Regional Development: Theory and Practice Baleshwar Thakur, H.S. Sharma, Suresh Misra, S. Chattopadhyay, Surendra Singh, 2017-01-01 The Five Volume Series on Regional Development Theory and Practice is a festschrift dedicated to Professor R P Misra a distinguished scholar widely recognized as one of the pioneers who initiated and promoted Regional Planning studies in India This five volume series with over one hundred research papers on different aspects of regional development is a fitting tribute to the scholar who spent much of his life time thinking researching and writing about development in general and regional development in particular These five volumes each dealing with a specific aspect of regional development Vol 1 Concept of Regional Development Vol 2 Measuring Development Vol 3 Development Patterns and Structures Vol 4 Development Policies and Vol 5 Development Challenges Each of the five volumes begins with an introduction which is unique in the sense that this is not merely an introduction to the contributions contained in the volume but also talks of the theory of regional development contemporary development in the discipline and the contrarian views expressed by various academics and policy makers Another significant aspect of these introductions is the global view and a comparative scenario of the developed developing and under developed economies of the world that the editors have kept in view in a debate seeking an universal theory of regional development Regions are specifics and often unique and regional development implies focusing on the assets of the territory its potential and constraints

Rural Infrastructure, the Settlement System, and Development of the Regional Economy in Southern India Sudhir Wanmali, 1992 Heoretical framework central place theory Regional provision and use of services Household patterns of service use Changing patterns of service provision and use at the regional and household levels Conclusions and policy implications

Data Needs for Food Policy in Developing Countries Joachim Von Braun, Detlev Puetz, 1993-01-01 This volume is an effort to enhance both directly and indirectly the benefits of information for poverty alleviation through more informed food policy This volume resulted from a multidisciplinary workshop held at the International Food Policy Research Institute in September 1992 It is divided into three parts food policy issues and new challenges for data strengths and weaknesses of different survey approaches for food policy design and data quality and design of survey modules Villages in the Future Detlef Virchow, Joachim von Braun, 2012-02-02 Life in rural communities is bound to change with historically unprecedented speed in the coming decades How will this change be guided by local national and global policies in order to enhance the livelihoods of rural inhabitants and to overcome the growing division of rural and urban areas The contributions in this publication ranging from scientific papers to short reports from practitioners are grouped around 4 major themes political and institutional frameworks to foster rural development natural resources management broadening the technological base of rural economies and improved linkages between urban and rural areas The overall message is unanimous there is a promising future for the rural areas worldwide if adequate policies can be enforced and more efficient and fair institutions can be created The Economics of Agro-Chemicals G.A.A. Wossink, G.C. van Kooten, G.H. Peters, 2018-12-20 Published in 1998 This book provides a global overview of agrochemical use against the backdrop of future agricultural production requirements and environmental concerns From acknowledged experts in their field this book examines the relationship between agro chemical use and sustainability producer knowledge and policy analysis for less developed and industrialized economies Africa's Emerging Maize Revolution Derek Byerlee, Carl K. Eicher, 1997 Intended for policymakers and scholars the 15 contributions in this volume are divided into two sections the first provides six country case studies of the evolving maize economies of Zimbabwe Zambia Malawi Kenya Ghana and Nigeria The second part synthesizes major technological institutional and policy issues with chapters on research and extension soil fertility seed and fertilizer delivery systems and marketing and price policy Paper edition 754 0 29 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Agricultural Growth Linkages in Sub-Saharan Africa Christopher L. Delgado, 1998-01-01 How much extra net income growth can be had in rural areas of Africa by increasing the spending power of local households The answer depends on how rural households spend increments to income whether the items desired can be imported to the local area in response to increased demand and if not whether increased demand will lead to new local production or simply to price rises For every dollar in new farm income earned at least one additional tional dollar could be realized from growth multipliers according to Agricultural Growth Linkages in Sub Saharan Africa Research Report 107 by Christopher L Delgado Jane Hopkins and Valerie A Kelly with Peter Hazell Anna A McKenna Peter Gruhn Behjat Hojjati Jayashree Sil and Claude Courbois Research Report , 1997 Except-Africa Emery Roe, 2018-01-18 It is a commonplace that the problems of African rural development are becoming increasingly complex that is they have grown more numerous interrelated and varied This complexity has generated a multitude of development scenarios Such scenarios encourage decision making along rigid and narrow patterns that ignore the diversity of local situations and national cultures Among these is the doomsday scenario applied to every nation on the continent best captured in the phrase Everything works except in Africa Emery Roe argues that crisis scenarios generated by an expert usually non African elite are self serving and counterproductive Despite this they go largely unchallenged even when they fail to explain or predict Except Africa takes up the challenge of devising development scenarios that do justice to the continent's variegated reality The book begins by defining what the author means by a development narrative The subsequent chapters provide alternate scenarios to such dominant models Chapter 2 sketches four counter narratives to the tragedy of the common argument while chapter 3 constructs the most innovative challenge to conventional ways of thinking about Sub Saharan pastoralism in decades Chapter 4 develops an alternative scenario of expatriate advising in Africa while chapter 5 devises a counter narrative to the all too common views about government budgeting in Nigeria Kenya and Ghana Chapter 6 presents a case study and counter narrative from Zimbabwe of a complex local government reform The book concludes by moving beyond case material and specific situations to answer the most imperative question in African studies and rural development What would a politics of complexity look like in Africa if complexity were seriously engaged Contemporary African studies are dominated by narratives about power Yet in African rural development power interests are by no means always clear Development issues are frequently contingent and provisional Surviving the tangled fusion of narrative and reality requires a politics of complexity Except Africa will be an essential work in meeting that challenge
