

Central Asia - Road Journey

A photograph of a winding asphalt road that curves through a deep, arid mountain valley. The steep, rocky slopes are sparsely covered with dry, yellowish-brown vegetation. In the distance, more rugged mountain peaks are visible under a clear, bright blue sky. The overall scene conveys a sense of a long, scenic road journey through a high-altitude region.

Rubia And Central Asia By Road:

Unravelling the Silk Road Christopher Alexander, 2023-06-15 Three textile roads tangle their way through Central Asia The famous Silk Road united east and west through trade Older still was the Wool Road of critical importance when houses made from wool enabled nomads to traverse the inhospitable winter steppes Then there was the Cotton Road marked by greed colonialism and environmental disaster At this intersection of human history fortunes were made and lost through shimmering silks life giving felts and gossamer cottons Chris Aslan who has spent fifteen years living and working in the region expertly unravels the strands of this tangled history and embroiders them with his own experiences of life in the heart of Asia The Deserts of Central Asia Mikhail Platonovich Petrov, 1966

Chemicals and Methods for Conservation and Restoration Johannes Karl Fink, 2017-06-15 Before the 1970s most information concerning the conservation and restoration of paintings wood and archaeological artefacts were focused on the history of the artefacts previous attempts of conservation and the future use of these artefacts The technical methods of how the restoration and conservation were made were dealt with only very briefly Today sophisticated methods of scientific analysis such as DNA are common place and this encourages conservators and scientists to work together to work out the development of new methods for analysis and conservation of artefacts This book focuses on the chemicals used for conservation and restoration of various artefacts in artwork and archaeology as well as special applications of these materials Also the methods used both methods for cleaning conservation and restoration as well as methods for the analysis of the state of the respective artefacts Topics include oil paintings paper conservation textiles and dyes for them archaeological wood fossils stones metals and metallic coins and glasses including church windows Natural Products of Silk Road Plants Raymond Cooper, Jeffrey John Deakin, 2020-08-31

The Silk Road a complex network of trade routes linking China with the rest of the Eurasian continent by land and sea fostered transformation of the ethnic cultural and religious identities of diverse peoples In Natural Products of Silk Road Plants there is a treasury of plants many indigenous to countries along the trading routes of the Silk Road that yielded medicines cereals spices beverages dyes and euphoric and exotic compounds previously unknown to the rest of the world This entry in the Natural Products Chemistry of Global Plants series has been prepared for university students of chemistry and ethnobotany and for those wishing to broaden their knowledge It opens a window on a vast region of Asia not well described for its flora and provides new and fresh insights on Significant plants some endangered Traditional and modern applications of extracts The biochemical and pharmacological properties of extracts Contains over 150 full colour figures The significance of the Silk Road is being revived today through immense investment by China and other eastern countries in major schemes of transport infrastructure The Oxford Handbook of History and Material Culture Ivan Gaskell, Sarah Anne Carter, 2020-04-07 Most historians rely principally on written sources Yet there are other traces of the past available to historians the material things that people have chosen made and used This book examines how material culture can enhance historians understanding of the past both worldwide and across time The successful use of material culture in history depends on treating material things of many kinds not as illustrations but as primary evidence Each kind of material thing and there are many requires the application of interpretive skills appropriate to it These skills overlap with those acquired by scholars in disciplines that may abut history but are often relatively unfamiliar to historians including anthropology archaeology and art history Creative historians can adapt and apply the same skills they honed while studying more traditional text based documents even as they borrow methods from these fields They can think through familiar historical problems in new ways They can also deploy material culture to discover the pasts of constituencies who have left few or no traces in written records The authors of this volume contribute case studies arranged thematically in six sections that respectively address the relationship of history and material culture to cognition technology the symbolic social distinction and memory They range across time and space from Paleolithic to Punk
