Quest For Christa T:

The Quest for Christa T. Christa Wolf, 1979-11 When The Quest for Christa T was first published in East Germany ten years ago there was an immediate storm bookshops in East Berlin were given instructions to sell it only to well known customers professionally involved in literary matters at the annual meeting of East German Writers Conference Mrs Wolf's new book was condemned Yet the novel has nothing explicit to do with politics

Memory and Narrative James Olney, 1998 At a time when the memoir has never been more popular Memory and Narrative presents an account of how the weave of life writing has altered over time to arrive at its present form James Olney tells the story of an evolving literary form that originated in the autobiographical writings of St Augustine underwent profound and disruptive changes in Jean Jacques Rousseau's life writing trilogy and found its momentary conclusion in the body of Samuel Beckett's work Among other issues Olney considers the rejection of the pronoun I by many post Rousseau writers the uses of narrative in the works of Beckett Franz Kafka and the sculptor Alberto Giacometti and the role of literary memory in light of recent memory work from a variety of scientific disciplines Giambattista Vico Henry Adams Gertrude Stein Richard Wright and Christa Wolf are some of the many writers examined in this monumental study

The Poetics of the Kunstlerinroman and the Aesthetics of the Sublime Evy Varsamopoulou, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 This study of the poetics of the Romantic Kunstlerinroman female artist novel brings to the foreground its salient metafictional discourse on the aesthetics of the sublime ever since its beginnings in Madame de Staël's Corinne ou l'Italie. The book presents detailed readings of HD's Palimpsest, Christa Wolf's Nachdenken über Christa T and Marguerite Duras's L'Amant in a dialogue with Kant, Freud, Lacan, Cixous, Derrida and other philosophers, theorists, literary critics and writers. Each novel is explored in terms of its generic affiliations, its reflections on the role of literature and the writer in society and its aesthetic discourse on the sublime. The book stages an inquiry into the relation between genre, the sublime, gender and literary history from which emerge insights into the conditions of subjectivity underlying the experience and communication of the sublime.

Women in German Yearbook Women in German Yearbook, 2001-09-01. The articles in Women in German Yearbook 7 demonstrate the breadth and originality of feminist scholarship in German studies. Contributors draw on recent theoretical work in literary criticism, sociology, philosophy and psychology in analyses of works from the Baroque Age to the present. Myra Love confronts the paranormal, a hitherto unexplored aspect of Christa Wolf's writings. Mother figures in the novels of Ingeborg Drewitz are analyzed by Monika Shafi in the light of recent feminist work on mothering. In a study of Baroque writers, Ute Brandes begins to document women's influence on a developing bourgeois public sphere before the Age of Reason. Kay Goodman translates into English and introduces a letter by Bettina von Arnim that underscores von Arnim's appeal to contemporary feminists. In concluding essays, British scholar Ricarda Schmidt surveys recent trends in German feminist criticism. Sarah Lennox draws on her experience as an American Germanist to suggest directions for meaningful, socially engaged feminist scholarship. In response to the rapid unification of Germany, a special section of the volume is devoted to the literature and society of the former German Democratic Republic after the Wende, turning point. It includes original pieces by prize-winning writers Helga Knigsdorf, Angela Krauss and Waldtraut Lewin, as well as critical articles by literary scholar Eva Kaufmann and sociologist Irene Dilling, all from the former GDR. Dinah Dodds contributes an interview with writer Helga Schütz and Gisela Bahr shares excerpts from her diary of winter 1989/1990 in Berlin. Concluding the volume, Dorothy Rosenberg evaluates works on women in the former GDR published since the fall of the Berlin wall.

Mimetic Desire Jeffrey Adams, Eric Williams, 1995. Reconsideration of the phenomenon of narcissism in the works of a number of important German writers. This important collection of essays opens new psychological perspectives on writers such as Tieck, Goethe, Freud, Thomas Mann, Heidegger and Thomas Bernhard. Psychological approaches to literature have grown rapidly in the last few decades, new developments in literary psychoanalysis mirroring the reassessment of Freud in the psychoanalytic community. Particularly important revisions have come both from the Lacanian school and from the field of object relations and self psychology. The latter studies narcissism not only as a pathological condition but as a healthy and universal aspect of all psychological reality. Theorists such as Heinz Kohut have also suggested that the transformations of narcissism can be healthy and may contribute to the development of wisdom, humour and creativity. The articles in this volume consider the phenomenon of narcissism across a wide range of works, several reflecting the current re-evaluations of narcissism as a counter challenge to Freudian thought and attitudes

T. Christina E. Seagren, 1992 Genders 22 Ellen E. Berry, 1995-07 The epidemic of mass rape in the former Yugoslavia has illustrated once again and in particularly brutal fashion the inextricable relationship between national politics sexual politics and body politics The nexus of these three forces is highly charged in any culture at any time in history but especially so among cultures in which rapid even cataclysmic changes in material realities and national self conceptions are eroding or overwhelming previously secure boundaries The postcommunist moment in the so called Second World Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union has dramatically exposed the opportunities and dangers that arise when the political cultural and economic foundations of a society are de and then re structured Gender roles and relations expressions of sexuality or attempts to recontain them representations of the body especially the female body and the larger cultural meanings it assumes are particularly marked sites to witness the performance of complex national dramas of crisis and change This groundbreaking volume turns its attention to the Second World specifically to such subjects as the birth of the sex media and porn industry in Russia Russian women and alcoholism cinema in post communist Hungary patriotism and gender in Poland sexual dissidence in Eastern Europe and women in the former Yugoslavia go to the Genders website

Margaret Atwood and the Female Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams, 2017-03-02 Examining Margaret Atwood's work in the context of the complex history of the Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams explores how the genre has been appropriated by women writers in the second half of the twentieth century She demonstrates that Atwood's early work her own coming of age fiction including unpublished works as well as The Edible Woman Surfacing and Lady Oracle both engages with and works against the paradigms of identity which are traditionally associated with the genre Making extensive use of unpublished manuscripts in the Atwood Collection at the University of Toronto McWilliams uncovers influences that shaped Atwood's fashioning of identity in her early novels paying particular attention to Atwood's preoccupation with survival as a key symbol of Canadian literature culture and identity She also considers the genre's afterlife on display in Cat's Eye The Robber Bride Alias Grace The Blind Assassin and Moral Disorder in which the formulations of selfhood and identity in Atwood's early fiction are revisited and developed Atwood emerges as a writer who self consciously invokes and then undercuts the traditions of the Bildungsroman a turn that may be read as a means of at once interrogating and perpetuating the form McWilliams's book furthers our understanding of subjectivity in Atwood's fiction and contributes to ongoing conversations about the role gender and cultural contexts play in reframing generic boundaries
