

Mental Health Module Quick Reference Guide

Purpose

The TIER Mental Health module comprises four pathways, or trainings. These pathways aid educators in implementing evidence-based practices for mental health within a multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS) framework.

Pathway	Objectives
 Supporting Student Mental Health Within MTSS	This pathway establishes the need for student mental health supports and introduces four components for promoting mental health and well-being that can be integrated within MTSS. Participants learn the current context of student mental health, the relationship between student mental health and successful student outcomes, and important elements for supporting mental health for all students, staff members, and caregivers.
 Social and Personal Competencies	"social and personal competencies" refers to the ways that students and adults learn to manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions. In this pathway, participants gain a better understanding of how teaching and developing social and personal competencies can improve the learning environment in schools and improve outcomes for all students. Participants also examine how to implement social and personal competencies within MTSS.

A Practical Guide to the Evaluation of Child Physical Abuse and Neglect Angelo P. Giardino, Michelle A. Lyn, Eileen R. Giardino, 2010-06-09 As we near the 50th anniversary of the landmark article by C Henry Kempe and his colleagues entitled The Battered Child Syndrome which ushered in the modern era of professional attention by pediatricians and other child health professionals we have reason for both celebration and concern We can take heart that over the recent ve decades a great deal of professional attention focused on the problem of child abuse and neglect In every state of the country there are mandatory repo ing laws that require nurses physicians and social workers to report suspicions of maltreatment to the appropriate authorities for investigation The act of repo ing provides legal immunity to the reporter except when performed in bad faith Progress in understanding the factors that place children at risk for harm from ph ical abuse and neglect now permits prevention and intervention The peer reviewed literature dealing with child abuse and neglect has proliferated with high quality work being done and reported on the many dimensions related to the epidemi ogy mechanism treatment and prognosis of child maltreatment Efforts are being directed toward developing an evidence based approach to the prevention of child abuse and neglect These are some of the positives However negatives exist and remain reasons for concern Despite a tremendous amount of attention to the problem of maltreatment there are at least 3 million reports of suspected child abuse and neglect made annually with nearly 1 million cases being substantiated
