are constituted and experienced. These films are set in and between the countries of the Maghreb, France, and to a lesser degree, Switzerland, and often adopt a sensual aesthetic that prioritizes embodied knowledge, the interrelation of the senses, and the material realities of emotional experience. However, despite the importance of the body in these films, no study to date has taken corporeality as its primary point of concern. This new addition to the Thinking Cinema series interweaves corporeal phenomenology with theological and feminist scholarship on the body from the Maghreb and the Middle East to examine how Maghrebi French people of different genders, ethnicities, sexualities, ages, and classes have been represented corporeally in contemporary Maghrebi and French cinemas. Via detailed textual and phenomenological analyses of films such as Red Satin (Amari, 2002), Exiles (Gatlif, 2004), Couscous (Kechiche, 2007), and Salvation Army (Taïeb, 2014), Kaya Hayon Davies conveys the pivotal role that corporeality plays in articulating identity and the emotions in these films.

New Voices of Muslim North-African Migrants in Europe Cristián H. Ricci, 2019-08-26 New Voices of Muslim North African Migrants in Europe captures the experience in writing of a fast-growing number of individuals belonging to migrant communities in Europe. The book follows attempts to transform postcolonial literary studies into a comparative translingual and supranational project. Cristián H. Ricci frames Moroccan literature written in European languages within the ampler context of borderland studies. The author addresses the realm of a literature that has been practically absent from the field of postcolonial literary studies, i.e., Neerlandophone or Gay Muslim literature. The book also converses with other minor literatures and theories from Sub-Saharan Africa, as well as Asians and Latinos in the Americas, that combine histories of colonization, labor migration, and enforced exile.
