Urban Policing in Canada Maurice A. Martin, 1995 In Urban Policing in Canada Maurice Martin identifies a variety of factors that exert enormous influence on contemporary police practice including traditional organization and personnel practices management by government public attitudes and the changing urban landscape In doing so he makes a compelling case for the professionalization of Canada's urban police

Misguided Missiles Simon Rosenblum, 1985-01-01 First published in 1985 Misguided Missiles examines the intense controversies surrounding Canadian participation in the development of new weapons systems during the Reagan years Simon Rosenblum demonstrated how these weapons systems were dubious even on their own terms technically economically and strategically Deploying a tremendous depth of research the author shows how Pentagon and defence industry machinations rather than security needs explain the contemporary rise of the cruise missile and Star Wars initiatives Misguided Missiles offers a vital and immediate appreciation of one of the most contentious debates in Canadian national life in the early 1980s

Border Policing Holly M. Karibo, George T. Díaz, 2020-04-21 An interdisciplinary group of borderlands scholars provide the first expansive comparative history of the way North American borders have been policed and transgressed over the past two centuries An extensive history examining how North American nations have tried and often failed to police their borders Border Policing presents diverse scholarly perspectives on attempts to regulate people and goods at borders as well as on the ways that individuals and communities have navigated contested and evaded such regulation The contributors explore these power dynamics through a series of case studies on subjects ranging from competing allegiances at the northeastern border during the War of 1812 to struggles over Indian sovereignty and from the effects of the Mexican Revolution to the experiences of smugglers along the Rio Grande during Prohibition Later chapters stretch into the twenty first century and consider immigration enforcement drug trafficking and representations of border policing in reality television Together the contributors explore the powerful ways in which federal authorities impose political agendas on borderlands and how local border residents and regions interact with and push back against such agendas With its rich mix of political legal social and cultural history this collection provides new insights into the distinct realities that have shaped the international borders of North America Manitoba Law Journal Volume 46 Issue 6: Criminal Law Edition (Robson Crim) Richard Jochelson, Brandon Trask, Rebecca Jaremko Bromwich, James Gacek, 2024-06-20 The Manitoba Law Journal MLJ is a peer reviewed journal founded in 1961 The MLJ's current mission is to provide lively independent and high caliber commentary on legal events in Manitoba or events of special interest to our community The MLJ aims to bring diverse and multidisciplinary perspectives to the issues it studies drawing on authors from Manitoba Canada and beyond Its studies are intended to contribute to understanding and reform not only in our community but around the world Robson Crim is housed in Robson Hall one of Canada's oldest law schools Robson Crim has transformed into a Canada wide research hub in criminal law with blog contributions from coast to coast and from outside of this nation's borders With over 30 academic peer collaborators at Canada's top law schools Robson Crim is bringing leading criminal law research and writing to the reader We also annually publish a special edition criminal law volume of the Manitoba Law Journal providing a chance for authors to enter the peer reviewed fray Handbook of Policing Tim Newburn, 2012-08-21 This new edition of the Handbook of Policing updates and expands the highly successful first edition and now includes a completely new chapter on policing and forensics It provides a comprehensive but highly readable overview of policing in the UK and is an essential reference point combining the expertise of leading academic experts on policing and policing practitioners themselves Journal of Canadian Studies, 1985 Essays in the History of Canadian Law Osgoode Society, 1995-01-01 These essays look at key social economic and political issues of the times and show how they influenced the developing legal system Essays in the History of Canadian Law G. Blaine Baker, Donald Fyson, 1981-01-01 The essays in this volume deal with the legal history of the Province of Quebec Upper and Lower Canada and the Province of Canada between the British conquest of 1759 and confederation of the British North America colonies in 1867 The backbone of the modern Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec this geographic area was unified politically for more than half of the period under consideration As such four of the papers are set in the geographic cradle of modern Quebec four treat nineteenth century Ontario and the remaining four deal with the St Lawrence and Great Lakes watershed as a whole The authors come from disciplines as diverse as history socio legal studies women's studies and law The majority make substantial use of second language sources in their essays which shade into intellectual history social and family history regulatory history and political history Essays in the History of Canadian Law George Blaine Baker, Donald Fyson, 2013-12-06 The essays in this volume deal with the legal history of the Province of Quebec Upper and Lower Canada and the Province of Canada between the British conquest of 1759 and confederation of the British North America colonies in 1867 The backbone of the modern Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec this geographic area was unified politically for more than half of the period under consideration As such four of the papers are set in the geographic cradle of modern Quebec four treat nineteenth century Ontario and the remaining four deal with the St Lawrence and Great Lakes watershed as a whole The authors come from disciplines as diverse as history socio legal studies women s studies and law The majority make substantial use of second language sources in their essays which shade into intellectual history social and family history regulatory history and political history An Introduction to Comparative Legal Models of Criminal Justice Cliff Roberson, Dilip K. Das, 2008-06-11 While in Plato s time there may have been some truth to his belief that there can only be one single justice and one single law such is not the case today Criminal justice systems vary widely across the world in their approaches to the problem of crime Bringing together the collective wisdom of Cliff Roberson and Dilip K Das two world

Advancing Proactive Policing Jon Shane, 2025-04-15 This brief documents a demonstration project undertaken in Ocean View Delaware on a novel scalable tool for police agencies seeking to optimize their patrol operations while providing transparency and accountability in resource management It describes and explains the broader set of circumstances conditions and factors that surrounded and influenced the Ocean View Police Department s goal to expand the agency toward proactive policing This work encompasses the social economic political and technical aspects that affected the design implementation and outcome The central research question was If the Ocean View Police Department increases proactive time from 67% to 75% then how many officers do we need and what are the projected costs The study offers a roadmap for agencies looking to expand their proactive policing efforts and understand the cost drivers associated with the patrol function The book details the demands that police agencies face and the complexities of their work The chapters that follow acknowledge the managerial and fiscal difficulties related to staffing and funding the police while simultaneously offering suggestions for increased community collaboration The universal model presented here can be used by all police executives elected and appointed city officials academics finance and directors analysts At the end of the line Georgina Sinclair, 2017-03-01 Colonial policing and the imperial endgame is the first comprehensive study of the colonial police and their complex role within Britain s long and turbulent process of decolonisation a time characterised by political upheaval and colonial conflict The Colonial Police Service was created in 1936 in order to standardise all imperial police forces and mould colonial policing to the British model From the British Caribbean to the Middle East the Mediterranean to British Colonial Africa and on to Southeast Asia colonial police forces struggled with the unrest and conflict that stemmed from

Britain's withdrawal from its empire As the shadow of decolonisation grew ever longer so colonial police forces reverted back to their traditional role as a colony's first line of defence At the same time as tensions increased throughout the empire so too did the power of the police through the development of police intelligence systems and counter insurgency units Colonial policing and the imperial endgame controversially asserts that it was coercion rather than consent which was more commonly associated with the work of police forces during this period of political dislocation Georgina Sinclair's focussed study of colonial policing during this period facilitates a greater understanding of the processes of decolonisation

Canadian Book Review Annual ,1996 The Vigilant Eye Greg Marquis,2017-01-19T00:00:00Z In The Vigilant Eye Greg Marquis combines the narrative and chronological approach of traditional institutional history with the critical approaches of social history legal history and criminology The book begins with the English and Irish roots of nineteenth century British North American policing and traces the development of the three models of law enforcement that would shape the future the local rural constable the municipal police department and the paramilitary territorial constabulary Marquis examines the development of provincial police services whose expansion coincided with the rise of mass automobile ownership and controversies over alcohol prohibition and control and their eventual absorption into the RCMP In terms of political policing the vigilant eye has monitored harassed and disrupted various social and political movements ranging from Fenians to communists to Quebec separatists and environmentalists Marquis argues that the style of community policing in vogue during the 1970s and 1980s lacked confidence and had a limited impact Canada's simplistic crime fighting model undermines genuine reform including curbs on the use of deadly force on citizens and justifies the increased militarization of policing Marquis argues that it is time for citizens to turn their vigilant eye towards police and policing in their own communities
