Rubian Architecture Of The Soviet Period:

The Socialist Life of Modern Architecture Juliana Maxim,2018-12-07 The Socialist Life of Modern Architecture is the first systematic architectural history of Romania under socialism written in English It examines the mechanisms through which modern architecture was invested with political meaning and in reverse how specific architectural solutions came to define the socialist experience Each of the book s three parts traces the historical development of one key aspect of Romania s architectural culture between the years 1949 1964 the planning and construction of housing districts in Bucharest the role of typification of design and standardization of construction in a project of cultural transformation the production and management of a folk architectural tradition Going beyond buildings and architects to consider the use of photography painting and novels as well as narrations of history and the formation of an ethnographic architectural heritage the author explores how buildings came to participate in the cultural imagination of socialism and became in fact a privileged medium of socialism Part of the growing interest in the significance of Soviet Bloc architecture this is an important contribution to the fields of architectural history cultural history and visual culture

Architecture and Revolution Neil Leach,2003-09-02 Architecture and Revolution explores the consequences of the 1989 revolutions in Central and Eastern Europe from an architectural perspective It presents new writings from a team of renowned architects philosophers and cultural theorists from both the East and the West They explore the questions over the built environment that now face architects planners and politicians in the region They examine the problems of buildings inherited from the communist era some are environmentally inadequate many were designed to serve a now redundant social programme and others carry the stigma of association with previous regimes Contributors include Daniel Libeskind Bernard Tschumi Laura Mulvey Helene Cixous Andrew Benjamin and Frederic Jameson

Re-Humanizing Architecture Ákos Moravánszky,Judith Hopfengärtner,2016-12-19 After the Second World War a divided Europe was much affected by a period of reconstruction This was influenced by the different political systems in the socialist East and in the capitalist West the focus was on cohesion in society and its cultural and architectural expression In parallel to the rapidly progressing industrialization of the building industry debates on the humanization of the built environment were led on both sides with great intensity The volume shows how on the back of existentialism new monumentality and socialist realism quite similar concepts and strategies were developed in order to find answers to questions relating to adequate structures for new forms of community and identity

Guide to the Literature of Art History 2 Max Marmor,Alex Ross,2005 This bibliography supplements the greatest of modern art bibliographies Etta Arntzen and Robert Rainwater s Guide to the literature of art history ALA 1980 Preface

Louis Motorist's Guide to the Soviet Union Victor E. Louis,Jennifer M. Louis,1987 The second edition of this reliable guide will be welcomed as increasing numbers of motorists plan visits to the Soviet Union All the routes given have been tested by the authors and have been newly revised and brought up to date Apart from the detailed practical information covering places of interest hotels restaurants and services there is also a wealth of description and historical information Provided with the book is a useful set of road maps covering major routes and street plans of Moscow and Leningrad

Designing for Socialist Need Katharina Pfützner, 2017-12-06 How does industrial design operate outside of capitalist consumer culture Designing for Socialist Need assembles a detailed picture of industrial design practice in the socialist German Democratic Republic GDR Drawing on much previously unexplored material from a wide variety of sources it not only maps out some of the ideological institutional and economic contexts within which GDR design functioned it also critically reconstructs the designers aims and perspectives in order to argue that they shared a profoundly socially responsible approach to design By focusing on their ideas and approaches this volume attends to the previously unacknowledged intellectual and practical richness of GDR design culture and demonstrates that it can provide pertinent insights not only for scholars of GDR history or German design but also for contemporary design practitioners theorists and educators with an interest in sustainability in design

Jews in Soviet Culture Jack Miller, Jews in Soviet Culture is the first authoritative book on Jewish contributions to Soviet culture covering the fields of literature painting sculpture music philosophy and Oriental studies Unlike other works on Jews in the Soviet Union that deal mainly with political history especially with discrimination and repression this book focusses on the creative role of Jews in various aspects of Soviet culture and civilization This is a substantial contribution to modern Jewish studies Soviet studies and European cultural history The contributors several of whom have recently emigrated to the West are experts from a variety of cultural fields The volume is a painful but useful reminder that the cultural life of a people and a nation continues sometimes in harmony other times at odds but it continues

Amnesiopolis Eli Rubin, 2016 Amnesiopolis explores the construction of Marzahn the largest prefabricated housing project in East Germany built on the outskirts of East Berlin in the 1970s and 1980s and touted by the regime as the future of socialism It focuses particularly on the experience of East Germans who moved often from crumbling slums left over as a legacy of the nineteenth century into this radically new place one defined by pure functionality and rationality a material manifestation of the utopian promise of socialism Eli Rubin employs methodologies from critical geography urban history architectural history environmental history and everyday life history to ask whether their experience was a radical break with their personal pasts and the German past Amnesiopolis asks can a dramatic change in spatial and material surroundings sever the links of memory that tie people to their old life narratives and if so does that help build a new socialist mentality in the minds of historical subjects The answer is yes and no as much as the East German state tried to create a completely new socialist settlement divorced of any links to the pre socialist past the massive construction project uncovered the truth buried literally in the ground which was that the urge to colonize the outskirts of Berlin was not new at all Furthermore the construction of a new city out of nothing using repeating identical buildings created a panopticon like effect giving the Stasi the possibility of more complete surveillance than they previously had

The Jerusalem Rubin Academy of Music and Dance in Its 50th Year Michal Smoira-Cohn,1998 The World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre Don Rubin,2001 This new in paperback edition of World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre covers the Americas from Canada to Argentina including the United States Volume 5 covers Asia Pacific Entries are preceded by specialist introductions on Theatre in Post Colonial Latin America Theatres of North America Puppet Theatre Theatre for Young Audiences Music Theatre and Dance Theatre The essays follow the series format allowing for cross referring across subjects both within the volume and between volumes Each country entry is written by specialists in the particular country and the volume has its own teams of regional editors overseen by the main editorial team based at the University of York in Canada headed by Don Rubin

Russia's Muslim Heartlands Dominic Rubin,2018-05-15 Moscow has the largest Muslim population of any city in Europe In 2015 some 2 million Muslim Muscovites celebrated the opening of the continent's biggest mosque One quarter of the Soviet population was ethnically Muslim and today their grandchildren living in the lands between Bukhara Kazan and the Caucasus once again have access to their historical traditions But they also suffer the effects of civil war mass migration and political instability At the highest levels Islam has been swept up into Russia's broader search for identity as the old question of eastern versus western takes on new force Dominic Rubin has spent the last three years interviewing Muslims across Russia from Sufi shaykhs in Dagestan new Muslim artists on the Volga and professionals in Kyrgyzstan to guest workers commuting between Russia and Uzbekistan and Kremlin sponsored muftis hammering out a new Russian Muslim ideology in Moscow He discovers their family histories their faith journeys and their hopes and fears caught between roles as traditionalist allies in the new Eurasian Russia and as potential traitors in Moscow's war on terror This story of Islam adapting in a paradoxical landscape against all odds brings alive the human reality behind the headlines

Parameters ,2000 Bazaar Politics Noah Coburn,2011-09-28 Offering the first long term on the ground study since the arrival of allied forces in 2001 Noah Coburn introduces readers to daily life in Afghanistan through portraits of local residents and stories of his own experiences He reveals the ways in which the international community has misunderstood the forces driving local conflict and the insurgency misunderstandings that have ultimately contributed to the political unrest rather than resolved it From publisher's description

The Red Mirror Gulnaz Sharafutdinova,2020 What explains Putin's enduring popularity in Russia In The Red Mirror Gulnaz Sharafutdinova uses social identity theory to explain Putin's leadership The main source of Putin's political influence she finds lies in how he articulates the shared collective perspective that unites many Russian citizens Under his tenure the Kremlin's media machine has tapped into powerful group emotions of shame and humiliation derived from the Soviet transition in the 1990s and has politicized national identity to transform these emotions into pride and patriotism Culminating with the annexation of Crimea in 2014 this strategy of national identity politics is still the essence of Putin's leadership in Russia But victimhood based consolidation is also leading the country down the path of political confrontation and economic stagnation To enable a cultural social and political revival in Russia Sharafutdinova argues political elites must instead focus on more constructively conceived ideas about the country s future Integrating methods from history political science and social psychology The Red Mirror offers the clearest picture yet of how the nation s majoritarian identity politics are playing out Soviet Russia Today ,1937 The New York Times Index ,1923 Russian Architecture of the Soviet Period Andreï Vladimirovich Ikonnikov,1988-09-01 Learning to See Alan Gowans,1981 Learning to See starts on the assumption that popular commercial arts are a different kind of activity from avant garde arts today but that they represent the same kind of activity that we identify as arts historically It proceeds then to investigate how popular commercial arts carry out the social functions of historic arts And it claims that once we can thereby understand how historic arts worked in and for society art history becomes a significant new tool for objective historical research as never before Afghanistan in the Post-Cold War Era Barnett R.
