Language, Corpora, and Technology in Applied Linguistics Muhammad Afzaal, Swaleha Bano Naqvi, Geng Qiang, 2023-11-27 As culture and society has become more digitalized especially when computer science and digital technologies have entered a new era in the twenty first century translation studies began to utilize a wide range of tools to enhance its reading of texts and contexts without which translation both as a practice and as a theorization could barely persist It has become more apparent that two extreme poles between macro and micro visions have formed the diversified terrains of translation studies On the one hand technologies like NLP topic modeling network analysis and data visualization make distant reading become possible thus allowing us to have a paradigmatic view of how human s ideas beliefs values knowledge and even emotions have spread in some patterns across cultural geographical and language divides in world history On the other hand corpus methods such as the use of keywords collocates and concordance lines changed the way by which texts were closely read from linear to vertical With microscope like corpus tools we could go deeper into the texture for perception of nuanced meaning While considering a fact that translation is seldom mono modal in conveying meaning we have to reconceptualize context as a multimodal environment where audio visual and other resources interact to convey and make meaning With regard to the fast development of digital technology translation studies take an active role in gaining an enhanced capability in promoting transformation Complexity has been favored in terms of theoretical framework and methodology New questions are asked old ones revisited with novel tools but more areas wait to be cultivated and more questions to be approached by combining quantitative and qualitative methods We could ask if digital technologies would bring new innovation to study of translation history a heavily walled land for traditional humanists who tend to repeat so what to question the less significance of data driven studies The idea of high quality machine translation has become so realistic in today s market that translation educators have to face the shock wave it brought to translation learners and practitioners and rethink the relation between human translators and algorithms Machine translation assisted communication could help remove boundaries for better communication but at the same time it also creates conflicts and leads to confrontation Thus understood it is imperative to give a concerned attention to digital translation studies that is to study translation by resorting to and drawing on the digital

Hayes,Rebecca S. Fallon,Matthew D. Noble,2012-05 Explains everything you need to know about living with a pacemaker ICD or CRT device By an experienced cardiologist a cardiac device specialist and a patient What Kind of Death Govert den Hartogh,2022-10-31 Many books have been published about physician assisted death This book offers a comprehensive and in depth examination of that subject but it also extends the discussion to a broader range of end of life decisions including suicide palliative care and sedation until death In every jurisdiction that has laws permitting some kind of physician assisted death a central point of controversy is whether such assistance should only be available to dying patients or to everyone who wants to end his life The right to determine the manner and time of one s own death however does not necessarily mean that physicians should be permitted to cooperate in ensuring a quick and peaceful death In this book Govert den Hartogh considers the fundamental and practical matters including concrete issues of legal regulation related to end of life decision making He proposes a two tiered system Everyone should have access to humane means of ending his life if his decision to end it is voluntary well considered and durable But doctors should only participate in a joint action of ending the patient s life on his request if they also are convinced of acting in the patient s best interests in particular by ending intolerable and unrelievable suffering And perhaps there is reason to restrict that second service to dying patients The whole argument however depends on the extent to which in both tiers of the system we can design legal safeguards that will enable us to trust judgments about the requesting person s request and about his suffering The book considers much new evidence in regard to this issue What Kind of Death will appeal to researchers and advanced students working in bioethics applied ethics philosophy of law and health law Medical Image Computing and Computer Assisted Intervention - MICCAI
