

"A DAY AND NIGHTS OF MARY'S LITTLE LIFE."

(From "The Story of Mary's Little Life," by George Washington, page 21.)

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

VOL. I.

NOVEMBER, 1876.

No. 1.

JEREMY TRAIN—HIS DRIVE.

It was Jeremy Train who sat down to his tea
In his holiday clothes, looking pale as could be.
The crease on his neck had a quivering line,
And his hands were as bright and as black as his eye,
And his whiskers and hair, which were turning to grey,
Had been colored and curled at the barber's that day;
And regarding a hole laid open on his head,
And a nerve in the back, any one would have said
That the hearty old driver had seen less of life,
By a decade of years, than his sad little wife.

Mrs. Barbara Train sat and stared like his host
As pale as a princess, but pale as a ghost.
There was fire in her eyes which her tears could not quell,
And a pain in her heart which her tongue might not tell;
For she loved the old driver too well, and she knew
She had caused to be charming and to be true.

Excerpt from Scribner s Monthly Vol 3 November 1871 The next morning I rose at early dawn saddled and mounted my horse and took my course in the supposed direction of the camp Our ride of the previous day had been up a peninsula jutting into the lake for the shore of which I started with the expectation of finding my friends camped on the beach The forest was quite dark and the trees so thick that it was only by a slow process I could get through them at all In searching for the trail I became somewhat confused The fall ing foliage of the pines had obliterated every trace of travel I was obliged frequently to dismount and examine the ground for the faintest indications Coming to an opening from which I could see several vistas I dis mounted for the purpose of selecting one leading in the direction I had chosen and leaving my horse unhitched as had always been my custom walked a few rods into the forest While surveying the ground my horse took fright and I turned around in time to see him disappearing at full speed among the trees That was the last I ever saw of him It was yet quite dark My blankets gun pistols fishing tackle matches everything except the clothing on my person a couple of knives and a small opera glass were attached to the saddle About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
