Scrap Iron Destroyers:

V & W Destroyers John Henshaw, 2020-04-30 The revolutionary battleship Dreadnought of 1906 brought together in one package the new technology of oil fired boilers and steam turbines and all big gun armament in doing so she rendered all other capital ships then afloat completely obsolete Ten years later the V they set a completely new and higher standard of technology and were a cut above anything that had come before They were however less revolutionary than evolutionary and in this new book John Henshaw takes the reader through all the developmental stages with a detailed history of the step by step lessons that were learnt not all of which were fortuitous In one package the Royal Navy finally acquired a hull that possessed not just good sea keeping capability but one that was able to carry heavier armament without any adverse effects Range and speed were commensurate with their size while the super firing guns fore and aft could be deployed in all weathers for a four gun broadside The V W design set the trend for all destroyer design for the next two decades and indeed the basic layout of destroyers stayed the same long beyond that The formula of a raised foredeck and superfiring guns fore and aft continued in the Royal Navy until the Battle Class of 1944 and in the United States Navy until the Fletcher Class of 1943 That the V Ws served on through World War II in various forms is a testament to the soundness of the basic concept their adaptability and strength The V stood for Venerable because they certainly proved that and W for Watershed because they were truly a turning point in destroyer design The narrative is superbly illustrated with forty five detailed profile and deck plans for which the author is so well known of the principal early British destroyer types and illustrates all the V Ws through to the end of World War II including some conversions that were considered but never completed The book also looks at the influence of the basic design on the destroyers of other navies This new book which will appeal both to naval historians and modelmakers brings together under one cover a narrative that is comprehensive in its scope well researched and elegantly supported with detailed line drawings and selected photographs for the period 1890 1945 Scrap Iron

Flotilla, The Mike Carlton, 2022-08-02 When the Second World War broke out in September 1939 the British asked Australia for help With some misgivings the Australian government sent five destroyers to beef up the British Royal Navy in the Mediterranean HMAS Vendetta Vampire Voyager Stuart and Waterhen were old ships small with worn out engines Their crews used to joke they were held together by string and chewing gum when the Nazi propaganda minister Joseph Goebbels heard of them he sneered that they were a load of scrap iron Yet by the middle of 1940 these destroyers were valiantly escorting troop and supply convoys successfully hunting for submarines and indefatigably bombarding enemy coasts Sometimes the weather could be their worst enemy from filthy sandstorms blowing off Africa to icy gales from Europe that whipped up mountainous seas and froze the guns Conditions on board were terrible no showers or proper washing facilities cramped and stinking sleeping quarters unpleasant meals of spam and tinned sausages often served cold in a howling squall And always the bombing the bombing And the fear of submarines When Nazi Germany invaded Greece the Allied armies including Australian Divisions reeled in retreat The Australian ships were among those who had to rescue thousands of soldiers Then came the Siege of Tobruk Australian troops holding out in that small Libyan port city The Australian destroyers ran the Tobruk Ferry bringing supplies of food medicine and ammunition into the shattered port by night and taking off wounded soldiers But the four destroyers now left were struggling suffering from constant engine breakdowns with crews beleaguered by two years of bombings wild seas and the endless fear of being sunk In late 1941 the ships were finally sent home staggering back to Australia proudly calling themselves the Scrap Iron Flotilla in defiance of the Goebbels sneer That flotilla is now an immortal part of Australian naval legend and this is its story The Silent Watchers Bennet

England's Navy During the Great War Bennet Copplestone,2020-09-28 My boyhood was spent in Devon the land of Drake and the home of the Elizabethan Navy A deep passion for the Sea Service is in my blood though owing to family circumstances I was not able to indulge my earliest ambition to become myself one of the band of brothers who serve under the White Ensign My elder brother lived and died afloat Two of my sons happier than their father are privileged to play their parts in the great ships of the Fleets So that though not in the Service I am of it by ties of blood and by ties of the earliest association Whenever I have sought to penetrate its mysteries and to interpret them to my fellow countrymen my motive has never been that of mere idle curiosity The Royal Navy wields and has always wielded a great material force but the secret of its strength lies not in the machines with which it has equipped itself in the various stages of its development Vast and terrible as are the ships and the guns they would be of little worth if their design and skilful employment were not inspired by that spiritual force compounded of tradition training devotion and discipline which I call the Soul of the Navy In the design of its weapons in its mastery of their use above all in its consummate seamanship the Royal Navy has in all ages surpassed its opponents but it has done these things not through some fortuitous gift of the Sea Gods but because of the never failing development of its own spirit It has always been at a great price in the sacrifice of ease and in the outpouring of the lives of men that the Navy has won for itself and for us the freedom of the seas Those who reckon navies in ships and guns in weight of metal and in broadside fire while leaving out of account the spirit and training and devotion of the men can never understand the Soul of the Navy For all these material things are the expression of the Soul they are not the Soul itself The Navy is still the old English Navy of the southern maritime counties of England It has become the Navy of Great Britain the Navy of the British Empire but in spirit and to a large extent in hereditary personnel it remains the English Navy of the Narrow Seas Many counties play a great part in its equipment but to me it is always the Navy of my own land of Devon officers and men are the lineal successors of those bold West Country seamen who in their frail barks ranged the wide seas hundreds of years ago and first taught to us and to the world the meaning of the expression sea communications The

Great War Herbert Wrigley Wilson,Sir John Alexander Hammerton,1916 Away Seaboat Capt. C W Malins RN,2016-01-08

Charles Wickham Malins was destined for a life at sea from an early age joining the Britannia Royal Naval College at Dartmouth in 1927 at the age of thirteen he was already a Commissioned Officer of His Majesty's Royal Navy before the outbreak of War in 1939 He was what the Navy calls a 'e Salthorsee' officer he did not specialise but went on to become a hugely experienced sea officer and then commander of small ships rising from minesweepers to destroyers It was in destroyers that he took part in some of the key actions involving these dynamic much admired ships In between taking part in the famous 'e Pedestale' convoy that saved Malta in 1942 'e Tickye' as he was always known Malins participated in the sinking of numerous enemy submarines and the Arctic convoys to supply Soviet Russia winning a DSO a DSC and bars in the process His story written in early retirement modestly recounts the life of an outstanding Naval Officer from an era when the Royal Navy symbolised all that was best and greatest about Great Britain The transition from the pre War peacetime cruise of HMS Enterprise to the sudden and often violent demands of dramatic sea service which he experienced throughout almost the full length of the War need to be read to be believed The quiet matter of fact narrative of his memoir provides both an intimate and affectionate insight to the 'e Old Navy' and its people The book is copiously illustrated with the author's own photos

Four Brothers in the Pacific War Chris Pratt, 2022-02-21 Dave Ray Morris and Alex Rohrlach were Australian Lutherans of German descent who served in the Australian Army and Navy in the Pacific during World War Two In a fascinating biography of the brothers Chris Pratt chronicles the events of their lives before during and in the aftermath of war Dave a Lutheran missionary in New Guinea captained his mission schooner to rescue defeated Australian soldiers from New Britain in the opening months of the war Ray served in a motorised infantry unit before enduring a year in an isolated malarial outpost in Dutch New Guinea Morris struggled through two amphibious landings in Japanese occupied Borneo Alex survived kamikaze attacks and a battle with a Japanese fleet in the Philippines to witness from an Australian heavy cruiser the signing of the Japanese surrender in Tokyo Bay Included are historical maps and photographs provided by the family
