C. Fleming, Alan O'Day, 2011-07-06 Charles Stewart Parnell 1846-1891 wrote remarkably little about himself but he has attracted the attention of many writers politicians and scholars both during his lifetime and ever since His controversial and provocative role in Irish and British affairs had him vilified as a murderer in The Times and afterwards dramatically vindicated by the Westminster Parliament. It cast him as a romantic hero to the young James Joyce and a self-serving opportunist to the journalists of the Nation. Parnell has been the subject of court cases, parliamentary enquiries and debates, journalism, plays, poems, literary analysis and historical studies. For the first time, all these have been collected, catalogued and cross-referenced in one volume, an invaluable resource for scholars of late nineteenth-century Ireland and Britain. Divided into fifteen chapters, including a biographical sketch, the volume contains information on manuscript and archival collections, printed primary sources, Parnell's writing, Parnell's speeches in the House of Commons and outside Parliament, contemporary journalism, contemporary writing and contemporary illustrations on Irish affairs, and a substantial list of scholarly work, including biographies, books, articles, chapters and theses. This volume offers readers a clear record of the substantial material already available on Parnell and, in doing so, offers resources to future research in this area.

The Charge is Murder Vince Kelly, 1965. Collection of murder cases includes The Human Vulture describing the role of an Aboriginal tracker named George in solving the case of the disappearance and brutal murder of a young woman from Rosewood, Qld, in the 1920s.

The Monster in the Loch Alanna Knight, 1999-06. When Annie leaves Edinburgh to deliver a valuable goblet to Castle Roy in the Scottish Highlands, her life is in great danger.

Empirical Lisa Gorton, 2019-07-01. The third poetry collection by Lisa Gorton, one of a small number of Australian writers who have won major literary awards for both poetry and fiction. Lisa Gorton began writing Empirical when the Victorian Government of the time threatened to cut an eight-lane motorway through the heart of Royal Park in Melbourne. She walked repeatedly in the park, seeking to understand how the feeling for place originates and how memory and landscape fold in and out of each other. The poems exploring this feeling for place are followed by a sequence which recreates the colonial history of Royal Park through the gathering of fragments from newspapers, maps and pictures, a different way of asserting its value by demonstrating how a landscape can conceal the history of country beneath its layers of time. From this close-up study, in its second part, the collection opens out into poems which meditate on ancient statues, Rimbaud's imperial panoramas, the making of Coleridge's poem Kubla Khan, the exhibition galleries of Crystal Palace, tracking through chains of influence and a phantasmagoric procession of images, the trade between empire, commodities and dreams of elsewhere. Empirical follows a deluxe promenade of thought in which landscapes are mirrored and refracted in the contemporary Baroque style for which Gorton is renowned. Praise for Gorton's second poetry collection Hotel Hyperion. A sustained and complex exploration of how outer and inner worlds connect of how to approach and address what we see of the shapes and disfigurements of memory of the links between dream hallucination reality and being It is replete with persistent transformative crystallisations Sydney Review of Books In her poems we see briefly behind us cities but her focus is on the human sphere and within its circle the mind and within that art Mascara Literary Review
