Political Science ,1998 Serials Librarianship in Transition Peter Gellatly, 2019-12-05 This book first published in 1986 contains the invaluable and enlightening perspectives of an international roster of experts on the state of the art of News Discourse in Early Modern Britain Nicholas serials librarianship and the indications for the future of the profession Brownlees, 2006 This volume contains a selection of the papers presented at the Conference on Historical News Discourse CHINED that was held in Florence Italy on 2 3 September 2004 The aim of the Conference was to provide a forum for the presentation and discussion of recent research in the field of news discourse in early modern Britain The first section of the volume focuses on news discourse in serial publications while the second part examines aspects of news language in non serial works Contributions include synchronic and diachronic analyses of reportage polemic propaganda review journalism and advertisements in a wide range of texts including newsletters pamphlets and newspapers Each section is structured chronologically so that the reader can appreciate aspects of the general historical development of news discourse The variety of topics and methodologies reflects some of the most interesting research being carried out in the field Reader's Guide to the History of Science Arne Hessenbruch, 2013-12-16 The Reader's Guide to the History of Science looks at the literature of science in some 550 entries on individuals Einstein institutions and disciplines Mathematics general themes Romantic Science and central concepts Paradigm and Fact The history of science is construed widely to include the history of medicine and technology as is reflected in the range of disciplines from which the international team of 200 contributors are English David Graddol, Dick Leith, Joan Swann, 2024-11-01 The story of English is often presented as one of drawn progress from a set of Germanic dialects to a fully fledged national and international language The emphasis in this book is on the diversity of English throughout its history and the changing social meanings of different varieties of English Future of Resource Sharing Shirley K. Baker, Mary E. Jackson, 2019-12-06 This book first published in 1995 addresses the key issue facing libraries on how to survive in an age of interdependence Increasingly individual libraries must act as if each is part of a world library Instead of being self sufficient each library from the small public library to the large research library must find ways to put materials from this world library into the hands of its patrons and must stand ready to supply materials from its own collection to others both guickly and cost effectively through interlibrary loan It explores the critical guestions for making resource sharing work with particular emphasis on interlibrary loan Cooperative collection development economic decision models consortial arrangements copyright dilemmas and the possibilities of technology are explored and a national project to revamp interlibrary loan and document delivery is described and future directions posited Authors present historical perspective explore the future and report from multiple perspectives Living Books Janneke Adema, 2021-08-31 Reimagining the scholarly book as living and collaborative not as commodified and essentialized but in all its dynamic materiality In this book Janneke Adema proposes that we reimagine the scholarly book as a living and collaborative project not as linear bound and fixed but as fluid remixed and liquid a space for experimentation She presents a series of cutting edge experiments in arts and humanities book publishing showcasing the radical new forms that book based scholarly work might take in the digital age Adema s proposed alternative futures for the scholarly book go beyond such print based assumptions as fixity stability the single author originality and copyright reaching instead for a dynamic and emergent materiality Adema suggests ways to unbind the book describing experiments in scholarly book publishing with new forms of anonymous collaborative authorship radical open access publishing and processual living and remixed publications among other practices. She doesn't cast digital as the solution and print as the problem the problem in scholarly publishing she argues is not print itself but the way print has been commodified and essentialized Adema explores alternative more ethical models of authorship constructs an alternative genealogy of openness and examines opportunities for intervention in current cultures of knowledge production Finally asking why it is that we cut and bind our research together at all she examines two book publishing projects that experiment with remix and reuse and try to rethink and reperform the book apparatus by taking responsibility for the cuts they make
